Soviets Upset A-Ban Talks

Move To Veto Geneva Meet, Dulles Says

Secretary Expects Nuclear Technical Parley To Proceed

WASHINGTON (AP) — With President Eisenhower's backing, Secretary of State Dulles Wednesday night accused Russia of suddenly attempting to veto nuclear talks set to open in Geneva Tuesday.

Dulles hurled this accusation after discussing with Eisenhower for 30 minutes Russia's surprise threat to pull out of the Switzerland meeting. Eisenhower cut short a golf game to meet with Dulles.

Dulles said he was pessimistic over prospects the technical talks would go forward. They would be designed to chart moves to police any ban on atomic-hydrogen tests.

U.S. "Not Accepting Defeat"

Dulles added, however, that he refused to accept Russia's attitude spelled out in a new Soviet note, as final.

"We are not going to accept defeat for our hopes," he said.

Dulles said Moscow appeared to be trying to get this country to commit itself in advance of the Geneva talks to agree to an immediate ban on all nuclear tests. The United States has insisted it will not commit itself in advance, saying merely that a technical agreement might lead to agreement on such a ban.

Dulles said he was deeply disappointed by Russia's note. He said he is pessimistic now over prospects that the Kremlin would allow a Soviet delegation to attend the Geneva parley. But, he added: "I'm not prepared today to accept as final the view that it—the Soviet attitude—is a complete flip-flop. We want to give them a last chance.

Five Delegates On Way

"As far as we are concerned, we expect the conference to proceed, and our experts will continue on their way."

Five of the lower-ranking U.S. delegates to the meeting are already on their way to Switzerland by plane. The remainder of the approximately 20 - member group is due to leave Thursday and Friday.

Dulles had sped to the White House within two hours after Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko handed the new note to Llewellyn Thompson, U.S. ambassador in Moscow.

Two Die In Jet Bomber Crash

NEWPORT NEWS, Va. (AP)—A jet bomber whistling in for a landing at its home Langley Air Force Base crashed and exploded Wednesday in a patch of woods only a quarter of a mile from a residential area. Both occupants were killed.

The B57 twin jet was only a minute or so from a landing after a local training flight when it plummeted to earth and exploded in a ball of fire. Wreckage and the broken bodies of the fliers were scattered for several hundred yards.

A piece of the wreckage came to rest at the kitchen door of the one small home in the immediate area. James Armistead said he was sitting on the porch, heard an explosion and saw the fiery wreckage arch out of the woods and land in a ravine across the road from his yard.

The crash site was a mile southeast of the big Bethel reservoir which is the water supply for the city of Hampton. The general area is dotted with residential concentrations but the plane fell in open low country near a gun club, a quarter mile from any populous area.

Air Safety Step

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Commerce Committee has approved a bill to create a new federal aviation agency to regulate all air traffic, both civil and military.

Lebanon Asks U.N. Police Force

Wife Comforts Tanker Skipper

McElroy Meets Russell Terms In Defense Row

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense McElroy put in writing Wednesday an assurance that top Pentagon military and civilian leaders are free to testify before Congress without fear of reprisals.

The assurance, demanded by Chairman Richard B. Russell (D-Ga), of the Senate Armed Services Committee, apparently ended a feud between the two on that question.

After McElroy's letter had been delivered to Russell, the senator promptly announced that he expected to call for testimony next week from Gens. Maxwell D. Taylor, Army chief of staff, and Gen. Randolph McC. Pate, Marine Corps commandant, on the Defense Reorganization Bill.

Russell had curtly postponed testimony scheduled Tuesday by Taylor and Pate after McElroy had expressed disappointment about testimony before the committee by Adm. Arleigh Burke, chief of naval operations.

McElroy denied shortly afterward that he had rebuked Burke for opposing administration reorganization plans. But Russell disagreed and said top Pentagon officers would not be called until he had unqualified assurance from the secretary that they could testify without fear of reprisal.

Russell said McElroy could either testify in person or send written assurance. The secretary did so in a personal letter to Russell which the Senate and the Pentagon made public simultaneously.

In his letter, McElroy said he was restating his position that Defense Department officials "should give their personal judgments and opinions when asked for them" by congressional committee. He added:

"There should not, in my opinion, be any question of retaliation or penalty for such testimony," the secretary said.

South Viet Nam Troops Occupy Cambodia Towns

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) Cambodian royal proclamation reported Wednesday troops from neighboring South Viet Nam have invaded and occupied several Cambodian border villages.

This kingdom and the South Viet Nam Republic are independent countries that formerly were parts of French Indochina. Long-standing feuds have been fought over their borders.

King Suramarit urged the United States to intervene as a friend of both nations and to ask South Viet Nam to "stop permanently these unjust annexionist maneuvers."

Cambodian Prime Minister Sim Var, whose government was overthrown Sunday on economic questions, made a nationwide broadcast calling for calm.

Foreign Minister Truong Cang summoned representatives of all foreign missions in the capital to hear the royal proclamation.

Langer Wins Renomination

FARGO, N.D. (AP)—Sen. William Langer, the gravel - voiced maverick from North Dakota, won Republican nomination to a fourth term Tuesday with only a casual campaign against the state Republican machine that had refused to endorse him.

He anticipated little trouble in the general election from Raymond G. Vendsel, a dirt farmer who won the Democratic nomination.

"Of course I intend to win next fall," Langer said.

Langer handily beat Lt. Gov. Clyde Duffy, who had GOP enrosement, by a margin that may exceed 2-1.

Calvert's Yacht Located, Taken In Tow By Jap Ship

TOKYO (AP) — The missing yacht of Hollywood actor-magician John Calvert was found by the Japanese coast guard at 10 a.m. Thursday 23 miles east of Cheju Island off the South Korea coast.

A coast guard spokesman said it will be towed into Fukuoka on the southern Japanese island of Kyushu.

The yacht Thespian left Keelung, Formosa, June 16 with Calvert and four other Americans aboard. It was en route to Japan, where Calvert was to entertain American troops.

His agent, John C. Lipham of Honolulu, said the yacht was overdue when it didn't arrive at Fukuoka last weekend.

He expressed fear it might have been captured by Chinese Communists. Japanese maritime authorities said they didn't think it should arrive until this Friday.

The coast guard said it had no details and did not know why the yacht was to be towed. The 261-ton patrol boat Isuzu will bring it in, arriving in Fukuoka some time Thursday the spokesman said.

With Calvert aboard the yacht were his mother-in-law, Mrs. Constance Conrad Lowe, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Iverson of Hollywood, and U.S. Army specialist Thomas E. Jones of Black River Falls, Wis.

Sources in Formosa had predicted the yacht would reappear and played down expressions of concern from Lipham.

Heavy Rifle, Mortar Fire Rocks Beirut

General Assembly May Be Called Into Emergency Session

BEIRUT (AP)—Lebanon asked the United Nations Wednesday to seal off this country's land and sea frontier with armed force and stop the pumping of Syrian and Egyptian war supplies to Lebanese rebels.

Premier Sami Solh handed to Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold the request for a U.N. police force similar to that keeping the peace on the Israel-Egyptian border at Gaza.

A special session of the U.N. General Assembly may be called to deal with the request.

Only a few hours after the requests, dynamite blasts and heavy mortar, machine gun and rifle fire shattered Beirut's unofficial truce in three sections of the capital.

Rebels Open Fire

Rebels from behind their barricades on the outskirts of the Basta Moslem section opened fire down the long avenue leading to the city's main square, quickly chasing away all traffic and pedestrians.

Other firing and dynamite blasts came from the Christian quarter of Ashrafiah, and from near the post office.

President Camille Chamoun, whom the rebels seek to overthrow in favor of a regime favorable to President Nasser of the United Arab Republic—Syria and Egypt—has predicted a concerted rebel attack no later than Thursday.

Although the shooting appeared to die down, there were ominous indications of a showdown soon.

Ultimatum Reported

The rebel leader in Beirut, Saeb Salam, said his forces will resist any increase in U.N. forces in Lebanon, even if only to 500 unarmed observers. It now numbers less than 100 men.

Reports from Tripoli said the rebel chieftain, Rashid Karami, had issued an ultimatum for the surrender of the American Presbyterian Hospital. No Americans are there.

Kamal Jublatt, powerful leader of Druse tribesmen, said at his headquarters 16 miles southeast of Beirut, that he would not permit U.N. observers access to the Syrian border in his territory.

These were the areas where Chamoun told a news conference 10,000 to 12,000 rebels, a fourth of them Syrians and Egyptians, have concentrated.

Russians Stage Demonstration At U.S. Embassy

MOSCOW (AP) — More than 1,000 screaming, banner-waving Russians staged a rowdy "Yankee go home" demonstration outside the U.S. Embassy Wednesday.

Some shouted the Soviet equivalent of "dirty S.O.B."

Previous demonstrations heavily damaged the West German and Danish embassies, but the U.S. Embassy emerged unscathed. The only stone thrown went through an open window.

The crowd surged against 150 Soviet policemen forming a solid line on the sidewalk in front of the embassy. It made no serious effort to break through.

Some of the slogans, in English and Russian, read:

"Yankee go home."

"Hands off Lebanon."

"Down with war."

"Long live the Hungarian Socialist party with Kadar at its head."

The well-organized, well-controlled demonstration was in retaliation for Sunday's demonstration against the Soviet U.N. headquarters in New York. A group of Hungarians there were protesting the executions of Imre Nagy and other Hungarian leaders.

Last week's demonstrations at the Danish and German embassies came quickly after publication in Moscow of news about anti-Soviet demonstrations in Copenhagen and Bonn.

The Soviet press Wednesday reported the New York rioting. So the U.S. Embassy was prepared. Windows were boarded, the first floor cleared and all Russian employes were given the day off.

Demonstrators marched up to the 10-story building in columns. They flaunted their banners, shouted and shook their fists.

Some of the Americans looked out upstairs windows. The crowd whistled. Some shouted catcalls. Others took out mirrors and flashed the sunlight into the Americans' faces.

Two hours and 15 minutes after the demonstrators marched up, Soviet police cars arrived and orders to disperse blared from their loudspeakers.

Eisenhower Signs Federal Pension Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower Wednesday signed a bill granting larger pensions to 232,000 retired federal employes.

The increases, effective Aug. 1, generally amount to 10 per cent but no individual increase can be greater than $594 a year. The Civil Service Commission said the increases will be included in checks due in September.

The new law affects persons on the civil service retirement list who started drawing their pension annuities prior to Oct. 1, 1956.

It also opens the retirement rolls to an estimated 12,000 widows previously ruled ineligble.

Tempers Flare At House Probe

KEEPS TALKING — J. Sinclair Armstrong, former chairman of the Securities and Exchange commission, speaks from the witness stand of the House Subcommittee on Legislative Oversight. When Chairman Oran Harris (D-Ark) of the subcommittee asked Armstrong to step aside after a few minutes of testimony yesterday, Armstrong kept right on talking. He finally vacated the chair. Later in the session, he was recalled to the stand to resume testimony in the Goldfine-Adams investigation. (AP Photofax)

Ex-SEC Head Clashes With Investigators

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House inquiry into alleged influence peddling got back into high gear Wednesday at a gavel-banging session in which a former chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission accused the investigators of trying to muzzle him.

In turn, members of the House subcommittee on legislative oversight charged the witness — J. Sinclair Armstrong, now an assistant secretary of the Navy—of evasion, filibustering and impertinence.

It was the committee's stormiest session since some meetings that led up to the firing of the group's one-time chief counsel, Bernard Schwartz, who steered the inquiry into its present direction.

Wednesday's hearing bore mainly on whether President Eisenhower's chief assistant, Sherman Adams, did more than he should have for his old Boston friend and benefactor Bernard Goldfine.

Witness Not Intimidated

Adams and Goldfine all but got lost in the shuffle, however, in high-pitched exchanges between Armstrong and committee members. Chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark) at one point whammed his gavel down and dismissed Armstrong from the witness chair.

At a later point Armstrong, who has had trouble with Congress before in the Dixon-Yates utility case, shouted at the committee: "You're trying to muzzle me."

He was, indeed, called by gavel and otherwise to answer questions more briefly and directly.

But the boyish-looking Chicago lawyer was not intimidated.

He said at the outset he was outraged that anyone should think SEC could be influenced from the outside.

Armstrong Denies Charge

There has been previous testimony that SEC withheld prosecution of a Goldfine firm for some six years after it refused to file required reports. Armstrong contended the agency acted promptly and vigorously once it was decided court action was necessary.

He said, too, with considerable sharpness, that the case could have been handled far more promptly if Congress had voted the money for needed manpower.

Adams has testified he once had White House counsel Gerald D. Morgan ask SEC about the status of a case it had pending against Goldfine's East Boston Co.

Adams and a number of SEC officials have denied that Goldfine got favored treatment as a result of Adams' interest in the case.

UAW "Rebels" Agree To End Missile Strike

DETROIT (AP)—A rebel group of United Auto Workers have agreed to end a wildcat strike at Chrysler's missile plant near Detroit.

Officers of Local 1245 yielded late Wednesday to an ultimatum from UAW President Walter P. Reuther that they call off the strike or face suspension.

At the same time, Chrysler Corp. obtained a court order against the local to halt mass picketing at the plant which assembles Redstone and Jupiter rockets for the Army.

The three-day strike, with incidents of picket line violence, crippled production at the government-owned plant. Chrysler said it plans to resume normal operations Thursday.

Reuther called officers of the local on the carpet Wednesday afternoon before the union's 25-member International Executive Board. The board voted to place an administrator over the local if it persists in the strike.

Officers of the local promised to get the strikers back on the job Thursday morning.

The unauthorized strike has embarrassed the UAW leadership in its efforts to keep some 500,000 workers on the job at Chrysler, General Motors and Ford plants. They have been working without contracts since June 1 while the union has been attempting to negotiate new wage agreements.

Milan (Mike) Matich, president of Local 1245, said he believed members of the local would give up the strike and return to work. He said the international union had arranged a meeting for Thursday with Chrysler management to discuss grievances.

Plane Crashes Into Carrier

SAN DIEGO, Calif., (AP)—Four crewmen aboard the aircraft carrier Bon Homme Richard were seriously burned Tuesday when a jet fighter crashed on the flight deck, killing the pilot, the Navy reported Wednesday.

Pacific Fleet Air Force headquarters here identified the pilot as Lt. Cmdr. Richard M. Hopfinger of Air Development Squadron 5, China Lake, Calif. His widow, Beulah Jeanne, and three children live at China Lake.

Among those taken to Oakland Naval Hospital with second and third degree burns was Marion Edward Fuller, fireman apprentice, of Fort Valley, Ga.

The Navy said Hopfinger's FJ4B Fury jet crashed into the end of the flight deck as he returned from an in-flight refueling operation off the coast of northern California. The four crewmen were on the deck at the time.

Airliner And Navy Plane Nearly Collide

ST. LOUIS (AP)—An American Airlines DC7 carrying 44 persons and a single-seater Navy plane nearly collided Wednesday. Flying weather was bad at the time.

The Civil Aeronautics Administration said the Dallas-bound airliner had just taken off from Lambert - St. Louis Field and was at a 500-foot altitude when the Navy plane, an AD6, appeared out of the 1,000-foot ceiling and passed over the DC7.

The airlines pilot, Capt. Ted Kasper of Fort Worth, radioed that he did not have to take evasive action. He continued on to Dallas. The plane carried 39 passengers and a crew of five.

The Navy pilot, identified as Lt. E. V. Thomas reported he had seen the airliner and had turned away abruptly.

Washington Takes Grave View Of Lebanon Crisis

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States indirectly accused Russia Wednesday of trying to block United Nations action to defend the independence of Lebanon.

A State Department spokesman said the American government is backing the U.N. and "proceeding on the assumption that the U.N. will succeed in maintaining the integrity and the independence of Lebanon."

Administration officials were reported deeply concerned over the increasing gravity of the situation. Some say privately that unless the United Nations can move quickly and effectively, the government of President Camille Chamoun may not be able to withstand the pressure of rebel operations against it.

U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold, returning from a personal mission to Lebanon, seemed certain to get prompt U.S. support for any new step he recommends. So far the United Nations has put into Lebanon an international observer force of fewer than 100 men.

The Chamoun government called Wednesday for a force capable of sealing off the Lebanese borders to prevent assistance to the rebels from Syria, which is part of the United Arab Republic. Military experts estimated that it would take 5,000 men to do the job.

Chamoun also charged that Lebanese government forces were shelled from Syrian territory. U.S. officials were initially skeptical on this point. They said Chamoun might be trying to build a basis for asking U.S. and British troop help—something Washington and London are reluctant to give.

BULLETIN

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — A Vanguard satellite rocket blasted off at 12:01 a. m. Thursday but 18 minutes later the Navy said range instruments indicated its second stage failed to ignite.

"A three-stage rocket of the Vanguard project was launched at 12:01 a. m. EST today," said the official announcement. "Range instrumentation indicates that the second stage failed to ignite.

"Details and the cause of the malfunction are not known at this time."

Won't Attend Without U.S. Commitment

Moscow's Tough Stand Threatens To Scuttle Conference

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union threatened Wednesday night to scuttle the Geneva conference of nuclear experts unless the United States will say a universal ban on nuclear weapons tests is needed. The Geneva conference is set to open next Tuesday.

The sudden Soviet move came less than 24 hours after the Kremlin had indicated it would have Soviet and East European experts on hand at Geneva.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko handed U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson a note Wednesday night warning the U.S. government that Soviet nuclear experts would not attend unless the Kremlin's conditions were met.

The new development broke less than a week before the nuclear experts of eight East-West governments were to start the laborious process of trying to work out means for detecting nuclear explosions in the event of a universal ban on nuclear tests.

Kremlin's New Position

The new Soviet position was that Secretary of State Dulles has laid down conditions unacceptable to Moscow. The United States has insisted that the negotiations should not necessarily lead to any agreement to stop nuclear tests.

It came soon after a howling mob of more than 1,000 Russians demonstrated in front of the American embassy in what was regarded here as part of a general sudden stiffening of Soviet policy toward the West.

Diplomats here said the Kremlin's tough new look dates from last week's Soviet announcement of the execution of Hungarian revolutionary leaders. It also follows the Kremlin's publication of secret East-West correspondence which broke off, at least temporarily, diplomatic negotiations toward a summit conference.

The Soviet ambassadors to Washington, London and Paris, were recalled to Moscow without explanation immediately before that.

London Taken Aback

(In London, the British Foreign Office said the Geneva talks are necessary and it expressed hope they would take place. It held back any immediate interpretation of the new Soviet note. Informed sources indicated that British officials here were a bit taken aback by the sudden harshness of the Soviet stand).

Wednesday night's Soviet note charged that Dulles at a news conference in Washington June 17 reversed President Eisenhower's position on calling a Geneva conference of technical experts.

Dulles said, as the U.S. government has said all along, that the United States would make no prior commitments on the banning of tests in advance of the meeting.

"It is impossible to agree with such a position," the Soviet note said.

The Soviet note marked no real reversal in the Soviet position — only an abrupt take-it-or-leave-it stiffening of the position.

Yacht En Route To A-Test Zone

HONOLULU (AP) — The yacht Phoenix of Hiroshima was reported Wednesday 1,250 miles southwest of Honolulu en route to forbidden United States nuclear testing waters near Eniwetok. The yacht Golden Rule earlier had been forbidden by court order from entering the area.

Eniwetok is 2,200 miles from Honolulu.

A Navy spokesman said the Navy was making no special surveillance of the Phoenix, but was depending on position reports from ships and planes.

The Honolulu Star-Bulletin said an unpublished manuscript left behind by Mrs. Earle L. Reynolds, wife of the yacht's skipper-owner, indicated the Phoenix would attempt to enter the prohibited nuclear test zone near the Marshall Islands.

The Phoenix, a 50-foot ketch designed for ocean sailing and launched near Hiroshima in 1954, was reported making about 4½ knots since she sailed from Honolulu June 11.

The new development broke less than a week before the nuclear experts of eight East-West governments were to start the laborious process of trying to work out means for detecting nuclear explosions in the event of a universal ban on nuclear tests.

Kremlin's New Position

The new Soviet position was that Secretary of State Dulles has laid down conditions unacceptable to Moscow. The United States has insisted that the negotiations should not necessarily lead to any agreement to stop nuclear tests.

It came soon after a howling mob of more than 1,000 Russians demonstrated in front of the American embassy in what was regarded here as part of a general sudden stiffening of Soviet policy toward the West.

Diplomats here said the Kremlin's tough new look dates from last week's Soviet announcement of the execution of Hungarian revolutionary leaders. It also follows the Kremlin's publication of secret East-West correspondence which broke off, at least temporarily, diplomatic negotiations toward a summit conference.

The Soviet ambassadors to Washington, London and Paris, were recalled to Moscow without explanation immediately before that.

London Taken Aback

(In London, the British Foreign Office said the Geneva talks are necessary and it expressed hope they would take place. It held back any immediate interpretation of the new Soviet note. Informed sources indicated that British officials here were a bit taken aback by the sudden harshness of the Soviet stand).

Wednesday night's Soviet note charged that Dulles at a news conference in Washington June 17 reversed President Eisenhower's position on calling a Geneva conference of technical experts.

Dulles said, as the U.S. government has said all along, that the United States would make no prior commitments on the banning of tests in advance of the meeting.

"It is impossible to agree with such a position," the Soviet note said.

McElroy Meets Russell Terms In Defense Row

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense McElroy put in writing Wednesday an assurance that top Pentagon military and civilian leaders are free to testify before Congress without fear of reprisals.

The assurance, demanded by Chairman Richard B. Russell (D-Ga), of the Senate Armed Services Committee, apparently ended a feud between the two on that question.

After McElroy's letter had been delivered to Russell, the senator promptly announced that he expected to call for testimony next week from Gens. Maxwell D. Taylor, Army chief of staff, and Gen. Randolph McC. Pate, Marine Corps commandant, on the Defense Reorganization Bill.

Russell had curtly postponed testimony scheduled Tuesday by Taylor and Pate after McElroy had expressed disappointment about testimony before the committee by Adm. Arleigh Burke, chief of naval operations.

McElroy denied shortly afterward that he had rebuked Burke for opposing administration reorganization plans. But Russell disagreed and said top Pentagon officers would not be called until he had unqualified assurance from the secretary that they could testify without fear of reprisal.

Russell said McElroy could either testify in person or send written assurance. The secretary did so in a personal letter to Russell which the Senate and the Pentagon made public simultaneously.

In his letter, McElroy said he was restating his position that Defense Department officials "should give their personal judgments and opinions when asked for them" by congressional committee. He added:

"There should not, in my opinion, be any question of retaliation or penalty for such testimony," the secretary said.

South Viet Nam Troops Occupy Cambodia Towns

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) Cambodian royal proclamation reported Wednesday troops from neighboring South Viet Nam have invaded and occupied several Cambodian border villages.

This kingdom and the South Viet Nam Republic are independent countries that formerly were parts of French Indochina. Long-standing feuds have been fought over their borders.

King Suramarit urged the United States to intervene as a friend of both nations and to ask South Viet Nam to "stop permanently these unjust annexionist maneuvers."

Cambodian Prime Minister Sim Var, whose government was overthrown Sunday on economic questions, made a nationwide broadcast calling for calm.

Foreign Minister Truong Cang summoned representatives of all foreign missions in the capital to hear the royal proclamation.

Langer Wins Renomination

FARGO, N.D. (AP)—Sen. William Langer, the gravel - voiced maverick from North Dakota, won Republican nomination to a fourth term Tuesday with only a casual campaign against the state Republican machine that had refused to endorse him.

He anticipated little trouble in the general election from Raymond G. Vendsel, a dirt farmer who won the Democratic nomination.

"Of course I intend to win next fall," Langer said.

Langer handily beat Lt. Gov. Clyde Duffy, who had GOP enrosement, by a margin that may exceed 2-1.

In a staunchly Republican state, Langer's personal magnetism at the polls far more than offset party blessing.

Russians Stage Demonstration At U.S. Embassy

MOSCOW (AP) — More than 1,000 screaming, banner-waving Russians staged a rowdy "Yankee go home" demonstration outside the U.S. Embassy Wednesday.

Some shouted the Soviet equivalent of "dirty S.O.B."

Previous demonstrations heavily damaged the West German and Danish embassies, but the U.S. Embassy emerged unscathed. The only stone thrown went through an open window.

The crowd surged against 150 Soviet policemen forming a solid line on the sidewalk in front of the embassy. It made no serious effort to break through.

Some of the slogans, in English and Russian, read:

"Yankee go home."

"Hands off Lebanon."

"Down with war."

"Long live the Hungarian Socialist party with Kadar at its head."

The well-organized, well-controlled demonstration was in retaliation for Sunday's demonstration against the Soviet U.N. headquarters in New York. A group of Hungarians there were protesting the executions of Imre Nagy and other Hungarian leaders.

Last week's demonstrations at the Danish and German embassies came quickly after publication in Moscow of news about anti-Soviet demonstrations in Copenhagen and Bonn.

The Soviet press Wednesday reported the New York rioting. So the U.S. Embassy was prepared. Windows were boarded, the first floor cleared and all Russian employes were given the day off.

Demonstrators marched up to the 10-story building in columns. They flaunted their banners, shouted and shook their fists.

Some of the Americans looked out upstairs windows. The crowd whistled. Some shouted catcalls. Others took out mirrors and flashed the sunlight into the Americans' faces.

Two hours and 15 minutes after the demonstrators marched up, Soviet police cars arrived and orders to disperse blared from their loudspeakers.

Plane Crashes Into Carrier

SAN DIEGO, Calif., (AP)—Four crewmen aboard the aircraft carrier Bon Homme Richard were seriously burned Tuesday when a jet fighter crashed on the flight deck, killing the pilot, the Navy reported Wednesday.

Pacific Fleet Air Force headquarters here identified the pilot as Lt. Cmdr. Richard M. Hopfinger of Air Development Squadron 5, China Lake, Calif. His widow, Beulah Jeanne, and three children live at China Lake.

Among those taken to Oakland Naval Hospital with second and third degree burns was Marion Edward Fuller, fireman apprentice, of Fort Valley, Ga.

The Navy said Hopfinger's FJ4B Fury jet crashed into the end of the flight deck as he returned from an in-flight refueling operation off the coast of northern California. The four crewmen were on the deck at the time.

Airliner And Navy Plane Nearly Collide

ST. LOUIS (AP)—An American Airlines DC7 carrying 44 persons and a single-seater Navy plane nearly collided Wednesday. Flying weather was bad at the time.

The Civil Aeronautics Administration said the Dallas-bound airliner had just taken off from Lambert - St. Louis Field and was at a 500-foot altitude when the Navy plane, an AD6, appeared out of the 1,000-foot ceiling and passed over the DC7.

The airlines pilot, Capt. Ted Kasper of Fort Worth, radioed that he did not have to take evasive action. He continued on to Dallas. The plane carried 39 passengers and a crew of five.

The Navy pilot, identified as Lt. E. V. Thomas reported he had seen the airliner and had turned away abruptly.

Calvert's Yacht Located, Taken In Tow By Jap Ship

TOKYO (AP) — The missing yacht of Hollywood actor-magician John Calvert was found by the Japanese coast guard at 10 a.m. Thursday 23 miles east of Cheju Island off the South Korea coast.

A coast guard spokesman said it will be towed into Fukuoka on the southern Japanese island of Kyushu.

The yacht Thespian left Keelung, Formosa, June 16 with Calvert and four other Americans aboard. It was en route to Japan, where Calvert was to entertain American troops.

His agent, John C. Lipham of Honolulu, said the yacht was overdue when it didn't arrive at Fukuoka last weekend.

He expressed fear it might have been captured by Chinese Communists. Japanese maritime authorities said they didn't think it should arrive until this Friday.

The coast guard said it had no details and did not know why the yacht was to be towed. The 261-ton patrol boat Isuzu will bring it in, arriving in Fukuoka some time Thursday the spokesman said.

With Calvert aboard the yacht were his mother-in-law, Mrs. Constance Conrad Lowe, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Iverson of Hollywood, and U.S. Army specialist Thomas E. Jones of Black River Falls, Wis.

Sources in Formosa had predicted the yacht would reappear and played down expressions of concern from Lipham.

Eisenhower Signs Federal Pension Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower Wednesday signed a bill granting larger pensions to 232,000 retired federal employes.

The increases, effective Aug. 1, generally amount to 10 per cent but no individual increase can be greater than $594 a year. The Civil Service Commission said the increases will be included in checks due in September.

The new law affects persons on the civil service retirement list who started drawing their pension annuities prior to Oct. 1, 1956.

It also opens the retirement rolls to an estimated 12,000 widows previously ruled ineligible.

Washington Takes Grave View Of Lebanon Crisis

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States indirectly accused Russia Wednesday of trying to block United Nations action to defend the independence of Lebanon.

A State Department spokesman said the American government is backing the U.N. and "proceeding on the assumption that the U.N. will succeed in maintaining the integrity and the independence of Lebanon."

Administration officials were reported deeply concerned over the increasing gravity of the situation. Some say privately that unless the United Nations can move quickly and effectively, the government of President Camille Chamoun may not be able to withstand the pressure of rebel operations against it.

U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold, returning from a personal mission to Lebanon, seemed certain to get prompt U.S. support for any new step he recommends. So far the United Nations has put into Lebanon an international observer force of fewer than 100 men.

The Chamoun government called Wednesday for a force capable of sealing off the Lebanese borders to prevent assistance to the rebels from Syria, which is part of the United Arab Republic. Military experts estimated that it would take 5,000 men to do the job.

Chamoun also charged that Lebanese government forces were shelled from Syrian territory. U.S. officials were initially skeptical on this point. They said Chamoun might be trying to build a basis for asking U.S. and British troop help—something Washington and London are reluctant to give.

BULLETIN

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — A Vanguard satellite rocket blasted off at 12:01 a. m. Thursday but 18 minutes later the Navy said range instruments indicated its second stage failed to ignite.

"A three-stage rocket of the Vanguard project was launched at 12:01 a. m. EST today," said the official announcement. "Range instrumentation indicates that the second stage failed to ignite.

"Details and the cause of the malfunction are not known at this time."

Yacht En Route To A-Test Zone

HONOLULU (AP) — The yacht Phoenix of Hiroshima was reported Wednesday 1,250 miles southwest of Honolulu en route to forbidden United States nuclear testing waters near Eniwetok. The yacht Golden Rule earlier had been forbidden by court order from entering the area.

Eniwetok is 2,200 miles from Honolulu.

A Navy spokesman said the Navy was making no special surveillance of the Phoenix, but was depending on position reports from ships and planes.

The Honolulu Star-Bulletin said an unpublished manuscript left behind by Mrs. Earle L. Reynolds, wife of the yacht's skipper-owner, indicated the Phoenix would attempt to enter the prohibited nuclear test zone near the Marshall Islands.

The Phoenix, a 50-foot ketch designed for ocean sailing and launched near Hiroshima in 1954, was reported making about 4½ knots since she sailed from Honolulu June 11.

Two Die, 37 Injured In Fiery Ship Crash

Floating Gasoline Menace Eases

NEW YORK (AP)—Uneasy patrols ranged over the fuel-charged East River Wednesday after a flaming ship collision which sank one vessel and covered miles of water with gasoline.

Two crewmen were lost in the spectacular disaster which occurred when a Swedish freighter plowed into an Amerian tanker. Thirty-seven other persons were injured.

The fiery crash flung a dazzling aurora over postmidnight New York City. Manhattan Bridge, high above the ships, caught fire briefly. The burning tanker sank, loosing a flood of volatile fuel over the river's surface.

For hours all river traffic was suspended. By noon, backed up boats were permitted to creep warily past the wreckage zone.

Swift currents in the river, which flows between Manhattan and the boroughs of Queens and Brooklyn, carried off much of the inflammable liquid. However, ribbons of fuel snaked along the docks.

Police helicopters roved over the river, and special guards were dispatched to piers to prevent smoking. Coast Guard and police patrols plied the area.

"The danger is not yet over," said Deputy Fire Chief Hugh Halligan. He said if the gasoline forms pockets along the water's edge, it could spread throughout the harbor area, imperiling 50 miles of shoreline. Chemical foam was spread over concentrations of oilslick.

Both the Coast Guard and police ordered investigations into the accident, which occurred in midstream of the half-mile-wide river just underneath the Bridge. The bridge connects lower Manhattan and Brooklyn.

In still darkness, the 5,200-ton Swedish-American Line freighter Nebraska rammed amidship into the 531-ton tanker Empress Bay, owned by the Tanker Petroleum Corp.

An explosion rocked the two ships, and for a moment, they remained locked. A sheet of flames shot skyward, igniting the bridge more than 130 feet above.

Murder Case Figure Paroled

BALTIMORE (AP) — Joseph Sampson, admitted dope addict, has been paroled from a Maryland prison for an attempted holdup that was the background for a New York murder.

Wallace Reidt, head of the Maryland Department of Parole, said Wednesday that Sampson was released June 16 and has taken a job with a cleaning firm in New York City.

Sampson was sentenced Jan. 5, 1956 to seven years for trying to hold up the wife of a Baltimore numbers operator in 1954. Police said the attempt was made by Sampson and Joseph Aronowitz after being master minded by Martin Yamin, former Baltimore magistrate.

Aronowitz was shot to death Feb. 15 in a car in front of a Brooklyn, N.Y. casket show room. Aronowitz was to go on trial the next day in Baltimore on the holdup charge. Police had said he would be a state witness.

Eight days after Aronowitz was killed, August Robles was shot and killed in a battle with New York police seeking to question him about the slaying of Aronowitz.

Yamin subsequently pleaded guilty to second degree murder on a charge of having hired Robles to kill Aronowitz. Yamin was sentenced to 20 years.

Sampson, 34, pleaded guilty to having heroin when he was arrested on the burglary charge.

Foe Of Alaska Statehood Bill Blasts Seaton

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. James O. Eastland (D-Miss) criticized Secretary of the Interior Seaton Wednesday for drumming up support for the Alaska statehood bill.

"It is going pretty far," Eastland told the Senate, "for a Cabinet officer to ask the United States Senate to destroy the Constitution of the United States."

The Mississippian contends the bill is unconstitutional. For one thing, he argues, it would bring Alaska into the Union with a status inferior to that of the other states.

Eastland said Seaton wrote every member of the Senate lauding the House-passed bill as a workable compromise and urging the Senate approval of it.

He said he also understood the secretary had dispatched Interior Department aides to the Capitol to lobby for the legislation. He added that he looked with disfavor on this, too.

Senate debate on the statehood bill began late Monday. There was no prospect of an immediate vote.

Eastland said the bill's provisions about which he complained—chiefly the one under which the President could order national defense withdrawals of part of the new state's territory—would set a precedent for invasion of the rights of all states.

Seaton's letter urging passage of the bill included a fact sheet on Alaska including estimates of the cost of statehood. Seaton wrote:

"President Eisenhower has urged enactment of legislation to admit Alaska into the union. In their 1956 platforms, both major political parties have pledged immediate statehood for Alaska.

"As Secretary of the Interior, I earnestly hope for favorable consideration by the Senate of the House-passed bill."

Youth Arrested In Bank Holdup

GLEN BURNIE, Md. (AP) — Police arrested one Glen Burnie youth and hunted another Wednesday within two hours of a $6,500 holdup at a branch bank here.

Police sought Alvin C. Amos, 22, on a warrant charging him with robbery of the Harundale branch of the Savings Bank of Baltimore.

Charles Francis Lampron, 19, was held in lieu of $20,000 bail after being arraigned on charges of aiding and abetting Amos in the holdup.

Police said Lampron drove Amos from Harundale to Washington after the robbery.

A portion of the money was recovered in the arrest of Lampron, police said.

About a half hour before the robbery, Baltimore County police got an anonymous call that a different bank was going to be robbed. Police believe it was a trick to draw police and FBI agents away from the real holdup site.

The bandit asked teller Nancy Matthews about arranging a loan, then drew a revolver and demanded money. She said she stuffed about $6,500 in bills into a shopping bag he carried.

The bagpipe was in use among the Hebrews and the Greeks.

Man Who Tried To Steal A Kiss Gets $7,500 Back

WAPAKONETA, Ohio (AP)—A 73-year-old man who claims he paid $7,500 for trying to kiss the young wife of a neighbor got the money back with six per cent interest Wednesday.

A Common Pleas Court jury decided Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Brornein Jr. and Bernard Brornein Sr. should return the cash, plus interest from June 8, 1955, to Albert F. Kurtz.

Kurtz testified the trio on June 4 and 6 of that year came to his home and demanded the $7,500 saying they would send him to the penitentiary for trying to kiss the wife of young Brornein if he refused. Kurtz said he paid the money on June 8.

Steelworker Gets Life In Pa. Girl's Slaying

BEAVER, Pa. (AP)—Theodore Pallow, 25-year-old Midland steelworker, was sentenced to life imprisonment Wednesday for the revolver slaying of Rosalie Leis, 21-year-old ex-beauty queen contestant.

Pallow showed no emotion as Judge Robert E. McCreary imposed the sentence. The judge said he will oppose and wants all future Beaver County judges to oppose any application for parole.

"Never, under any circumstances, should it be granted," Judge McCreary said.

The day after his conviction Pallow told a jailer he "felt lucky" because the jury did not send him to the chair.

Pallow killed Miss Leis early the morning of last March 13 outside her nearby Vanport home. He had been keeping company with her for several months. Testimony at the trial disclosed she was from 4 to 6 weeks pregnant when she was killed.

Two Algerian Rebel Leaders Face Execution

ALGIERS (AP)—The first death sentences of the new De Gaulle era were pronounced Wednesday by the Military Tribunal against two Algerian nationalist rebel leaders. One dramatically asked to be shot as a soldier rather than executed on the guillotine as a common criminal.

The tribunal is a permanent court dating from long before Charles de Gaulle's recent rise to the premiership in Paris and his personal appeal here for integration and peace. The court operates under a military regime answerable to the Paris government.

Any appeals for clemency would go to French President Rene Coty. He would refer them to a judicial commission and either accept or disregard the commission recommendations as he chooses.

Yacef Saadi, former chief of the nationalist rebellion in the Algiers area and Hamadi Omar, an aide, were ordered to die after the court deliberated for two hours.

It was Saadi who asked to be shot.

"I know that I will be condemned to death since the rights of war have never been applied here," Saadi told the court before sentencing. "I ask only the honor of being shot, not only for myself but for all the population of the casbah" (native quarter).

Saadi said he was sure Frenchmen who fought in the underground in World War II against the Nazis would understand his plea.

Constantinne the Great was the first Roman emperor to protect Christians and embrace Christianity.

GI Seized By Czechs On Austrian Side

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Sgt. James E. Cole said Wednesday Communist Czechoslovak guards with a submachine gun seized him on the Austrian side of a border stream two weeks ago.

Cole, dressed in a light blue suit, appeared pale and nervous at a news conference in the U.S. Embassy. He was released Tuesday.

The Connellsville, Pa., soldier gave this account:

"I was fishing in the Thaya River. I never left the Austrian bank. All of a sudden I saw a Czech soldier across the river coming out of a clump of trees.

"First thing I heard was the German words 'Haende hoch' (Hands up). He pointed his rifle at me. He continued in German 'Tschedchische erde' (Czech ground). I replied 'No, Oesterreichische erde' (Austrian ground).

"I told him 'Geh weg' (Go away) and he worked the bolt of his rifle. I thought it was time I got out of there.

"I turned around and saw, directly behind me, another Czech soldier, pointing a submachine gun at me. 'Hands up' he said, also in German. Then they said 'Gehen' (go) and we marched to the other side of the river. Then they took me to a prison."

Cole refused to continue from there, under U.S. Embassy restrictions.

He said only: "I was not mistreated," that he was asked "quite a number of questions" and was accused of having violated the Czechoslovak frontier. But he declined to say whether he was accused of espionage.

One of the Western reporters asked him to comment on a statement by his Austrian-born wife's cousin, who was fishing with him. The Austrian had said he saw Cole wading in the water.

"I can't answer this," Cole replied.

Another reporter said that as far as he knew there are no trout in the Thaya, a stream seldom visited by Austrian fishermen.

"I got news for you," Cole replied. "I caught a whole basket full of them."

Micronesia, the name applied to the Marianas, Marshall and Caroline islands in the Pacific, means "small islands."

WAPAKONETA, Ohio (AP)—A 73-year-old man who claims he paid $7,500 for trying to kiss the young wife of a neighbor got the money back with six per cent interest Wednesday.

A Common Pleas Court jury decided Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Brornein Jr. and Bernard Brornein Sr. should return the cash, plus interest from June 8, 1955, to Albert F. Kurtz.

Kurtz testified the trio on June 4 and 6 of that year came to his home and demanded the $7,500 saying they would send him to the penitentiary for trying to kiss the wife of young Brornein if he refused. Kurtz said he paid the money on June 8.

Steelworker Gets Life In Pa. Girl's Slaying

BEAVER, Pa. (AP)—Theodore Pallow, 25-year-old Midland steelworker, was sentenced to life imprisonment Wednesday for the revolver slaying of Rosalie Leis, 21-year-old ex-beauty queen contestant.

Pallow showed no emotion as Judge Robert E. McCreary imposed the sentence. The judge said he will oppose and wants all future Beaver County judges to oppose any application for parole.

"Never, under any circumstances, should it be granted," Judge McCreary said.

The day after his conviction Pallow told a jailer he "felt lucky" because the jury did not send him to the chair.

Pallow killed Miss Leis early the morning of last March 13 outside her nearby Vanport home. He had been keeping company with her for several months. Testimony at the trial disclosed she was from 4 to 6 weeks pregnant when she was killed.

Two Algerian Rebel Leaders Face Execution

ALGIERS (AP)—The first death sentences of the new De Gaulle era were pronounced Wednesday by the Military Tribunal against two Algerian nationalist rebel leaders. One dramatically asked to be shot as a soldier rather than executed on the guillotine as a common criminal.

The tribunal is a permanent court dating from long before Charles de Gaulle's recent rise to the premiership in Paris and his personal appeal here for integration and peace. The court operates under a military regime answerable to the Paris government.

Any appeals for clemency would go to French President Rene Coty. He would refer them to a judicial commission and either accept or disregard the commission recommendations as he chooses.

Yacef Saadi, former chief of the nationalist rebellion in the Algiers area and Hamadi Omar, an aide, were ordered to die after the court deliberated for two hours.

It was Saadi who asked to be shot.

"I know that I will be condemned to death since the rights of war have never been applied here," Saadi told the court before sentencing. "I ask only the honor of being shot, not only for myself but for all the population of the casbah" (native quarter).

Saadi said he was sure Frenchmen who fought in the underground in World War II against the Nazis would understand his plea.

Constantinne the Great was the first Roman emperor to protect Christians and embrace Christianity.

GI Seized By Czechs On Austrian Side

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Sgt. James E. Cole said Wednesday Communist Czechoslovak guards with a submachine gun seized him on the Austrian side of a border stream two weeks ago.

Cole, dressed in a light blue suit, appeared pale and nervous at a news conference in the U.S. Embassy. He was released Tuesday.

The Connellsville, Pa., soldier gave this account:

"I was fishing in the Thaya River. I never left the Austrian bank. All of a sudden I saw a Czech soldier across the river coming out of a clump of trees.

"First thing I heard was the German words 'Haende hoch' (Hands up). He pointed his rifle at me. He continued in German 'Tschedchische erde' (Czech ground). I replied 'No, Oesterreichische erde' (Austrian ground).

"I told him 'Geh weg' (Go away) and he worked the bolt of his rifle. I thought it was time I got out of there.

"I turned around and saw, directly behind me, another Czech soldier, pointing a submachine gun at me. 'Hands up' he said, also in German. Then they said 'Gehen' (go) and we marched to the other side of the river. Then they took me to a prison."

Cole refused to continue from there, under U.S. Embassy restrictions.

He said only: "I was not mistreated," that he was asked "quite a number of questions" and was accused of having violated the Czechoslovak frontier. But he declined to say whether he was accused of espionage.

One of the Western reporters asked him to comment on a statement by his Austrian-born wife's cousin, who was fishing with him. The Austrian had said he saw Cole wading in the water.

"I can't answer this," Cole replied.

Another reporter said that as far as he knew there are no trout in the Thaya, a stream seldom visited by Austrian fishermen.

"I got news for you," Cole replied. "I caught a whole basket full of them."

Micronesia, the name applied to the Marianas, Marshall and Caroline islands in the Pacific, means "small islands."

Maryland Jobless Benefit Tax System To Be Revised

BALTIMORE (AP) — A revised system of taxing Maryland employers for paying benefits to the jobless will be sent to the Legislative Council in November.

The new program would guarantee that employers with stable payrolls would still be rewarded by paying lower rates. At the rate the unemployment fund is being depleted now because of the recession, all Maryland employers face the prospect of paying the same maximum tax next year under the present formula.

Robert B. Kimble, executive director of the Maryland Department of Security, said Wednesday he is working on a new schedule with experts from the federal government.

Employers now are taxed for the first $3,000 of each worker's wages. The rate ranges from .2 to 2.7 per cent according to the employer's past record of stability.

It also depends on the amount in the reserve fund for the unemployed. If the fund drops below 6 per cent of the total taxable payroll in the state, the rate for every employer must go up.

This will happen next Tuesday. It will increase by .3 per cent.

If the fund falls below 5 per cent of the total payroll, then every employer must pay the maximum 2.7 tax rate. This is considered likely next year unless a new formula is adopted by the Legislature which convenes in January.

At present, 47 per cent of Maryland employers are paying only a .3 per cent rate.

The proposed change in the tax schedule has nothing to do with the amount or duration of weekly benefits paid to the jobless, Kimble said.

Maryland recently accepted a federal loan to lengthen the maximum period of unemployment eligibility from 26 to 39 weeks. The extension is only temporary until next April.

Witness' Long Jail Stay Stirs Protection Call

BALTIMORE (AP)—Legislative action was urged Wednesday to protect state's witnesses from long waits in jail before trials are started.

Del. Robinson (D-Balto 4th), a member of the Legislative Council, said he was outraged by recent revelations of state's witnesses being held in Baltimore city jail for long periods in lieu of bail.

Jail records show that seven state's witnesses were held for more than 30 days each in the past year while awaiting trial of the cases in which they were to testify. In two cases, witnesses were behind bars more than three months.

Robinson said he has no preconceived solution but would suggest a hearing on the matter by law enforcement authorities and representatives of various bar associations.

"Then let the Legislative Council take the necessary steps to lay down ground rules for the protection of state's witnesses," he said

The Baltimore delegate said these witnesses are being deprived of their liberty "because they were at a particular place at a particular time and witnessed a crime—and were willing to admit it to fulfill a citizen's responsibility to cooperate with authorities. . .

"I believe that prompt and certain assurances must be legislated against repetition of this kind of occurrence," he said.

"We can no longer rely on pious expressions."

Meanwhile, attorney Hyman Pressman, self-appointed protector of the taxpayer, wrote the Legislative Council urging a change in the law which provides state's witnesses with 50 cents a day while they're in jail.

Pressman said the real remedy is to eliminate "unnecessary incarcerations" but the 50 cents a day "adds insult to injury." "The provision of the law should either be eliminated or made reasonable and realistic," he said.

The fuss over state's witnesses was stirred up by the recent disclosure that Willie Suber, a witness in a homicide case, had been held 50 days before making bail through the Criminal Justice Commission.

U.S. Pays On Pledge

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — The United States paid $600,000 this week as the second instalment on its pledge of $1,333,000 for the 1958 refugee fund. It contributes one-third of the total.

Woman Bandit

BALTIMORE (AP) — A Negro woman robbed a loan company of $135 Wednesday.

Mrs. Janet Carlin, teller at the Hampden Loan Co., told police the woman about 45 years old walked in and handed her a note.

"This is a holdup," it read. "I have a gun in this bag under my arm. Put the money from the drawer and the safe in the bag."

Mrs. Carlin said the woman produced another paper bag. She stuffed a pile of bills in it.

The woman bandit then ordered Mrs. Carlin and a customer into a rest room and fled.

Gasoline Bomb Destroys Truck; Thrower Burned

TOWSON, Md. (AP) — The thrower of a gasoline bomb into a truck owned by a company which has been having labor trouble was burned by the flareback Wednesday.

Police said the burned man and two companions fled on foot after their getaway car crashed into a parked automobile. The shoes and parts of a trouser leg belonging to the burned man were found at the scene.

The mixture of burning gasoline and oil was thrown into the cab of the parked truck. The truck driver and his helper were inside a house delivering furniture at the time.

The truck was owned by the Shofer Furniture Co. of Baltimore. It has been involved in an organizing dispute with the Independent Teamsters and the Warehousemen and Truck Drivers.

Patrolman James Raymand said the car used by the three youths caught fire as well as the truck. The truck cab and engine were destroyed.

The car in which the three bomb throwers tried to flee had been reported stolen several days ago.

The flame throwing took place in the Rodgers Forge section just north of the Baltimore City line in the vicinity of York Road.

DEATHS AND FUNERAL NOTICES

CHARLES B. CALLIS

Charles B. Callis, 74, of 309 East Oldtown Road, died yesterday at his home. He had been in ill health one week.

A native of Hoyes (Garrett County), he was born November 19, 1883 a son of the late William H. and Caroline (Deahl) Callis.

Mr. Callis was a former educator, retired carpenter and later served as office manager for the J. E. Dennison Company, painting contractor.

Before moving to Cumberland in 1920, Mr. Callis had served as principal of schools in Crellin and Kitzmiller. In 1920 he accepted the position of office manager for the late W. J. Morley, contractor, and continued the job until 1939.

Several years during World War II, he was a mechanical drawing instructor at Fort Hill High School.

He was a member of the official board and president of the trustees of Grace Methodist Church, a retired member of Carpenter Local 1024 and a member of Cumberland Encampment, Woodmen of the World.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Bessie E. (Horchler) Callis; a daughter, Dr. Carolyn Dunlap, Salisbury, Md.; a son, Charles D. Callis, this city; four sisters, Mrs. Blanche White, Moundsville, W. Va.; Mrs. Dessa Harvey, Oakland; Mrs. Lula Schlossnagle, Uniontown, and Mrs. Mary Feather, Cranesville, W. Va.; seven grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

The body is at the Scarpelli Funeral Home where the family will receive friends from 2 until 4 p. m. and from 7 until 9 p. m. The family requests that flowers be omitted.

The body will be taken to Grace Methodist Church at noon Saturday for services at 3 p. m. with Rev. Robert Nimon, pastor, officiating. Interment will be in Hillcrest Burial Park.

MRS. CHARLES E. McDONALD

HEADSVILLE, W. Va. — Mrs. Lucy Rebecca McDonald, 75, wife of Charles E. McDonald, of here, died yesterday morning at her home after an illness of six years.

Mrs. McDonald was a lifelong resident of here and was one of the oldest residents in this area. She was a daughter of the late Henry and Elizabeth (Carskadon) Head.

She was a member of Headsville Methodist Church, the WSCS of the church and the Women's Farm Club.

Surviving besides her husband, are two sons, Edgar H. McDonald, Headsville, and Master Sgt. Henry McDonald, with the Army at Fort Wood, Mo.; two grandchildren and a great-grandchild.

Services will be conducted tomorrow at 2:30 p. m. (EDT) at Headsville Methodist Church. Burial will be in the church cemetery.

The body will be at the residence this afternoon.

JOHN A. METZ

LONACONING — John A. Metz, 78, died yesterday at his home in Charles Town. He had been in ill health for some time.

A lifelong resident of Lonaconing, he was a son of the late John F. and Rebecca (Lease) Metz and the husband of the late Janet (Lashbaugh) Metz.

Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Sarah Morgan, of here; two sons, Raymond, of here, and John Metz, Oakton, Va.; a brother, Leonard Metz, Lonaconing; 14 grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

The body is at the residence where services will be conducted Saturday at 2:30 p. m. by Rev. Carl Price, pastor of First Methodist Church. Burial will be in Oak Hill Cemetery.

STOTT SERVICES

FROSTBURG — Services for Thomas Albert Stott, 68, who was found hanging from a tree in a wooded area on Big Savage Mountain Tuesday afternoon will be conducted tomorrow at 2:30 p.m. at the Durst Funeral Home.

Rev. Wesley Harris, pastor of Welsh Memorial Baptist Church, will officiate and interment will be in Frostburg Memorial Park.

Pallbearers will be Frank Wenck, John Rankin, William Youngerman, Theodore Shaw, Emory Lancaster and Albert Klink.

SHEPHERD SERVICES

Services for Gerald B. Shepherd, 30, formerly of this city, who was killed Monday in a two-car accident near Frederick, will be conducted today at 2 p m. at the Hafer Funeral Home.

Rev. Jacob H. Snyder, pastor of Kingsley Methodist Church, will officiate and interment will be in Hillcrest Burial Park.

Pallbearers will be John Snyder, Vernon Browning, Fred E. Squires Jr., George W. Reuschel, William Whiteacre and Edwin Kendall.

DIXON SERVICES

Services for Wilbur James Dixon, 72, of 610 Memorial Avenue, who died Tuesday at his home, will be conducted today at 2 p.m. at the Hafer Funeral Home by Rev. Carlton M. Harris, pastor of Centre Street Methodist Church.

The body will be taken to Clinton, N. Y., where graveside services will be conducted Saturday at 10 a.m. in Westmoreland (N. Y.) Cemetery.

Going Traveling?

Some travelers don't believe in signs. One can be posted big as life in a train saying, "No Smoking Please!", yet a few inconsiderate ones completely defy it and light up their cigarets as often as they please. All they have to do is to take a few steps to the car ahead where smoking is allowed, or walk back to the lounge car.

No charmers these—they just offend. On the surface, charm may appear to be made up of small things. But YOUR charm is no small thing. And contrary to an all too prevalent impression, the pursuit of charm is far removed from selfish conceits. It is thinking of others . . . bringing them enjoyment, which in turn brings happiness to yourself.

The true charmer strives to use her voice in the most attractive way. Unless you have had professional speech training, you may not realize that you have a choice. Let us help you with our professional booklet called, "Your Most Attractive Voice." Send 10 cents in coin and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me, in care of this newspaper, for your copy.

Your speech communicates to the world what you are. Be careful what you say and how you say it. You carry a built-in passprot to every country you go. The woman of charm is always an ambassadress from her world to those she visits. She investigates beforehand the special foods, points of interest and customs. She enjoys all with appreciation. She never blurts out, "We can do this better back home." She adjusts to new ways and sets free her understanding, curiosity and enthusiasm. In turn, she has a wonderful time . . . is charmed with her travels . . . and charming.

DEATHS AND FUNERAL NOTICES

CHARLES B. CALLIS

Charles B. Callis, 74, of 309 East Oldtown Road, died yesterday at his home. He had been in ill health one week.

A native of Hoyes (Garrett County), he was born November 19, 1883 a son of the late William H. and Caroline (Deahl) Callis.

Mr. Callis was a former educator, retired carpenter and later served as office manager for the J. E. Dennison Company, painting contractor.

Before moving to Cumberland in 1920, Mr. Callis had served as principal of schools in Crellin and Kitzmiller. In 1920 he accepted the position of office manager for the late W. J. Morley, contractor, and continued the job until 1939.

Several years during World War II, he was a mechanical drawing instructor at Fort Hill High School.

He was a member of the official board and president of the trustees of Grace Methodist Church, a retired member of Carpenter Local 1024 and a member of Cumberland Encampment, Woodmen of the World.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Bessie E. (Horchler) Callis; a daughter, Dr. Carolyn Dunlap, Salisbury, Md.; a son, Charles D. Callis, this city; four sisters, Mrs. Blanche White, Moundsville, W. Va.; Mrs. Dessa Harvey, Oakland; Mrs. Lula Schlossnagle, Uniontown, and Mrs. Mary Feather, Cranesville, W. Va.; seven grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

The body is at the Scarpelli Funeral Home where the family will receive friends from 2 until 4 p. m. and from 7 until 9 p. m. The family requests that flowers be omitted.

The body will be taken to Grace Methodist Church at noon Saturday for services at 3 p. m. with Rev. Robert Nimon, pastor, officiating. Interment will be in Hillcrest Burial Park.

MRS. CHARLES E. McDONALD

HEADSVILLE, W. Va. — Mrs. Lucy Rebecca McDonald, 75, wife of Charles E. McDonald, of here, died yesterday morning at her home after an illness of six years.

Mrs. McDonald was a lifelong resident of here and was one of the oldest residents in this area. She was a daughter of the late Henry and Elizabeth (Carskadon) Head.

She was a member of Headsville Methodist Church, the WSCS of the church and the Women's Farm Club.

Surviving besides her husband, are two sons, Edgar H. McDonald, Headsville, and Master Sgt. Henry McDonald, with the Army at Fort Wood, Mo.; two grandchildren and a great-grandchild.

Services will be conducted tomorrow at 2:30 p. m. (EDT) at Headsville Methodist Church. Burial will be in the church cemetery.

The body will be at the residence this afternoon.

Men Receive Idea Awards

Two employes of the Amcelle Plant of Celanese Corporation of America have received awards for their suggestions for improving production methods at the local plant.

William E. Crooks, plant manager, presented the awards to Bernard J. Harvey, shift supervisor in the Warp Winding Department, and Paul M. Rice, assistant supervisor in the Extrusion Engineering Department.

Mr. Harvey's suggestion won $560 and dealt with the improvement of a tension arrangement in the processing yarn on beams. Mr. Rice's winning suggestion was for a mandrel of an improved design and won an award of $175. He designed and constructed the new mandrel in his home workshop.

Mr. Harvey joined Celanese in 1933 and has been in his present position since 1952. He is married to the former Virginia Goodrich and resides in Frostburg.

Mr. Rice has been employed at Amcelle since 1945 as an assistant supervisor. He resides in LaVale.

Augusta, where they made a right turn onto a paved county road that leads through Rio to the edge of Baker.

When they reached State Route 259 near Baker they turned to the left and headed east to Wardensville and Route 55, a state road which has the same number in both West Virginia and Virginia. Route 55 took them directly to Front Royal, where they got on the Skyline Drive for a 105-mile trip to its southern extremity near Waynesboro.

From Waynesboro they headed north on U. S. Route 340, a somewhat off-beat national highway which parallels the Skyline Drive and took them back to Front Royal. At Luray they visited the much-publicized caverns.

Neither boy had ever been on the Skyline Drive or in the Luray Caverns before this bicycle trip and these were the high points of the journey.

Pleasant Interludes

They recalled a number of incidents the other day which they considered pleasant interludes in the trip.

A kind lady who was driving an Imperial on the Skyline Drive was especially remembered. She stopped, told them she had children of her own and gave them some bananas, apples and crackers. These donations provided their lunch that day.

At the highest point in the Skyline Drive, where the elevation is 4,010 feet, the boys rode horses that were stabled there.

The Torkington youth, who was the cook on the trip, said they could eat what he cooked but were happy to return to some cooking at home.

The idea for this trip came to them last December when they thought it would be nice to get away from the confinement of school at the end of the school year. Don Torkington and Offut Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Johnson, 831 Gephart Drive, took a so-called "trial run" in the spring when they pedaled some 35 miles to New Germany in Garrett County. Johnson couldn't make the summer trip because of his job.

Although the boys obviously were pleased to have taken their trip, they came back stiff and sore and have pretty much shelved their bicycles.

It was nice while it lasted but they are pleased that it is all over now.

Post Playground Show Tonight

Registrations will continue at Thomas S. Post Playground today and tomorrow from 10 a. m. to noon, 1 to 5 p. m., and 6 to 9 p. m.

As a special feature tonight at 7, a stuffed animal show will be held, followed by a motion picture.

Charles Smith, director, and Sondra Weltman, leader, are working on a playground softball league and a three-man team basketball league.

Bids Sought For Radios

Sealed bids for three additional mobile radios are being sought for use in the Allegany County Civil Defense program.

William G. Barger, director, informed the County Commissioners that the county has secured federal approval for a matching fund purchase of the radios to expand the county fire radio system.

A committee of firemen, he said, recommended that Ellerslie, District 16, and McCoole be permitted to participate in the purchase which will be handled as before with the company concerned bearing most of the local cost.

This project will not result in an expenditure of county funds (CD budget) over $300. The bids will be received by Mr. Barger until 10 a. m. (EDT) July 17 at 715 LaVale Terrace.

They will be in accordance with specifications which are available at the office of the clerk of the Commissioners at the Court House.

Further information may be obtained from Mr. Barger who reserves the right to recommend to the Commissioners the rejection of any or all bids or to accept them.

State Farmers Favor Quotas

Not all of Maryland's wheat farmers were as disinterested in last Friday's nation-wide referendum on wheat marketing quotas for 1959 as they were in Allegany County.

Reports received at the Maryland Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Office show that 522 or 81.6 per cent of those voting favored quotas and only 118 were opposed.

Allegany was one of five Maryland counties in which no votes were cast for or against the measure. Others were Calvert, Garrett, Harford and Wicomico. Heaviest vote was in Talbot County on the Eastern Shore, where 99 were affirmative and only six negative. Only three counties voted against quotas. They were Prince George's, one for and seven against; Somerset, none for and 12 against, and Worcester, none for and one against.

Nationally, 198,210 votes were cast in 38 commercial wheat states. Some 83.7 per cent of the voting farmers favored quotas and 16.3 per cent were opposed.

Bad Check Charge Against Man Dropped

The state's attorney's office said yesterday that a charge against Raymond A. Talley, 418 Grand Avenue, for passing bad checks has been dropped.

Edwin R. Lilya, county investigator, said restitution of $90.06 for six bad checks has been made, and since Talley has no previous record the charges were dropped.

However, he is still being held in County Jail for a hearing in Juvenile Court on a non-support charge.

I stopped waiting...bought a new Plymouth...and man, what I saved!

Sometimes it's smart to wait, sometimes it isn't! Take me. I was putting off buying that new car we needed. Then I dropped in at my Plymouth dealer's. It was the most profitable visit of my life.

I found I could get my choice of new Plymouths at prices a whole lot lower than I believed possible. PLUS a trade-in offer on my old car so high that I made 'em say it twice!

And still more! I saved a clean $140 on the Plymouth ride alone. That's famous Torsion-Aire Ride, Plymouth's top luxury ride. It's standard on all Plymouths (even the least expensive) at no extra cost . . . but you have to pay up to $140 extra for the top ride of the other two leading cars in the low-price field.

And Plymouth proved it can save me gas money by winning the 1958 Mobilgas Economy Run. (There's a new Fuel-Saver Choke that makes your gas buck go a lot further!) It proved it will save me still more money at trade-in time, with new Silver Dart Styling that will look new and bring more years from now!

President Suggests Reviving The Fourth

President Eisenhower's suggestion that everyone pitch in to aid in celebrating the Fourth of July this year is a reminder that there seems to be a revival of interest in the nation's prime national holiday.

It is also a reminder of the fact that boisterous celebrations of the Fourth of July began to wither on the vine almost a half century ago.

This isn't because Americans have lost their tendencies to stage parades, listen to speeches or otherwise commemorate traditional anniversaries.

St. Patrick's Day in New York still brings out millions of celebrants, with long and colorful parades. But Independence Day in New York seems to be a signal for everybody to scatter to the beaches, mountains, woods or anywhere else, for individual relaxation or entertainment. Downtown Manhattan on the Fourth of July is usually an abysmally quiet place.

The American Newspaper Publishers Association this year repeats its customary promotional effort in behalf of the "Primer for Americans," which is set forth as a creed of patriotism and a declaration of our intention to perpetuate the observance of our natal day. This year it seems that more steam than usual is put back of the observance.

The "Primer" is a recital of a list of American beliefs, rights and principles, all of which are familiar to citizens. There are three principal beliefs, 18 rights and about a score of corollary principles.

The conclusion is a list of "principles of individual responsibilities" which should appeal to individuals as such. For instance, "the individual is responsible for himself and his family," and "the only way we can have more is to produce more."

Probably the nation will never again witness the free-wheeling bang-bang whooperoo of the nineteenth century celebrations, but certainly there is every reason for making a serious study of our freedoms, especially since such freedoms require eternal vigilance as the price.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Herbert Bayard Swope

The art of reporting has changed as governments have devised methods of depriving the public of the truth. What made Herbert Bayard Swope one of the two or three most competent reporters of all time was that he long recognized that really to know what is going on, a reporter must be inside the story. In a word, while many of his contemporaries were standing outside a door, waiting for a great man to come to them to give them a statement, Swope, even as a young man, was dining with the aforesaid great man and was probably helping him to write the statement.

During the 40 years, boy and man, that I have known Swope, I have come to recognize why so many lesser and incompetent men envied him his combination of ability to get at the central facts, his vast knowledge of men and events, his enormous memory and his capacity to organize facts. To listen to Swope discourse on the difference between a reportorial account and an editorial account of a situation was a lesson in journalism which would help many of this younger generation to understand the reason why, with superior communications, the news is not only belated but often an opinionated mishmash of a situation.

Herbert Bayard Swope possessed qualities of aristocratic bearing and noble living which are genetic not cultivated and which opened to him doors which were closed to others. His was the grand manner and the noble gesture and he was able to get a Wall Street story at the race track with greater ease than a financial writer could get it in the Stock Exchange.

Wherever he was, his head was high and nobody would call him one of the boys and that made a tremendous difference in his efforts to get a story because he was treated as a responsible man of understanding. Today, when the hand-out has become the fashion, it is not quite as exciting to do the kind of reporting that Herbert Swope did. The hand-out has become the curse of American journalism and it is undoubtedly the reason why the American people with a widespread press, radio and television news service are so poorly informed and have become subject to governmental propaganda which the old-time reporters such as Upton Sinclair, Lincoln Steffens, Charles Edward Russell, Ida Tarbell and Herbert Bayard Swope would have torn to shreds.

When Swope edited "The World" in New York, he produced what has come to be known in American journalistic history as the best "page opposite," meaning opposite the editorial page. He employed a galaxy of brilliant writers. This was still a period when the press accepted leadership in causes. The press still had a mission and a purpose. It was unafraid. When a William Randolph Hearst or a Joseph Pulitzer went after a politician or a predatory businessman, the devil trembled in his boots. He knew that the newspapers would get him and the newspapers served the public interest.

But at that time newsprint was not expensive. There was no radio and television to take the cream off the advertising appropriations. Salaries were comparatively small and newspapermen regarded their work as a calling not a job. They worked around the clock with joy in their hearts because they were making a new world. It was a time of giants in this profession.

Herbert Bayard Swope never went to college, but his knowledge of literature and history was universal and his use of English as a tool was craftsmanlike. He came of a cultured family of distinguished Jews who had settled in St. Louis. His brother, Gerard, whom he adored, worked for General Electric and became its head. Gerard was an introvert; Herbert an extrovert. Between them was a tremendous affection and understanding.

The friendship between Herbert Bayard Swope and Bernard Baruch has often been misinterpreted as an employer-employee relationship. To the vulgar, everything is cast in the mold of a coin. These men had been close and intimate friends and to make a trio, the name of Winston Churchill might be added. It was a friendship based upon personal affection, likemindedness and the give and take of great knowledge of affairs.

I had known Herbert Bayard Swope for perhaps 40 years, with more or less intimacy for a quarter of a century, and I mourn him with both affection and respect.

Some Republicans Secretly Gloat Over Sherman Adams' Predicament

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Beneath the GOP gloom over the Sherman Adams disclosures, some people are secretly gloating over his predicament.

One is Renah Camalier whom Adams squeezed out as a District of Columbia commissioner. Adams summoned Camalier to the White House and frostily notified him that the President wanted his resignation.

"Look," snapped Camalier, "the President is only 100 feet from us now. If you go to him and tell him your story and he asks me to resign, I will tender the resignation."

One Republican who has had his fingers frostbitten by the icy assistant president is New York's Congressman Pat Kearney. Adams once called him and asked how he would like to be Veterans Administrator.

Kearney accepted the offer and prepared to resign from Congress. The appointment was cleared with top New York Republicans, including ex-Gov. Tom Dewey and Sen. Irving Ives.

After a long wait for an official announcement from the White House, Kearney phoned Adams to find out what was holding it up.

"You aren't under consideration for Veterans Administrator," said Adams in a brittle, cold voice.

Later Kearney spotted Adams' glacial countenance at a reception.

"Wait a minute," the Irishman told friends, "I'll be right back."

"Where are you going?" they asked.

"This will only take a minute," he replied, and headed for Adams.

They didn't like the look in his eye and demanded what he intended to do.

"I'm going to belt Sherman Adams," he announced simply.

It took considerable dissuading to restrain him.

Suez Aftermath

British and French diplomats aren't letting the State Department forget the fact that they could have saved the United States the problem of intervention in Lebanon, if President Eisenhower hadn't intervened to stop the Anglo-French-Israeli fighting in Suez on the eve of the 1956 presidential election.

Today, the United States is being drawn into the Near East crisis to stop the spread of Nasserism, whereas it could have sat back and let the French, British and Israeli armies do it in 1956.

French and British diplomats were bitter against the United States following the Suez intervention and they haven't forgotten it today. They recall how President Eisenhower himself phoned Prime Minister Eden in London, bawled him out in barrack-room language and demanded that British troops accept a cease-fire immediately.

Eden, shaken, picked up the telephone, called Premier Mollet in Paris and relayed the demand. Mollet remonstrated, but finally decided that France would have to follow the British and American lead.

Nasser, who had been cringing in a bombproof cellar in the outskirts of Cairo, has been busy undermining American policy in the Near East ever since.

Note—John Foster Dulles was ill at the time Eisenhower intervened in Suez, did not participate in the decision.

Crack-Down In Kremlin

Mysterious maneuverings have been taking place inside the Kremlin, the full impact of which are difficult to fathom. However, observers in the satellite countries which make it a point to know what goes on behind the walls which affect them most have this explanation for the execution of ex-Premier Imre Nagy of Hungary:

Khrushchev was getting worried about too much freedom in the satellite nations and decided that the best way to prevent further freedom was to make an example with someone else's neck.

The execution of Nagy and Maj. Gen. Pal Maleter was a cool and calculated warning to the heads of other governments in the Soviet bloc that they might suffer the same fate.

Khrushchev knew, that forces were stirring in Poland, Hungary, Rumania and Czechoslovakia which would mean a gradual drift toward the west. It was this drift that Sen. Jack Kennedy of Massachusetts and the State Department wanted to encourage by offering aid to Iron Curtain countries, which Senator Knowland of California stopped. It will take a long time for the public to realize what a setback Knowland gave to the American policy of winning friends behind the Iron Curtain.

Merry-Go-Round

Minnesota's straightforward Congressman John Blatnik, whose subcommittee found that cigaret smoking is related to both lung cancer and heart disease, has written a slashing attack on cigaret advertising for Harper's Magazine. He charges that the advertising claims for filter-tip cigarets are phony . . . When Sen. Paul Douglas of Illinois is asked about his success in politics he says, "I rode into Congress on my wife's coattails." His wife, Emily Taft Douglas, is the former Congresswoman from Illinois . . . Congress alone can bestow the nation's highest award for bravery, the Medal of Honor, but it quickly forgets the heroes who win this distinction, some of whom are destitute in later life because of battle disabilities. Sherman Adams Has The Facts On His Side

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Sherman Adams does not intend to resign —and President Eisenhower will not crucify him by asking him to resign.

Mr. Adams is convinced he has violated no law and exerted no improper influence. The President is also convinced that this is a fact.

Looking back now over what happened—and hindsight is always better than foresight—if the Presidential aide had for one moment ever suspected that his personal friendship of 15 years with Bernard Goldfine, wool manufacturer, and the exchange of gifts would be distorted into a smear scandal, no such gifts would have been accepted.

But, unfortunately, because day-by-day newspaper accounts not pieced together carefully by the average person and politicians are quick to vent their hates through condemnatory statements, a man can be convicted by public opinion of a "crime" he didn't commit. The big question is: what is the duty of the press in such circumstances? Isn't it to present all the evidence and all the facts of law and prevent an innocent man from being wrongly stigmatized for life?

This correspondent has read the record and has also noted the contents of the important statement issued over the weekend by Edward F. Howrey, former chairman of the Federal Trade Commission. The conclusions which this writer reaches after such an examination are as follows:

1. Not a scintilla of evidence exists to prove that any improper influence was exerted or that a violation of law was committed by Sherman Adams.

2. The decisions reached by the Federal Trade Commission in handling the cases involving Goldfine were made by the "career" officials who hold office from one administration to the other without regard to political change. Neither they nor any other members of the Commission ever knew that Chairman Howrey had received an inquiry from Sherman Adams about the Goldfine cases. The cases were handled on their merits as are thousands of similar cases each year. Mr. Howrey himself took no part in deciding the cases. His subordinates did so and took the necessary action.

3. Notable in support of the facts as stated is the testimony of Acting Chairman Robert Secrest, former Democratic Congressman from Ohio for 16 years.

4. No "regulation" of the Commission was violated when Mr. Howrey sent a memorandum of information to Mr. Adams in response to his inquiry. It has been the Commission's "policy" to withhold the name of a company or individual making a complaint about an unfair trade practice. In this instance the name of the complainant was already known to the defendant company through open disclosure by the opposing attorney. In fact, the names of the contending parties in the dispute were well known in the woolen industry because other woolen mills were vitally interested in any changes in labeling woolens that might be decide on. Some members of Congress from wool states were also aware of the parties to the controversy.

5. Mr. Howrey's memorandum to Mr. Adams pointed out that the case could be settled by "voluntary compliance" in accordance with custom. But this was no new or confidential information. The defendant company already had this knowledge in connection with its previous conferences with the Federal Trade Commission, which had been trying to conclude the case by the same method. The annual report of the Commission reveals that there were 6,399 cases of questioned practices in the woolen industry which were settled that year in the same way.

6. No favored treatment was given the defendant company. In the first instance, the Goldfine company complied voluntarily. In the second instance, the customary remedy—the usual "cease and desist" order—deemed the most effective by the Commission's top staff, was applied and the defendant complied with the law governing such orders.

7. As for the allegations about a case before the Securities and Exchange Commission in which Goldfine's Company was accused of failing to file some annual reports, Sherman Adams himself made no contact with the Commission. A routine inquiry was made by a member of the White House staff—the special counsel—and he advised Mr. Adams that no further steps should be taken by him. Mr. Adams dropped the matter. The Goldfine company was later given the customary penalty for failing to file its reports.

Inquiries about pending cases are routine by both Executive officials and members of Congress in behalf of citizens, all of whom —whether they are gift-giving friends or strangers — have a constitutional right "to petition the government for a redress of grievances."

What's at the bottom of the whole smear? It appears that a personal feud by enemies of Mr. Adams started it all, and the cruelties of politics resulted in a ghoulish spree before a House investigating committee which flagrantly violated a House resolution about the proper behavior of its investigating committees.

It's perhaps too bad that Sherman Adams isn't a Communist or a defender of Communistic "beliefs." He would today have the protective comments of many of those so-called "liberals" who have vehemently denounced "guilt by association" and "guilt by innuendo." He would also have the benefit of Chief Justice Warren's castigations of the behavior of Congressional committees.

As for those Republicans in Congress who have been running to cover because they are up for election this year, are they really so naive as to believe that the Democrats would ever stop talking about the Adams case if he resigned? His retirement would be interpreted as a confession of guilt. It is always better, if the facts and the law are on your side, to continue the fight for truth on the basis of the evidence and the law. For the American people are usually fair when they do get all the facts.

The Busy Pope

By Bob Considine

ROME — This 82d of his mounting years has been a difficult one for Pius XII. And of all the crosses he was obligated to bear, including the continued persecution of the Church by the Soviet Union, few were heavier to bear than the death of his friend Samuel Cardinal Stritch of Chicago.

Pius, a man who exudes love and affection, feels he inadvertently hastened Stritch's death by appointing him proprefect of the Vatican's Congregation for the Propagation of the Faith. It was the highest post ever given by the Church to an American prelate. But it was a singularly popular decision, even among old Italian Cardinals who still regard the U.S. as Indian-infested missionary country.

Cardinal Stritch was appointed last March 1. En route to Rome he suffered a clotted artery in his right arm, necessitating its amputation. Later there was a stroke. He died May 27. The Pope, who had kept a representative in attendance throughout the fatal illness, was called at 1:30 that morning — within two minutes of the death. Those were his standing orders. He grieved to think that, without the honor bestowed upon him, Stritch might have lived.

"The great Cardinal," he called the man from Chicago.

Stritch's patience and fortitude in the face of advancing death left a deep imprint on emotional Italians who were witnesses. One of his day nurses, learning of his death, reached the hospital in nightdress — with her husband — just as Stritch's body was being taken to the embalmers. It was 3 a. m. She demanded a last look at her patient and so insistently that she was permitted to enter the hearse. She kissed he dead Cardinal on his forehead and cheeks, as her cries filled the night.

Pius surprised some by choosing Gregoire Pierre Cardinal Agagianian as Stritch's successor to head up a bureau without whose activity the Church might in time dissolve. Agagianian, Patriarch of the Armenians, is a brisk and brilliant 62. He was born not far from Anastas Mikoyan, one of the top men of the Kremlin. Agagianian preached in Russia after the Revolution, was educated both there and in Rome. He speaks better Russian than Khrushchev, the man for whose conversion millions of Catholics pray daily.

The Pope had some other headaches during the year, among them a stand he had to take with his doctors. The Pontiff has a high regard for the friendship and ability of Dr. Paul Niehans, the Swiss whose work in the field of geriatrics has occasioned wide attention. The Papal physicians, including Dr. Ricardo Galeazzi-Lisi, are solidly of the opinion that Dr. Niehans is for the birds.

Dr. Niehans is believed to have treated the Pope (and fellow octogenarian Konrad Adenauer) with injections of still live cells taken from the embryos of lambs and chickens. "Nothing more than potato soup," one Vatican doctor exploded. But believers in the restorative properties of the treatment point to the fact that Pius XII and the West German Chancellor are probably the two most active men of their age on earth today.

The Pope is deeply concerned with the executions of former Hungarian Premier Imre Nagy, Col. Pal Maleter and two others for alleged crimes rising from the Hungarian Revolt of 1956. He wonders what it augurs for the largely Catholic satellite states, and freedom everywhere.

Pius was approached to serve as mediator in both the Algerian and Lebanon disputes, but only by one side in each case — and so had the torment of knowing that he might have saved much blood if there had been a willingness on the part of all disputants to seek his good offices. He longs for his quiet, cool garden at Castel Gandolfo, alone with his birds and his thoughts.

Hypertension And Overreaction To Excitement

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

When John appeared for his army pre-induction examination, his pulse and blood pressure were high. The medical officer told him to rest and relax for 15 minutes. The second check up revealed normal findings.

"That's more like it," said the physician. John was given the green light and is serving Uncle Sam.

This temporary increase in pressure and pulse was caused by excitement. Tension affects the circulation, but not to the same degree in all persons. John was an overreactor and, in this respect, the change was entirely normal; this is the way he reacts to excitement.

As John grows older, the condition may occur more often, especially if he takes a job that is associated with tension. In the cimcustances, his blood pressure may be up most of the time and eventually he will become hypertensive. Many hyperreactors follow this course. Furthermore, John's chances of developing hypertension are more than twice as great as in others because both pulse and blood pressure become elevated easily.

The standard cold test is another way to detect the hyperreactor. In this procedure, the blood pressure is taken before and after the arms are immersed in ice water. The reading may jump as much as 15 points but in those destined to develop hypertension, it goes beyond this. In addition, it does not return to normal within 3 minutes, as occurs in the normal reactor.

Follow-up studies after 15 years demonstrated that more cases of hypertension developed among this group of hyperreactors than among the group that reacted less strongly.

Being a hyperreactor is not a sure sign that the heart or blood pressure will cause trouble in the future. On the other hand, there is a good possibility—and forewarned is forearmed. These individuals should take advantage of the knowledge they possess about their makeup and learn to control emotions associated with tension: Aggressiveness, anger, and the desire for revenge. In addition they should maintain normal weight and avoid excess animal fat in the diet.

SPREADING INFECTION

H. J. writes: Can an ear infection go to other parts of the body?

REPLY

Any infection can. Pus in the middle ear, unless controlled, may break through into the mastoid or brain or destroy the hearing apparatus. Spread through the blood stream also occurs. This is the reason a specialist should be consulted now—not next week or next month.

TOMORROW: Summer eating habits in children.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescription for individual diseases.

President Suggests Reviving The Fourth

President Eisenhower's suggestion that everyone pitch in to aid in celebrating the Fourth of July this year is a reminder that there seems to be a revival of interest in the nation's prime national holiday.

It is also a reminder of the fact that boisterous celebrations of the Fourth of July began to wither on the vine almost a half century ago.

This isn't because Americans have lost their tendencies to stage parades, listen to speeches or otherwise commemorate traditional anniversaries.

St. Patrick's Day in New York still brings out millions of celebrants, with long and colorful parades. But Independence Day in New York seems to be a signal for everybody to scatter to the beaches, mountains, woods or anywhere else, for individual relaxation or entertainment. Downtown Manhattan on the Fourth of July is usually an abysmally quiet place.

The American Newspaper Publishers Association this year repeats its customary promotional effort in behalf of the "Primer for Americans," which is set forth as a creed of patriotism and a declaration of our intention to perpetuate the observance of our natal day. This year it seems that more steam than usual is put back of the observance.

The "Primer" is a recital of a list of American beliefs, rights and principles, all of which are familiar to citizens. There are three principal beliefs, 18 rights and about a score of corollary principles.

The conclusion is a list of "principles of individual responsibilities" which should appeal to individuals as such. For instance, "the individual is responsible for himself and his family," and "the only way we can have more is to produce more."

Probably the nation will never again witness the free-wheeling bang-bang whooperoo of the nineteenth century celebrations, but certainly there is every reason for making a serious study of our freedoms, especially since such freedoms require eternal vigilance as the price.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Herbert Bayard Swope

The art of reporting has changed as governments have devised methods of depriving the public of the truth. What made Herbert Bayard Swope one of the two or three most competent reporters of all time was that he long recognized that really to know what is going on, a reporter must be inside the story. In a word, while many of his contemporaries were standing outside a door, waiting for a great man to come to them to give them a statement, Swope, even as a young man, was dining with the aforesaid great man and was probably helping him to write the statement.

During the 40 years, boy and man, that I have known Swope, I have come to recognize why so many lesser and incompetent men envied him his combination of ability to get at the central facts, his vast knowledge of men and events, his enormous memory and his capacity to organize facts. To listen to Swope discourse on the difference between a reportorial account and an editorial account of a situation was a lesson in journalism which would help many of this younger generation to understand the reason why, with superior communications, the news is not only belated but often an opinionated mishmash of a situation.

The big question is: what is the duty of the press in such circumstances? Isn't it to present all the evidence and all the facts of law and prevent an innocent man from being wrongly stigmatized for life?

This correspondent has read the record and has also noted the contents of the important statement issued over the weekend by Edward F. Howrey, former chairman of the Federal Trade Commission. The conclusions which this writer reaches after such an examination are as follows:

1. Not a scintilla of evidence exists to prove that any improper influence was exerted or that a violation of law was committed by Sherman Adams.

2. The decisions reached by the Federal Trade Commission in handling the cases involving Goldfine were made by the "career" officials who hold office from one administration to the other without regard to political change. Neither they nor any other members of the Commission ever knew that Chairman Howrey had received an inquiry from Sherman Adams about the Goldfine cases. The cases were handled on their merits as are thousands of similar cases each year. Mr. Howrey himself took no part in deciding the cases. His subordinates did so and took the necessary action.

3. Notable in support of the facts as stated is the testimony of Acting Chairman Robert Secrest, former Democratic Congressman from Ohio for 16 years.

4. No "regulation" of the Commission was violated when Mr. Howrey sent a memorandum of information to Mr. Adams in response to his inquiry. It has been the Commission's "policy" to withhold the name of a company or individual making a complaint about an unfair trade practice. In this instance the name of the complainant was already known to the defendant company through open disclosure by the opposing attorney. In fact, the names of the contending parties in the dispute were well known in the woolen industry because other woolen mills were vitally interested in any changes in labeling woolens that might be decide on. Some members of Congress from wool states were also aware of the parties to the controversy.

5. Mr. Howrey's memorandum to Mr. Adams pointed out that the case could be settled by "voluntary compliance" in accordance with custom. But this was no new or confidential information. The defendant company already had this knowledge in connection with its previous conferences with the Federal Trade Commission, which had been trying to conclude the case by the same method. The annual report of the Commission reveals that there were 6,399 cases of questioned practices in the woolen industry which were settled that year in the same way.

6. No favored treatment was given the defendant company. In the first instance, the Goldfine company complied voluntarily. In the second instance, the customary remedy—the usual "cease and desist" order—deemed the most effective by the Commission's top staff, was applied and the defendant complied with the law governing such orders.

7. As for the allegations about a case before the Securities and Exchange Commission in which Goldfine's Company was accused of failing to file some annual reports, Sherman Adams himself made no contact with the Commission. A routine inquiry was made by a member of the White House staff—the special counsel—and he advised Mr. Adams that no further steps should be taken by him. Mr. Adams dropped the matter. The Goldfine company was later given the customary penalty for failing to file its reports.

Inquiries about pending cases are routine by both Executive officials and members of Congress in behalf of citizens, all of whom —whether they are gift-giving friends or strangers — have a constitutional right "to petition the government for a redress of grievances."

What's at the bottom of the whole smear? It appears that a personal feud by enemies of Mr. Adams started it all, and the cruelties of politics resulted in a ghoulish spree before a House investigating committee which flagrantly violated a House resolution about the proper behavior of its investigating committees.

It's perhaps too bad that Sherman Adams isn't a Communist or a defender of Communistic "beliefs." He would today have the protective comments of many of those so-called "liberals" who have vehemently denounced "guilt by association" and "guilt by innuendo." He would also have the benefit of Chief Justice Warren's castigations of the behavior of Congressional committees.

As for those Republicans in Congress who have been running to cover because they are up for election this year, are they really so naive as to believe that the Democrats would ever stop talking about the Adams case if he resigned? His retirement would be interpreted as a confession of guilt. It is always better, if the facts and the law are on your side, to continue the fight for truth on the basis of the evidence and the law. For the American people are usually fair when they do get all the facts.

Our summarization of nuclear tea-parties is we should be as non-commital as a grunt.

We never inked a pact with the Australian pygmies to stop growing. We never documented the Jivaro head-shrinkers for a return of the hats.

The Busy Pope

By Bob Considine

ROME — This 82d of his mounting years has been a difficult one for Pius XII. And of all the crosses he was obligated to bear, including the continued persecution of the Church by the Soviet Union, few were heavier to bear than the death of his friend Samuel Cardinal Stritch of Chicago.

Pius, a man who exudes love and affection, feels he inadvertently hastened Stritch's death by appointing him proprefect of the Vatican's Congregation for the Propagation of the Faith. It was the highest post ever given by the Church to an American prelate. But it was a singularly popular decision, even among old Italian Cardinals who still regard the U.S. as Indian-infested missionary country.

Cardinal Stritch was appointed last March 1. En route to Rome he suffered a clotted artery in his right arm, necessitating its amputation. Later there was a stroke. He died May 27. The Pope, who had kept a representative in attendance throughout the fatal illness, was called at 1:30 that morning — within two minutes of the death. Those were his standing orders. He grieved to think that, without the honor bestowed upon him, Stritch might have lived.

"The great Cardinal," he called the man from Chicago.

Stritch's patience and fortitude in the face of advancing death left a deep imprint on emotional Italians who were witnesses. One of his day nurses, learning of his death, reached the hospital in nightdress — with her husband — just as Stritch's body was being taken to the embalmers. It was 3 a. m. She demanded a last look at her patient and so insistently that she was permitted to enter the hearse. She kissed he dead Cardinal on his forehead and cheeks, as her cries filled the night.

Pius surprised some by choosing Gregoire Pierre Cardinal Agagianian as Stritch's successor to head up a bureau without whose activity the Church might in time dissolve. Agagianian, Patriarch of the Armenians, is a brisk and brilliant 62. He was born not far from Anastas Mikoyan, one of the top men of the Kremlin. Agagianian preached in Russia after the Revolution, was educated both there and in Rome. He speaks better Russian than Khrushchev, the man for whose conversion millions of Catholics pray daily.

The Pope had some other headaches during the year, among them a stand he had to take with his doctors. The Pontiff has a high regard for the friendship and ability of Dr. Paul Niehans, the Swiss whose work in the field of geriatrics has occasioned wide attention. The Papal physicians, including Dr. Ricardo Galeazzi-Lisi, are solidly of the opinion that Dr. Niehans is for the birds.

Dr. Niehans is believed to have treated the Pope (and fellow octogenarian Konrad Adenauer) with injections of still live cells taken from the embryos of lambs and chickens. "Nothing more than potato soup," one Vatican doctor exploded. But believers in the restorative properties of the treatment point to the fact that Pius XII and the West German Chancellor are probably the two most active men of their age on earth today.

The Pope is deeply concerned with the executions of former Hungarian Premier Imre Nagy, Col. Pal Maleter and two others for alleged crimes rising from the Hungarian Revolt of 1956. He wonders what it augurs for the largely Catholic satellite states, and freedom everywhere.

Pius was approached to serve as mediator in both the Algerian and Lebanon disputes, but only by one side in each case — and so had the torment of knowing that he might have saved much blood if there had been a willingness on the part of all disputants to seek his good offices. He longs for his quiet, cool garden at Castel Gandolfo, alone with his birds and his thoughts.

Hypertension And Overreaction To Excitement

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

When John appeared for his army pre-induction examination, his pulse and blood pressure were high. The medical officer told him to rest and relax for 15 minutes. The second check up revealed normal findings.

"That's more like it," said the physician. John was given the green light and is serving Uncle Sam.

This temporary increase in pressure and pulse was caused by excitement. Tension affects the circulation, but not to the same degree in all persons. John was an overreactor and, in this respect, the change was entirely normal; this is the way he reacts to excitement.

As John grows older, the condition may occur more often, especially if he takes a job that is associated with tension. In the cimcustances, his blood pressure may be up most of the time and eventually he will become hypertensive. Many hyperreactors follow this course. Furthermore, John's chances of developing hypertension are more than twice as great as in others because both pulse and blood pressure become elevated easily.

The standard cold test is another way to detect the hyperreactor. In this procedure, the blood pressure is taken before and after the arms are immersed in ice water. The reading may jump as much as 15 points but in those destined to develop hypertension, it goes beyond this. In addition, it does not return to normal within 3 minutes, as occurs in the normal reactor.

Follow-up studies after 15 years demonstrated that more cases of hypertension developed among this group of hyperreactors than among the group that reacted less strongly.

Being a hyperreactor is not a sure sign that the heart or blood pressure will cause trouble in the future. On the other hand, there is a good possibility—and forewarned is forearmed. These individuals should take advantage of the knowledge they possess about their makeup and learn to control emotions associated with tension: Aggressiveness, anger, and the desire for revenge. In addition they should maintain normal weight and avoid excess animal fat in the diet.

SPREADING INFECTION

H. J. writes: Can an ear infection go to other parts of the body?

REPLY

Any infection can. Pus in the middle ear, unless controlled, may break through into the mastoid or brain or destroy the hearing apparatus. Spread through the blood stream also occurs. This is the reason a specialist should be consulted now—not next week or next month.

TOMORROW: Summer eating habits in children.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

"My pet," replied her companion (Clarence Baber suggests he may have been listening to John Daly too often on "What's My Line?"), "extenuating circumstances force me to preclude you from such a bauble of extravagance."

"I don't get it," confessed the blonde.

Pairings Listed For 8th CCC Women's Golf Tourney

70 Players Start Teeing Off At 8:30

19 Clubs In Six States, District Of Columbia Enter

Western Maryland's No. 1 golf event—the eighth annual invitation tournament of the Women's Golf Association of the Cumberland Country Club—gets under way today.

Seventy players from 19 different clubs of Maryland, West Virginia, Virginia, Pennsylvania, North Carolina and the District of Columbia are entered in the 36-hole two-day event in which the player with the low gross score will receive the Old Export Bowl, donated by the Cumberland Brewing Company.

Seeks Second Win

Only one former champion, Capt. Lucille Busch, of Los Angeles, Calif., liaison officer and technical advisor to the United States Air Force, will be here to vie for a second leg on the large silver sterling bowl, the second one up for grabs since the event was inaugurated in 1951. Capt Busch was the 1956 winner with a score of 161. A player must win three tournaments to retire the bowl. Each year the winner's name is inscribed on the large trophy and a replica of the bowl is presented to the victor for keeps.

A total of approximately 25 trophies are distributed among the players annually.

Mrs. Maurice Glick, of Baltimore, 1957 winner, who set the all-time low of 156, ten strokes above par, since the 36-hole tournaments were started in 1954, was not entered this year as she participated in the British Amateur Tournament this week. The local tournaments were 18-hole affairs from 1951 through 1953.

One Bowl Retired

The first Old Export Bowl was retired by Mary Ann Downey, of Baltimore, who swept through the tournaments of 1953, 1954 and 1955 with scores of 75, 79, and 158. She tied for first place with Mrs. Glick in 1955 and won out in a "sudden" death playoff.

Seventy players participated in last year's event. The all-time high for entries was established in 1953 when 145 took part in the 18-hole test. Fields have been smaller, however, since the tournament was limited to players with handicaps of 25 and under. There were 94 entries in 1951, 100 in 1952, ninety-six in 1954, ninety-two in 1955 and 104 in 1956.

Makes Eighth Try

Mrs. G. William Bibby, Cumberland's top golfer, will be competing for the eighth consecutive year. Jean finished second in 1957 and 1953, third in 1952, fourth in 1951, fifth in 1956 and sixth in 1955. In the recent Maryland State Tournament, Mrs. Bibby lost out in the semi-finals to Mrs. Glick, who won the title.

Mrs. Claude Richards, Westminster, and Mrs. Midge Kaufman, Baltimore, who are entered in this year's event met in the recent Baltimore City championship tournament semi-final round and Mrs. Richards won 5 and 4. In the finals, however, Mrs. Richards bowed to Mrs. Charles M. Ness, 3 and 2.

Pairings are listed below with starting or tee-off times at the first and 10th holes. Handicaps of the players are in parentheses.

Frank Gifford Quits Football

Pro Star To Stay With Movie Career

NEW YORK (AP)—Frank Gifford, one of the National Football League's backfield stars, made his big decision Wednesday. He is ending a brilliant six-year career with the New York Giants for a new career in television and the movies.

The 27-year-old former golden boy of the University of Southern California, who four months ago signed a long-term contract with a Hollywood studio, has been engaged to play the featured role in a weekly TV show "Public Enemy."

"The series is due to start in the fall," Gifford said. "It's an hour-long show based on federal crime cases. I'm the hero. I catch 'em."

Gifford said he had hoped to be able to play one more year with the Giants but he admitted the studio frowned upon the idea.

"Just say I am through with football — with the remotest reservations," he said. "I wish I could work something out whereby I can do the series and still play football but I doubt very much whether the studio would even consider it. It would mean taking 12 to 14 weeks off during the height of the TV season. I really can't see how that could be done."

Dapper Red Sox Trounce Cards 10-2

The Red Sox exploded in a rash of extra base hits to trounce the Cardinals, 10-2, yesterday evening at Penn Avenue field in a Dapper division Little League game.

Larry Malone hurled the distance for the winners, fanning nine batsmen and allowing four hits. He was touched for a third-inning homer by Gary Morgan with one on to account for the Cardinals' runs.

Lee Miller hit for the circuit with two aboard in the fifth for the Red Sox; Richie Robinson had a double and two singles; Jim Graham smashed a two-bagger and a pair of singles; and Davy Martin collected a double, triple and single for the Red Sox.

In a game Tuesday at Post field the Cardinals defeated the Giants, 27-13, in a slugfest won by Terry Cox. Seeders was the losing hurler. Donnie Rice hit a pair of homers for the winners and Wally Harper added another circuit blow. The score:

Red Sox	131	230—10	14 1

Malone and Davy, Rawnsley and Morgan. HR—Morgan (Cards); Miller (Red Sox).

All-Star Ticket Sales Gives Baltimore Headache

Man Threatens To Sue For Rejection

BALTIMORE (AP) — Baseball fans seeking to buy tickets to the All-Star game on July 8 are giving the Baltimore Orioles fits.

One lawyer-fan is threatening to sue the Orioles for fraud.

A lot of fans claimed they lived up to the letter of the rules set by the Orioles to buy tickets and now are being told, "So sorry."

The Orioles, as hosts to the silver anniversary of the game, announced they had about 20,000 tickets up for grabs. Applications had to be mailed on June 5—not one minute earlier—to be acceptable.

The Baltimore Postmaster, William Laukaitis, lent a helping hand. He set up two special All-Star collection boxes in the downtown post office and eight others around the city.

Postman Took Letters

"I reached the post office about midnight," said Matt Smith today. "A postman was taking the letters out of one of the boxes and he added mine to the lot.

"I also mailed a request for two tickets for my mother.

"These letters were mailed as soon as they could be accepted. "Yet my mother and I both got notes from the Orioles sending back our checks and regretting that the applications had been received too late."

Smith's was one of many typical complaints from recipients of rejection slips.

"I can't believe 20,000 tickets were sold when my application was mailed" was their theme.

The Orioles maintained they had no way of knowing the exact minute that each letter was mailed. They received the applications in lump deliveries from the post office.

Postmaster Laukaitis said those from the two special boxes in the central office all were postmarked at 12:30 a.m. Those from the others were timed between 1 a.m. and 3 a.m.

Five Times Too Many

The Orioles said the applications totalled five times as many as there were tickets available.

Memorial Stadium will seat 49,329 for the All-Star game.

They were distributed this way: 20,285 to Oriole season ticket holders, 6,748 to major and minor league officials and players, and 16,173 to the mail applicants.

Another 6,123 are still to be sold. They're behind poles and in the bleachers.

That's all there is and there'll be no more, bemoans Elmer Burkhart, the Oriole ticket manager.

"I know that with something like this you make 10 enemies for every friend."

Women's Open Starts Today At Detroit

Field Of 57 Enters Biggest Tournament

DETROIT (AP) — The biggest women's golf tournament — the U.S. Women's Open — starts here Thursday and no one is picking a favorite.

A field of 57 including 29 professionals, will tee off at the Forest Lake Country Club.

Patty Berg, the all-time money winner on the ladies' circuit, is always one of the top choices. She officialy is credited with more than $112,000 in winnings since the LPGA started keeping records 10 years ago. She topped the ladies again last year in earnings with $16,272.

Miss Berg has scored two seconds, two thirds, a pair of fourths and a seventh in seven winter tour tournaments this year and none of her rivals has approached her steadiness.

She finished second in the women's classic last year when Hawaiian Jackie Pung was disqualified for attesting to an improper score.

After Miss Pung was ruled out, Betsy Rawls of Spartanburg, S. C., became the winner.

Also rated among the early choices is long-hitting Faye Crocker of Montevideo, Uruguay. The confident Miss Crocker won the Open crown in 1955, her second year as a professional.

"I did it once," said Miss Crocker, "and I can do it again. I'm a better player now than I was then. I have more experience and experience counts a lot in a tournament like this."

Petite Marlene Hagge, the leading money winner two years ago, apparently has regained that sensational form. In her last six tournament starts she has scored one victory and twice finished second.

The Forest Hills course will play at either 6,240 or 6,250 yards for the ladies, depending upon tee placements. Par will be 37-36—73.

Von McDaniel Has Muscle Tear

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Bonus pitcher Von McDaniel has a muscle tear in his right shoulder, but St. Louis Cardinal club physician Dr. I. C. Middleman said Wednesday the tear isn't serious and should heal in a day or two.

The 19-year-old Oklahoman will stay in St. Louis and work out with the Cardinals next Monday when they return to the city, then return to the Class B Winston-Salem club.

The Red Bird physician said the tear had no effect on McDaniel's pitching. The younger of the two $50,000 McDaniel bonus pitchers was optioned from Houston to Winston-Salem earlier this month. His brother, Lindy, 22, is with the Cardinals. Von started sensationally in the majors last season but had control troubles this spring.

Ex-Footballers Enter Golf Final

John Rokisky defeated L. W. Brown, 2 up, in a semi-final first flight match in the men's spring handicap golf tournament at the Cumberland Country Club yesterday.

Rokisky, an ex-professional football player will meet another former pro gridder in John Wilson in the finals of the first flight.

M'Kay Wimbledon Victor Despite Blistered Hand

Rain Hampers Play; Mrs. Knode Beaten

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—Barry MacKay patched up his blistered racket hand with adhesive tape Wednesday and kept pace with the other seeded players to keep alive America's chances for the men's title in the Wimbledon Tennis Championships.

Althea Gibson, the defending champion in the women's division, was idle but third-seeded Mrs. Dorothy Head Knode, also a New Yorker, was upset in a second-round match.

Gusty winds and light showers handicapped play and a heavy rain late in the day forced the officials to call off play with 13 matches still unplayed and 10 others unfinished.

Mike Green Advances

Mike Green, Miami Beach, Fla. was the other American man to survive Wednesday's second-round play. Five others didn't finish their day's work and four were eliminated. Those who were beaten included Bill Quillian of Seattle, Jack Frost of Monterey, Calif., Malcolm Fox of Baltimore and Earl Buchholz of St. Louis.

Mrs. Margaret duPont of Wilmington, Del., the 1947 Wimbledon champion, breezed through Britain's J. A. Fulton 6-1, 6-0 to advance to the second round that Miss Gibson and several others reached Wednesday. Margaret Varner of El Paso, Tex., the world's No. 2 badminton player, fell before Britain's Ann Haydon 6-3, 1-6, 6-2.

Plays In Gale

MacKay, the 22-year-old from Dayton, Ohio ventured into near gale winds to whip Britain's Eric Bulmer 6-1, 9-7, 6-2.

Top-seeded Ashley Cooper of Australia, nearing complete recovery from a pulled thigh muscle, defeated Franz Saiko of Austria, 6-3, 6-4, 6-1. Second-seeded Mal Anderson, another Australian, eliminated Spain's Andres Gimeno 6-4, 6-4, 6-4.

Australia's Mervyn Rose, seeded No. 3, let Frost get far ahead in each set before pulling him back and finally beating him 6-4, 10-8, 6-4.

Mrs. Knode was the first seeded player to take a beating. She lost important matches to the British in the Wightman Cup competition two weeks ago and Wednesday she lost to Christine Mercelis of Belgium 6-3, 7-5.

Has Little Trouble

Green had little trouble beating Australia's Bert Kearney 7-5, 6-1, 6-4 with his varied game. The young Floridian appeared to tire a bit in the third set but still was superior to the Aussie.

The other Americans were not so fortunate. Quillian bowed to Britain's M. P. Hann 11-9, 1-6, 6-3, 6-4.

Buchholz met fifth-seeded Luis Ayala of Chile and was eliminated 6-4, 8-6, 8-6. Fox was whipped by Don Candy of Australia 6-4, 10-8, 6-4.

Denmark's powerful Kurt Nielsen, seeded No. 6, downed Britain's G. L. Ward 6-8, 6-4, 6-4, 8-10, 6-2.

Seventh-seeded Sven Davidson of Sweden brushed past Francisco Contreras of Mexico 6-2, 10-8, 8-6.

Maria Bueno of Brazil, seeded fourth among the women, breezed past Renee Schuurman of South Africa 6-0, 6-2.

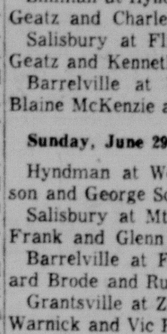
HOOHEE? THIS 36-year-old pitching veteran is one of the mainstays of the Chicago White Sox mound staff. He had hurled for Boston, St. Louis and Philadelphia before winding up with the Sox.



ANSWERS

1—No. In 1941 he went into the box score as a pitcher. He had a 0-0 mark. As an outfielder that year, he hit .344.
2—Bucky Harris.
3—Yes, with the Philadelphia A's.

Pairings Listed For 8th CCC Women's Golf Tourney

70 Players Start Teeing Off At 8:30

19 Clubs In Six States, District Of Columbia Enter

Western Maryland's No. 1 golf event—the eighth annual invitation tournament of the Women's Golf Association of the Cumberland Country Club—gets under way today.

Seventy players from 19 different clubs of Maryland, West Virginia, Virginia, Pennsylvania, North Carolina and the District of Columbia are entered in the 36-hole two-day event in which the player with the low gross score will receive the Old Export Bowl, donated by the Cumberland Brewing Company.

Seeks Second Win

Only one former champion, Capt. Lucille Busch, of Los Angeles, Calif., liaison officer and technical advisor to the United States Air Force, will be here to vie for a second leg on the large silver sterling bowl, the second one up for grabs since the event was inaugurated in 1951. Capt Busch was the 1956 winner with a score of 161. A player must win three tournaments to retire the bowl. Each year the winner's name is inscribed on the large trophy and a replica of the bowl is presented to the victor for keeps.

A total of approximately 25 trophies are distributed among the players annually.

Mrs. Maurice Glick, of Baltimore, 1957 winner, who set the all-time low of 156, ten strokes above par, since the 36-hole tournaments were started in 1954, was not entered this year as she participated in the British Amateur Tournament this week. The local tournaments were 18-hole affairs from 1951 through 1953.

One Bowl Retired

The first Old Export Bowl was retired by Mary Ann Downey, of Baltimore, who swept through the tournaments of 1953, 1954 and 1955 with scores of 75, 79, and 158. She tied for first place with Mrs. Glick in 1955 and won out in a "sudden" death playoff.

Seventy players participated in last year's event. The all-time high for entries was established in 1953 when 145 took part in the 18-hole test. Fields have been smaller, however, since the tournament was limited to players with handicaps of 25 and under. There were 94 entries in 1951, 100 in 1952, ninety-six in 1954, ninety-two in 1955 and 104 in 1956.

Makes Eighth Try

Mrs. G. William Bibby, Cumberland's top golfer, will be competing for the eighth consecutive year. Jean finished second in 1957 and 1953, third in 1952, fourth in 1951, fifth in 1956 and sixth in 1955. In the recent Maryland State Tournament, Mrs. Bibby lost out in the semi-finals to Mrs. Glick, who won the title.

Mrs. Claude Richards, Westminster, and Mrs. Midge Kaufman, Baltimore, who are entered in this year's event met in the recent Baltimore City championship tournament semi-final round and Mrs. Richards won 5 and 4. In the finals, however, Mrs. Richards bowed to Mrs. Charles M. Ness, 3 and 2.

Frank Gifford Quits Football

Pro Star To Stay With Movie Career

NEW YORK (AP)—Frank Gifford, one of the National Football League's backfield stars, made his big decision Wednesday. He is ending a brilliant six-year career with the New York Giants for a new career in television and the movies.

The 27-year-old former golden boy of the University of Southern California, who four months ago signed a long-term contract with a Hollywood studio, has been engaged to play the featured role in a weekly TV show "Public Enemy."

"The series is due to start in the fall," Gifford said. "It's an hour-long show based on federal crime cases. I'm the hero. I catch 'em."

Gifford said he had hoped to be able to play one more year with the Giants but he admitted the studio frowned upon the idea.

"Just say I am through with football — with the remotest reservations," he said. "I wish I could work something out whereby I can do the series and still play football but I doubt very much whether the studio would even consider it. It would mean taking 12 to 14 weeks off during the height of the TV season. I really can't see how that could be done."

Dapper Red Sox Trounce Cards 10-2

The Red Sox exploded in a rash of extra base hits to trounce the Cardinals, 10-2, yesterday evening at Penn Avenue field in a Dapper division Little League game.

Larry Malone hurled the distance for the winners, fanning nine batsmen and allowing four hits. He was touched for a third-inning homer by Gary Morgan with one on to account for the Cardinals' runs.

Lee Miller hit for the circuit with two aboard in the fifth for the Red Sox; Richie Robinson had a double and two singles; Jim Graham smashed a two-bagger and a pair of singles; and Davy Martin collected a double, triple and single for the Red Sox.

In a game Tuesday at Post field the Cardinals defeated the Giants, 27-13, in a slugfest won by Terry Cox. Seeders was the losing hurler. Donnie Rice hit a pair of homers for the winners and Wally Harper added another circuit blow. The score:

Red Sox	151 230—10	14 1

Malone and Davy, Rawnsley and Morgan. HR—Morgan (Cards); Miller (Red Sox).

All-Star Ticket Sales Gives Baltimore Headache

Man Threatens To Sue For Rejection

BALTIMORE (AP) — Baseball fans seeking to buy tickets to the All-Star game on July 8 are giving the Baltimore Orioles fits.

One lawyer-fan is threatening to sue the Orioles for fraud.

A lot of fans claimed they lived up to the letter of the rules set by the Orioles to buy tickets and now are being told, "So sorry."

The Orioles, as hosts to the silver anniversary of the game, announced they had about 20,000 tickets up for grabs. Applications had to be mailed on June 5—not one minute earlier—to be acceptable.

The Baltimore Postmaster, William Laukaitis, lent a helping hand. He set up two special All-Star collection boxes in the downtown post office and eight others around the city.

Postman Took Letters

"I reached the post office about midnight," said Matt Smith today. "A postman was taking the letters out of one of the boxes and he added mine to the lot.

"I also mailed a request for two tickets for my mother.

"These letters were mailed as soon as they could be accepted. "Yet my mother and I both got notes from the Orioles sending back our checks and regretting that the applications had been received too late."

Smith's was one of many typical complaints from recipients of rejection slips.

"I can't believe 20,000 tickets were sold when my application was mailed" was their theme.

The Orioles maintained they had no way of knowing the exact minute that each letter was mailed. They received the applications in lump deliveries from the post office.

Postmaster Laukaitis said those from the two special boxes in the central office all were postmarked at 12:30 a.m. Those from the others were timed between 1 a.m. and 3 a.m.

Five Times Too Many

The Orioles said the applications totalled five times as many as there were tickets available.

Memorial Stadium will seat 49,329 for the All-Star game.

They were distributed this way: 20,285 to Oriole season ticket holders, 6,748 to major and minor league officials and players, and 16,173 to the mail applicants.

Another 6,123 are still to be sold. They're behind poles and in the bleachers.

That's all there is and there'll be no more, bemoans Elmer Burkhart, the Oriole ticket manager.

"I know that with something like this you make 10 enemies for every friend."

Women's Open Starts Today At Detroit

Field Of 57 Enters Biggest Tournament

DETROIT (AP) — The biggest women's golf tournament — the U.S. Women's Open — starts here Thursday and no one is picking a favorite.

A field of 57 including 29 professionals, will tee off at the Forest Lake Country Club.

Patty Berg, the all-time money winner on the ladies' circuit, is always one of the top choices. She officialy is credited with more than $112,000 in winnings since the LPGA started keeping records 10 years ago. She topped the ladies again last year in earnings with $16,272.

Miss Berg has scored two seconds, two thirds, a pair of fourths and a seventh in seven winter tour tournaments this year and none of her rivals has approached her steadiness.

She finished second in the women's classic last year when Hawaiian Jackie Pung was disqualified for attesting to an improper score.

After Miss Pung was ruled out, Betsy Rawls of Spartanburg, S. C., became the winner.

Also rated among the early choices is long-hitting Faye Crocker of Montevideo, Uruguay. The confident Miss Crocker won the Open crown in 1955, her second year as a professional.

"I did it once," said Miss Crocker, "and I can do it again. I'm a better player now than I was then. I have more experience and experience counts a lot in a tournament like this."

Petite Marlene Hagge, the leading money winner two years ago, apparently has regained that sensational form. In her last six tournament starts she has scored one victory and twice finished second.

The Forest Hills course will play at either 6,240 or 6,250 yards for the ladies, depending upon tee placements. Par will be 37-36—73.

Von McDaniel Has Muscle Tear

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Bonus pitcher Von McDaniel has a muscle tear in his right shoulder, but St. Louis Cardinal club physician Dr. I. C. Middleman said Wednesday the tear isn't serious and should heal in a day or two.

The 19-year-old Oklahoman will stay in St. Louis and work out with the Cardinals next Monday when they return to the city, then return to the Class B Winston-Salem club.

The Red Bird physician said the tear had no effect on McDaniel's pitching. The younger of the two $50,000 McDaniel bonus pitchers was optioned from Houston to Winston-Salem earlier this month. His brother, Lindy, 22, is with the Cardinals. Von started sensationally in the majors last season but had control troubles this spring.

Ex-Footballers Enter Golf Final

John Rokisky defeated L. W. Brown, 2 up, in a semi-final first flight match in the men's spring handicap golf tournament at the Cumberland Country Club yesterday.

Rokisky, an ex-professional football player will meet another former pro gridder in John Wilson in the finals of the first flight.

M'Kay Wimbledon Victor Despite Blistered Hand

Rain Hampers Play; Mrs. Knode Beaten

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—Barry MacKay patched up his blistered racket hand with adhesive tape Wednesday and kept pace with the other seeded players to keep alive America's chances for the men's title in the Wimbledon Tennis Championships.

Althea Gibson, the defending champion in the women's division, was idle but third-seeded Mrs. Dorothy Head Knode, also a New Yorker, was upset in a second-round match.

Gusty winds and light showers handicapped play and a heavy rain late in the day forced the officials to call off play with 13 matches still unplayed and 10 others unfinished.

Mike Green Advances

Mike Green, Miami Beach, Fla. was the other American man to survive Wednesday's second-round play. Five others didn't finish their day's work and four were eliminated. Those who were beaten included Bill Quillian of Seattle, Jack Frost of Monterey, Calif., Malcolm Fox of Baltimore and Earl Buchholz of St. Louis.

Mrs. Margaret duPont of Wilmington, Del., the 1947 Wimbledon champion, breezed through Britain's J. A. Fulton 6-1, 6-0 to advance to the second round that Miss Gibson and several others reached Wednesday. Margaret Varner of El Paso, Tex., the world's No. 2 badminton player, fell before Britain's Ann Haydon 6-3, 1-6, 6-2.

Plays In Gale

MacKay, the 22-year-old from Dayton, Ohio ventured into near gale winds to whip Britain's Eric Bulmer 6-1, 9-7, 6-2.

Top-seeded Ashley Cooper of Australia, nearing complete recovery from a pulled thigh muscle, defeated Franz Saiko of Austria, 6-3, 6-4, 6-1. Second-seeded Mal Anderson, another Australian, eliminated Spain's Andres Gimeno 6-4, 6-4, 6-4.

Australia's Mervyn Rose, seeded No. 3, let Frost get far ahead in each set before pulling him back and finally beating him 6-4, 10-8, 6-4.

Mrs. Knode was the first seeded player to take a beating. She lost important matches to the British in the Wightman Cup competition two weeks ago and Wednesday she lost to Christine Mercelis of Belgium 6-3, 7-5.

Has Little Trouble

Green had little trouble beating Australia's Bert Kearney 7-5, 6-1, 6-4 with his varied game. The young Floridian appeared to tire a bit in the third set but still was superior to the Aussie.

The other Americans were not so fortunate. Quillian bowed to Britain's M. P. Hann 11-9, 1-6, 6-3, 6-4.

Buchholz met fifth-seeded Luis Ayala of Chile and was eliminated 6-4, 8-6, 8-6. Fox was whipped by Don Candy of Australia 6-4, 10-8, 6-4.

Denmark's powerful Kurt Nielsen, seeded No. 6, downed Britain's G. L. Ward 6-8, 6-4, 6-4, 8-10, 6-2.

Seventh-seeded Sven Davidson of Sweden brushed past Francisco Contreras of Mexico 6-2, 10-8, 8-6.

Maria Bueno of Brazil, seeded fourth among the women, breezed past Renee Schuurman of South Africa 6-0, 6-2.

St. Louis Cards Defeat Pirates, 3-1; Phillies Top Cubs

Shoddy Play Beats Bucs 5th In Row

Mizell Tosses 3-Hit Game; Rookie Witt Is Losing Hurler

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Capitalizing on shoddy Pittsburgh defensive play, the St. Louis Cardinals came from behind Wednesday night to whip the Pirates 3-1 behind the steady three-hit pitching of Vinegar Bend Mizell.

It was the Cardinals' fifth consecutive win and third in a row over the Pirates, who now have dropped five straight. The victory kept St. Louis in second place in the National League.

St. Louis scored all of its runs in the sixth inning, combining singles by Curt Flood, Hal Smith and Don Blasingame, two stolen bases and a walk with a passed ball by catcher Bill Hall and errors by Roberto Clemente and Hall.

Mizell, earning his fifth victory against six defeats, gave up singles to Ted Kluszewski in the first and eighth innings and a single to Dick Schofield in the seventh.

Phillies Edge Cubs In 10th

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Chico Fernandez' two-out triple in the 10th inning scored Harry Anderson Wednesday night to give the Philadelphia Phillies a 5-4 victory over the Chicago Cubs. It was Fernandez' second triple of the game.

Fernandez' belt to left ended scoring frustrations for the Phils who had seen threats in the seventh and ninth innings snuffed out by Don Elston, the third Cub hurler who relieved Glen Hobbie in the seventh.

The victory went to Dick Farrell, who relieved starter Ray Semproch in the seventh.

Giants Whip Braves, 10 To 2

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The San Francisco Giants seized on a double error by the Braves, and with Ray Jablonski and Orlando Cepeda supplying key hits, shoved over five runs in the sixth inning Wednesday night to sweep to a 10-2 victory over National League-leading Milwaukee.

With the victory the third-place Giants salvaged the finale of a three-game series with the defending champion Braves, whose lead was trimmed to 2½ games over the second-place Cardinals and the Giants who trail St. Louis by .002 percentage points. The Giants came to town in second place and only a game and a half behind Milwaukee.

George Harris Hurls No-Hit, No-Run Game

Caseys Defeat Sport Shoppe 3-0

George Harris hurled the first no-run, no-hit game in the City Softball League yesterday when he blanked the Sport Shoppe without a bingle as the Knights of Columbus chalked up a 3-0 triumph.

The Caseys literally "stole" the game from the Sports Shoppe and pitcher Rich Smith who suffered his second loss in the game at East Side field.

Brindle Long opened the game by getting aboard when he was hit with a pitch. He then stole second, third and home to give the Knights their first run.

In the third inning back-to-back singles by Denny Shuck and Ricky Harris put Shuck on third. Shuck then stole home for the second run for the winners.

Harris, in chalking up his second win of the year, faced only 25 men in the seven-inning game. He walked two and Long made two errors behind him at second base. No Sport Shoppe runner got beyond second base in the masterpiece.

In another City League tilt the Hermans avenged an earlier loss to Chaney's Transportation by turning back Chaney's, 11-2, at Post field.

Hayden Phillips picked up his second victory against three losses for the Hermans, allowing seven hits, three of which were obtained by Galen McGregor.

Paul Lease had a double and single; Ref Moreland a pair of singles; Phillips two singles and Gene Basilio a two-bagger for the Hermans who won their second game.

Homewood Tavern Wins 2nd Game

Homewood Tavern overcame a three-run deficit to chalk up its second victory of the County Softball League campaign with a 4-3 triumph over Kennell's Mill.

Gary Hite allowed seven hits, blanking the losers over the last four innings. Jay Turner's double in the fifth inning scored the winning run for Homewood Tavern.

Hite and Perdue had two hits apiece for the winners. Paul Stair, who had beaten the Tavern tossers previously, lost his third game. He collected a triple and single at bat for Kennell's Mill. Kreigline also had a three-bagger for the losers. The score:

Jaycees Win Third In Row

The Jaycees parlayed a big six-run third inning, highlighted by pitcher Larry McKay's three-run homer, into an 8-6 triumph over the Elks last night at Penn Avenue field in the Hot Stove Baseball League.

The arc contest victory was the third in a row for the Jaycees who dropped their opening contest to the Bedford Road Optimists June 10 and have chalked up wins over Rotary Club, B'nai B'rith and the Elks.

The win also enabled the Jaycees to tie the Cumberland Optimists for the lead in the Hot Stove circuit with 3-1 marks.

Rice paced the seven-hit Elks attack with three hits including a home run. The score:

Calhoun Victor Over Bob Boyd

CHICAGO (AP)—Rory Calhoun, No. 7 middleweight contender, scored two knockdowns and outlasted a furious finish by Bobby Boyd for a unanimous decision in a nationally televised bout in the Chicago Stadium Wednesday night.

Calhoun, who knocked out Boyd in two rounds in New York last Nov. 22, dropped Boyd in the second and ninth but had his hands full all the way Wednesday night.

Referee Walter Brightmore called it for Calhoun 48-42 under the Illinois five-point must-scoring system. Judge Jim McManus voted for Calhoun 47-43 and Judge John Bray had Calhoun winning 45-44. The AP card had it for Calhoun 46-42.

Calhoun weighed 164 and Boyd 163.

St. Louis Cards Defeat Pirates, 3-1; Phillies Top Cubs

Shoddy Play Beats Bucs 5th In Row

Mizell Tosses 3-Hit Game; Rookie Witt Is Losing Hurler

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Capitalizing on shoddy Pittsburgh defensive play, the St. Louis Cardinals came from behind Wednesday night to whip the Pirates 3-1 behind the steady three-hit pitching of Vinegar Bend Mizell.

It was the Cardinals' fifth consecutive win and third in a row over the Pirates, who now have dropped five straight. The victory kept St. Louis in second place in the National League.

St. Louis scored all of its runs in the sixth inning, combining singles by Curt Flood, Hal Smith and Don Blasingame, two stolen bases and a walk with a passed ball by catcher Bill Hall and errors by Roberto Clemente and Hall.

Mizell, earning his fifth victory against six defeats, gave up singles to Ted Kluszewski in the first and eighth innings and a single to Dick Schofield in the seventh.

Jaycees Win Third In Row

The Jaycees parlayed a big six-run third inning, highlighted by pitcher Larry McKay's three-run homer, into an 8-6 triumph over the Elks last night at Penn Avenue field in the Hot Stove Baseball League.

The arc contest victory was the third in a row for the Jaycees who dropped their opening contest to the Bedford Road Optimists June 10 and have chalked up wins over Rotary Club, B'nai B'rith and the Elks.

The win also enabled the Jaycees to tie the Cumberland Optimists for the lead in the Hot Stove circuit with 3-1 marks.

Rice paced the seven-hit Elks attack with three hits including a home run. The score:

Promised Lands Grabs Feature

BOSTON (AP) — Promised Land, a game gray colt who enjoys distance tests, staged another of his patented stretch drives in pulling away to an easy victory Wednesday in the 24th running of the $56,700 Massachusetts Handicap at Suffolk Downs.

Backed down to a 4-5 favorite by the crowd of 22,282, Promised Land proved the class of the field of six in the mile and a quarter test for 3-year-olds and up.

Jockey Peter Anderson piloted Promised Land to the front with an eighth of a mile to go and the 4-year-old colt hit the finish line a length and a half in front of Cain Hoy Stable's One-Eyed King. Mrs. Adele L. Rand's Clem wound up another length back.

Promised Land was clocked in 2:01 4-5, just four-fifths of a second off the track record set by Helioscope in winning the Mass. 'Cap three years ago. His victory rewarded owner Mrs. Ethel D. Jacobs top money of $36,855.

Calhoun Victor Over Bob Boyd

CHICAGO (AP)—Rory Calhoun, No. 7 middleweight contender, scored two knockdowns and outlasted a furious finish by Bobby Boyd for a unanimous decision in a nationally televised bout in the Chicago Stadium Wednesday night.

Calhoun, who knocked out Boyd in two rounds in New York last Nov. 22, dropped Boyd in the second and ninth but had his hands full all the way Wednesday night.

Referee Walter Brightmore called it for Calhoun 48-42 under the Illinois five-point must-scoring system. Judge Jim McManus voted for Calhoun 47-43 and Judge John Bray had Calhoun winning 45-44. The AP card had it for Calhoun 46-42.

Calhoun weighed 164 and Boyd 163.

Game Is Scheduled

Zihlman will meet Midland at the latter's park Friday at 5:30 p. m. in a make-up of a previously postponed Twilight Baseball League game.

Local 26 Beats Keech's, 7 To 3

Don Decker racked up his fourth pitching victory without a defeat in the Rec Softball League yesterday, defeating Keech's Drug Store, 7-3, at Naval Armory field.

The winners banged over five runs in the first inning and then coasted behind Decker's five-hit pitching. Ed Barley with a double and two singles and Bob Dickle with a double and single led the Local 26 attack at the plate.

Bold Ruler Cops Stymie At Belmont

Toys With Rivals, Wins By 5 Lengths

NEW YORK (AP)—Bold Ruler and Eddie Arcaro toyed with six rivals in the $28,000 Stymie Handicap at Belmont Park Wednesday, winning by five lengths.

Bold Ruler carried 133 pounds, conceding from 20 to 25 pounds to his badly beaten opponents. It was the third victory in four starts this season for the 1957 horse of the year.

The colt, owned by the Wheatley Stable of Mrs. Henry Carnegie Phipps, is pointing for the $75,000-added Suburban Handicap here July 4.

Admiral Vee, with 112 pounds, finished second, three-quarters of a length ahead of Pop Corn. The show horse carried 108 pounds. Pop Corn had a length and a quarter on Ben Lomond, who had 109 pounds.

Third Brother (112) was fifth followed by Inside Tract (112) and Oh Johnny (113) in the mile and and an eighth gallop.

Monday Fights Continue On TV

NEW YORK (AP) — Promoter Teddy Brenner Wednesday was authorized by the New York Athletic Commission to continue Monday night televised fights from St. Nicholas Arena through Aug. 4.

Brenner will operate at a reduced fee of $3,500 for the TV rights.

Sindon Captures The Irish Derby

THE CURRAGH, Ireland (AP) —Sindon, an American-owned colt who never had won a race, Wednesday captured the Irish Derby by a head over favored Paddy's Point.

Sindon, owned by Ann Bullitt Biddle of Philadelphia, barely fought off Paddy Point's challenge in the stretch.

Paddy's point, second in the English Derby, came on in the stretch like a Silky Sullivan to make up a dozen lengths in the mud on the front-running Sindon. Royal Highway finished third in the mile and a half classic.

Senate Shows Disfavor For Antitrust Bill

Measure To Exempt Sports Passed House

WASHINGTON (AP) — Comments of key senators indicated Wednesday the odds are against Senate action this year on a House-passed bill to exempt major professional team sports from the antitrust laws.

Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn), chairman of the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee, said he was "personally disinclined toward a complete exemption" such as the House voted Tuesday.

"In any event," he told a reporter, "it would be necessary to have extensive hearings as the Justice Department and the Federal Trade Commission have not expressed themselves" on the legislation in the form it passed the House.

Not Familiar

Two other subcommittee members, Sens. Joseph C. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) and Alexander Wiley (R-Wis), said in separate interviews they are not sufficiently familiar with the measure to take a stand on it.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill), another subcommittee member, said he thought the House bill was acceptable. He added, however, it would be necessary to have hearings.

Practices governing the operation of professional football, baseball, hockey and basketball teams would be exempt from antitrust laws under the House bill, passed by voice vote.

The exemption would not apply, however, to such strictly business activities of club owners as the sale of tickets and concessions for the sale of food and drink.

The legislation is an outgrowth of Supreme Court rulings that organized pro baseball is exempt from antitrust laws but that other professional team sports are not.

Offered By Walter

The bill passed by the House was offered by Rep. Francis E. Walter (D-Pa) as a substitute for a measure of Rep. Emanuel Celler (D-NY) which would have limited the exemption to practices deemed "reasonably necessary" to continuation of the sports.

Celler's bill had been approved by the House Judiciary Committee, but club owners backed the substitute measure adopted by the house.

Kefauver said he was inclined "more toward the Celler bill approach rather than complete exemption" from the antitrust laws.

He said that in the next day or two he would call a meeting of the subcommittee or check with the members individually to find out "what course they wish to pursue."

Brown And Lane Sign For Bout

HOUSTON (AP) — Lightweight Champion Joe Brown and Kenny Lane the No. 1 challenger from Muskegon, Mich., Wednesday signed contracts for a 15-round title fight in Houston on July 23.

Brown, 32, was not present for the official announcement, but the 26-year-old Lane was jubilant as his manager, Jack Kearns, signed the contract with Lou Viscusi, the champion's manager.

Rookie-Studded League Opens

Appalachian Loop Has Bonus Players

PULASKI, Va. (AP) — The all-rookie Appalachian League opened for business Wednesday night with signs that this will be a better year for the Class D. Southwest Virginia loop.

The opening card found Salem at Pulaski and Wytheville at Johnson City, Tenn. Salem plays its first home game against Johnson City on Friday, while Bluefield goes to Wytheville the same night. Bluefield's first home assignment is against Salem on Sunday.

With the new bonus rule in effect, the league will be packed with youngsters who drew a fat check for signing with the five parent major league teams. Last year the circuit didn't have a single player who got more than $4,000 for signing.

Of these newcomers, the highest paid will be righthander John Papa of Bluefield, an 18-year-old who hails from Stamford, Conn. reportedly, Papa received between $55,000 and $60,000 for signing with the Baltimore Orioles.

Lions Cop Sixth In Frostburg Loop

The Lions captured their sixth victory in seven games in the Frostburg Little League with a 10-1 triumph over the Republican Club yesterday on the Frostburg diamond.

The league-leading Lions bounced back from the only defeat to the Orioles on Monday to bang out 14 hits. Powell was the winning hurler, his third victory of the year.

Tom Wilson had two doubles and a single and Ace Carter a home run and double for the winners. Laslo and Lashbaugh shared the Republican Club's two hits. Muir was the losing hurler, although striking out 12. The score:

Lions	302	140	10	14	1

Powell, Harper (4) and Wilson. Muir, Kelly (6) and Stakem. WP—Powell. LP—Muir. HR—Carter (Lions).

Bold Ruler Cops Stymie At Belmont

Toys With Rivals, Wins By 5 Lengths

NEW YORK (AP)—Bold Ruler and Eddie Arcaro toyed with six rivals in the $28,000 Stymie Handicap at Belmont Park Wednesday, winning by five lengths.

Bold Ruler carried 133 pounds, conceding from 20 to 25 pounds to his badly beaten opponents. It was the third victory in four starts this season for the 1957 horse of the year.

The colt, owned by the Wheatley Stable of Mrs. Henry Carnegie Phipps, is pointing for the $75,000-added Suburban Handicap here July 4.

Admiral Vee, with 112 pounds, finished second, three-quarters of a length ahead of Pop Corn. The show horse carried 108 pounds. Pop Corn had a length and a quarter on Ben Lomond, who had 109 pounds.

Third Brother (112) was fifth followed by Inside Tract (112) and Oh Johnny (113) in the mile and and an eighth gallop.

Monday Fights Continue On TV

NEW YORK (AP) — Promoter Teddy Brenner Wednesday was authorized by the New York Athletic Commission to continue Monday night televised fights from St. Nicholas Arena through Aug. 4.

Sindon Captures The Irish Derby

THE CURRAGH, Ireland (AP)—Sindon, an American-owned colt who never had won a race, Wednesday captured the Irish Derby by a head over favored Paddy's Point.

Sindon, owned by Ann Bullitt Biddle of Philadelphia, barely fought off Paddy Point's challenge in the stretch.

Paddy's point, second in the English Derby, came on in the stretch like a Silky Sullivan to make up a dozen lengths in the mud on the front-running Sindon. Royal Highway finished third in the mile and a half classic.

Senate Shows Disfavor For Antitrust Bill

Measure To Exempt Sports Passed House

WASHINGTON (AP) — Comments of key senators indicated Wednesday the odds are against Senate action this year on a House-passed bill to exempt major professional team sports from the antitrust laws.

Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn), chairman of the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee, said he was "personally disinclined toward a complete exemption" such as the House voted Tuesday.

"In any event," he told a reporter, "it would be necessary to have extensive hearings as the Justice Department and the Federal Trade Commission have not expressed themselves" on the legislation in the form it passed the House.

Not Familiar

Two other subcommittee members, Sens. Joseph C. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) and Alexander Wiley (R-Wis), said in separate interviews they are not sufficiently familiar with the measure to take a stand on it.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill), another subcommittee member, said he thought the House bill was acceptable. He added, however, it would be necessary to have hearings.

Practices governing the operation of professional football, baseball, hockey and basketball teams would be exempt from antitrust laws under the House bill, passed by voice vote.

The exemption would not apply, however, to such strictly business activities of club owners as the sale of tickets and concessions for the sale of food and drink.

The legislation is an outgrowth of Supreme Court rulings that organized pro baseball is exempt from antitrust laws but that other professional team sports are not.

Offered By Walter

The bill passed by the House was offered by Rep. Francis E. Walter (D-Pa) as a substitute for a measure of Rep. Emanuel Cellar (D-NY) which would have limited the exemption to practices deemed "reasonably necessary" to continuation of the sports.

Celler's bill had been approved by the House Judiciary Committee, but club owners backed the substitute measure adopted by the house.

Kefauver said he was inclined "more toward the Celler bill approach rather than complete exemption" from the antitrust laws.

He said that in the next day or two he would call a meeting of the subcommittee or check with the members individually to find out "what course they wish to pursue."

Brown And Lane Sign For Bout

HOUSTON (AP) — Lightweight Champion Joe Brown and Kenny Lane the No. 1 challenger from Muskegon, Mich., Wednesday signed contracts for a 15-round title fight in Houston on July 23.

Brown, 32, was not present for the official announcement, but the 26-year-old Lane was jubilant as his manager, Jack Kearns, signed the contract with Lou Viscusi, the champion's manager.

Rookie-Studded League Opens

Appalachian Loop Has Bonus Players

PULASKI, Va. (AP) — The all-rookie Appalachian League opened for business Wednesday night with signs that this will be a better year for the Class D. Southwest Virginia loop.

The opening card found Salem at Pulaski and Wytheville at Johnson City, Tenn. Salem plays its first home game against Johnson City on Friday, while Bluefield goes to Wytheville the same night. Bluefield's first home assignment is against Salem on Sunday.

With the new bonus rule in effect, the league will be packed with youngsters who drew a fat check for signing with the five parent major league teams. Last year the circuit didn't have a single player who got more than $4,000 for signing.

Of these newcomers, the highest paid will be righthander John Papa of Bluefield, an 18-year-old who hails from Stamford, Conn. reportedly, Papa received between $55,000 and $60,000 for signing with the Baltimore Orioles.

Lions Cop Sixth In Frostburg Loop

The Lions captured their sixth victory in seven games in the Frostburg Little League with a 10-1 triumph over the Republican Club yesterday on the Frostburg diamond.

The league-leading Lions bounced back from the only defeat to the Orioles on Monday to bang out 14 hits. Powell was the winning hurler, his third victory of the year.

Tom Wilson had two doubles and a single and Ace Carter a home run and double for the winners. Laslo and Lashbaugh shared the Republican Club's two hits. Muir was the losing hurler, although striking out 12. The score:

Lions	302	140	10	14	1

Powell, Harper (4) and Wilson. Muir, Kelly (6) and Stakem. WP—Powell. LP—Muir. HR—Carter (Lions).

Westward Ho Wins Feature At Delaware

Foul Decides First Of Montchain Series

STANTON, Del., June 25 (AP) — The Chasann Stable's Westward Ho, thanks to the disqualification of Liz Tree Stable's Necromancer, today won the first of Delaware Park's Montchain Handicap series before 11,309.

In a finish almost close enough for a dead heat, Necromancer completed the one-mile journey with the tip of his nose in front of Westward Ho—only to be disqualified and placed fourth. The stewards' action, after viewing the film patrol movies, moved Wayne Kendrick's King Challa up to second position and David G. Neuman's Boycotter to third.

Boycotter's rider, John Choquette, claimed foul against both the first and second finishers. Boycotter held a wide lead most of the trip and appeared to be caught and pinched back between Necromancer and Westward Ho early in the stretch drive.

The time of 1:37 4/5 was only three-fifths of a second slower than Fiery Torch's track record, set two years ago.

Westward Ho, giving jockey Nick Shuk adouble, paid $9.20, $5.80 and $4.20. King Challa returned $8.40 and $5, and Boycotter, $4.40.

Boycotter rushed to the front and soon had a lead of several lengths over Westward Ho, with Ted's Joy and Necromancer not far away. Leaving the backstretch, Necromancer spurted alongside Westward Ho and that pair ranged up with Boycotter upon turning for home. It was nip and tuck every stride between Westward Ho and Necromancer through the last sixteenth of a mile as King Challa rallied, three lengths off the leaders and a scant neck before Boycotter.

The Montchain series, offered annually at Delaware Park in the interests of distance racing, consists of five races run on Wednesdays with the purse and distance increased each week.

Hunt Changes Coaching Posts

RICHWOOD, W. Va. (AP) — Ken Hunt, head athletic coach at Richwood High School, announced Wednesday that he has accepted a coaching position at Central Junior High in Bluefield.

Hunt, 52, has been sports head of the Lumberjacks the past 12 years. His football teams have won 80 games and lost 34 during that period, while playing six ties. In basketball, Richwood won 201 games and lost 71 under Hunt.

Hunt's 1953 grid team was undefeated in 10 games. He was an assistant coach for 13 years to Jerome Van Meter at Beckley before coming here.

ATOMIC RESEARCH CREATES A NEW KIND OF GASOLINE!

How the science of atoms solved a problem:

One of the most important applications of industrial atomic research to date is the creation of a completely new premium gasoline, New Formula Esso Extra. For the first time, atomic science was used to identify the elements in gasoline which form injurious deposits in your engine. Next, brand-new refining procedures were used which remove these components during the refining process. This made possible an entirely new kind of premium gasoline—another first from Esso Research!*

How this benefits your car—your pocketbook:

Under all around driving conditions, you'll find New Formula Esso Extra outperforms other premiums costing 1¢ and 2¢ more per gallon! It is the cleanest premium you can buy. It actually reduces deposits left in your engine, gives more mileage per dollar, and better performance over the whole wide range of gasoline values. We believe that New Formula Esso Extra will change your ideas about premium gasoline performance. Try it soon for "Happy Motoring"!

Westward Ho Wins Feature At Delaware

Foul Decides First Of Montchain Series

STANTON, Del., June 25 (AP) — The Chasann Stable's Westward Ho, thanks to the disqualification of Liz Tree Stable's Necromancer, today won the first of Delaware Park's Montchain Handicap series before 11,309.

In a finish almost close enough for a dead heat, Necromancer completed the one-mile journey with the tip of his nose in front of Westward Ho—only to be disqualified and placed fourth. The stewards' action, after viewing the film patrol movies, moved Wayne Kendrick's King Challa up to second position and David G. Neuman's Boycotter to third.

Boycotter's rider, John Choquette, claimed foul against both the first and second finishers. Boycotter held a wide lead most of the trip and appeared to be caught and pinched back between Necromancer and Westward Ho early in the stretch drive.

The time of 1:37 4/5 was only three-fifths of a second slower than Fiery Torch's track record, set two years ago.

Westward Ho, giving jockey Nick Shuk adouble, paid $9.20, $5.80 and $4.20. King Challa returned $8.40 and $5, and Boycotter, $4.40.

Boycotter rushed to the front and soon had a lead of several lengths over Westward Ho, with Ted's Joy and Necromancer not far away. Leaving the backstretch, Necromancer spurted alongside Westward Ho and that pair ranged up with Boycotter upon turning for home. It was nip and tuck every stride between Westward Ho and Necromancer through the last sixteenth of a mile as King Challa rallied, three lengths off the leaders and a scant neck before Boycotter.

Bicycle Registrations Begin At Frostburg

The above scene at Frostburg was duplicated many times during the past week as children from the community brought their bicycles to the city hall for registration and to secure licenses for the coming year. Standing in the doorway is Leslie Bevan, who inspected the vehicles while Lloyd Truly, chief of police, at the right issued the license to the children. Chief Truly said 83 bicycle licenses were issued during the past two days at the city hall. Each bicycle was checked for brakes, horns, lights and fenders. The chief pointed out that this number registered is only a small part of the total number in Frostburg and that each bicycle should be registered so that a record of it will be available in case it were stolen. The inspection, he said, also makes the children more conscious of safety which is a very important thing to remember when riding on busy streets. Registration will be continued today and Friday from 10 a. m. until 3 p. m.

Hospital Unit Hears Talk By Dr. Leighton

OAKLAND—The auxiliary of the Memorial Hospital of Garrett County, at a recent meeting in the hospital board room, heard a talk by Dr. Herbert H. Leighton on "Out Patient Service."

Henry McComas, hospital administrator also spoke and thanked the auxiliary for its contributions of more than $1,100 in the 20 months he has been here. He asked them to consider the purchase of a gastro evacuator at a cost of $150 and the women voted to buy the equipment.

It was reported that the auxiliary has $696.62 in its treasury.

Mrs. W. W. DeWitt, president was in charge and Mrs. Edward Kahl, vice president introduced the guest speaker.

The auxiliary decided to omit the regular July meeting. The next session will be in the board room, August 21 at 7:30 p. m.

Market Rises After Two Days Of Lower Prices

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market returned to the upside Wednesday with a moderate advance. Trading was the liveliest in a week.

The market rose after two days of somewhat lower prices. The upturn was irregular. There were casualties among recent favorites.

Gains of fractions to about a point were the rule among key stocks. Wider gains or losses were established by secondary issues.

Prices were irregular in the morning but gathered strength in the afternoon. Late profit taking trimmed some of the best gains and brought minus signs to a number of issues that were well ahead previously.

Most of Wednesday's favorites were not in the blue chip class, showing a rotation of interest from the traditional leaders. Steels, however, did fairly well, bolstered by U.S. Steel's decision to go ahead with a record, billion-dollar program of capital expenditures.

Rails appeared to take heart from word that the bill aimed to give the carriers financial aid had been cleared for floor action in the House. A forecast of improving freight carloadings in the third quarter was also helpful.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose 60 cents to $172.70 with the industrials up 60 cents, the rails up 80 cents and the utilities up 30 cents.

Of 1,152 issues traded, gainers outnumbered losers by 534 to 353. New high for the year totaled 59 and new lows 7.

Mt. Savage Pair Marks Silver Wedding

MT. SAVAGE—Mr. and Mrs. George Markwood, Main Street, recently observed their 25th wedding anniversary at a party given by their daughters at their home. The hostesses were Mrs. Sherman (Jean) Black, and Miss Faye Markwood, both of Mt. Savage.

The serving table was centered with a three-tiered anniversary cake, adorned with white swans and topped with a rose covered heart. Mrs. Markwood was presented with a pink rosebud corsage by the daughters and they gave their father a pink carnation.

Mr. and Mrs. Markwood were married in the Mt. Savage Methodist Church parsonage on June 17, 1933, and have been active members of the church for more than a quarter century. They were residents of Wellersburg, Pa., early in their marriage, but have spent many years in Mt. Savage. Mr. Markwood is associated with the Mt. Savage Bus Line.

Also present at the anniversary party were Mr. and Mrs. John Sherry, LaVale; Mr. and Mrs. Willis Black, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Smith, Mrs. Frances Rizer and Clark LeMasters, all of Wellersburg; Mrs. Gilbert Bolt, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lee Sr., and Roy Lee Jr., Sherman Black and Vicki Lynn Black, all of Mt. Savage.

Mt. Savage Pair Marks Silver Wedding

MT. SAVAGE—Mr. and Mrs. George Markwood, Main Street, recently observed their 25th wedding anniversary at a party given by their daughters at their home. The hostesses were Mrs. Sherman (Jean) Black, and Miss Faye Markwood, both of Mt. Savage.

The serving table was centered with a three-tiered anniversary cake, adorned with white swans and topped with a rose covered heart. Mrs. Markwood was presented with a pink rosebud corsage by the daughters and they gave their father a pink carnation.

Mr. and Mrs. Markwood were married in the Mt. Savage Methodist Church parsonage on June 17, 1933, and have been active members of the church for more than a quarter century. They were residents of Wellersburg, Pa., early in their marriage, but have spent many years in Mt. Savage. Mr. Markwood is associated with the Mt. Savage Bus Line.

Also present at the anniversary party were Mr. and Mrs. John Sherry, LaVale; Mr. and Mrs. Willis Black, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Smith, Mrs. Frances Rizer and Clark LeMasters, all of Wellersburg; Mrs. Gilbert Bolt, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lee Sr., and Roy Lee Jr., Sherman Black and Vicki Lynn Black, all of Mt. Savage.

Help Put Library Fund Over Top

The Rotary Fund for the Frostburg Library was put over the top by the proceeds from the dance held last Friday at the Clary Club. Many individuals and businesses donated their services for the affair with music being provided by the Peter Lukas Orchestra by courtesy of the Music Performance Trust Funds of the Recording and Transcription Industries and AFM Local 787. The Lions Club of Frostburg also aided the drive through their pledge of $500. In the picture are members of the club who piloted the dance. They are (left to right): Walter Jeffries, Harry Ort, Peter Lukas, J. Glenn Beall Jr., and H. Reford Aldridge. These and many other local people have worked on the campaign.

Garrett School Board Lists Promotions

Dr. Calandrella Is President

OAKLAND—Dr. Ralph Calandrella of Kitzmiller has been elected president of the Garrett County School Board, with Maurice Brookhart, vice president and George Edwards, associate member.

The board met recently and approved a number of appointments and transfers for the school term beginning in September.

Francis E. Harris is to be transferred from the principalship at Loch Lynn to become principal at the Route 40 School.

Miss Rachel Hughes and Mrs. Elizabeth Workman are changed to Route 40 School from Grantsville.

Mrs. Thelma Hanlin is promoted to principal of Loch Lynn School.

Mrs. Mary Riggs is transferred from North Glade School to Loch Lynn School.

Ralph Buckel is transferred as principal of Bittinger to principal at North Glade.

John Keister is appointed instructor of English and Social Studies at Northern High School.

Wayne Johnson is appointed English and Social Studies teacher at Southern High School.

The board also took action to reduce the Bittinger School to a one-room school for primary children only. Parents of the other children at Bittinger will be given the choice of sending their youngsters to either Accident, Grantsville or North Glade. Parents with children in the primary grades may also elect to send their young children along with the older ones in the upper grades to Grantsville, Accident or North Glade if they wish.

Among resignations of teachers accepted by the board are, Mrs. Kathleen Layman from Route 40 School; Miss Ethel Hesser from the Accident School; Miss Josephine King from the Center Street School, and Miss June Mowbray and Lloyd Winters from the Grantsville School.

The board made an inspection trip to the Annex Building and to the Swan Meadow school and reported both projects progressing nicely. The board hopes the annex job will be completed in June, to house the Board of Education offices.

The board also reviewed proposed plans for a band room at Southern High School. Bids are being sought on this project.

Welding School Set For Friday At Keyser Shop

Classes Open To Area Adults

KEYSER—A welding school for adults will be held Friday, in the Keyser Vo-Ag Shop. The school will be conducted one night a week for five consecutive nights. It is primarily for beginners and others wishing to improve their welding skill. Lawrence Fout, Keyser High School Vo-Ag instructor, will teach welding in various positions, on different kinds of metals, welding cast iron, hard-surfacing and soldering, and cutting and brazing with an arc welder.

All who attend the course of five Fridays will receive a certified diploma. A nominal fee will be charged for the course.

The course is based on instructions developed by the Lincoln Electric Company, which makes arc welding equipment and has been conducting welding schools since 1917. The Wilson Welding Supply Company will sponsor and supervise the course.

All who are interested in learning to weld are asked to attend the first meeting Friday at 7:30 p.m. Advance registration may be made by calling Keyser 20077. Enrollment will be limited.

Frostburg Library Fund Campaign Reaches Quota

FROSTBURG — Peter Lukas, chairman of the special library committee of the Frostburg Rotary Club, reported that the drive to raise $7,500 for the Frostburg Library by June 30 has been successful.

Approximately six months ago, an offer was made to the local library that if they could raise $7,500 by December 31 a like gift would be given them provided the money was used for permanent quarters for the library.

The Rotary Club began the community fund raising campaign with an auction at the National Guard Armory. Other organizations aided with dances, card parties and other means.

Later the club again sponsored a Pancake Festival after the time limit was extended to June 30 to complete the drive. Two weeks ago $1,000 remained to be raised. Through donations and a dance sponsored by the club last Friday evening the goal was finally reached.

President Paul V. Taylor, of Rotary, commended Lukas and his committee for their excellent work on the dance and the other efforts of the club.

William E. Creek Enlists In Marines

LITTLE ORLEANS — William E. Creek, son of Homer and Mildred Creek of Little Orleans, Md., has enlisted in the Marines and was transferred to Parris Island, S. C. for recruit training.

Pvt. Creek, a recent graduate of Flintstone High School, where he was active in sports and other activities, had enlisted in the Marines in May under the 120-day delay program. He was examined and sworn in at Baltimore and was returned home to complete high school as a US Marine. This program is encouraged for high school students with two to four months to go before graduation each year. It is open to anyone all during the year, who wishes to enlist but has some reason for wanting to remain at home for up to 120 days before reporting for active duty or training.

S/Sgt. Robert Grayson, Marine recruiter, suggests that anyone who wishes to enlist in the Marines and still make it home for Christmas after training should enlist before the last week in August.

John Chapman Heads Mineral Young GOP

Drive Is Planned On Registrations

KEYSER — John W. "Bill" Chapman was elected president of the Young Republican Club of Mineral County, at a meeting Tuesday evening in the Court House. Elected to serve with him, are Donald Horner, vice-president; Liza Sites, secretary; Sue Baker, assistant secretary, and Richard Morris, treasurer.

Delegates to te state convention, Donald Horner and Charles Seiver, made official reports of the sessions held last week in Wheeling. A group of organization pamphlets from the convention was presented to the club and the following members were appointed to read them and report to the club at the next meeting: Dwight Hovis, Gerald Grubbs, Barbara Tasker and Charles Seiver.

The club accepted a request by the Republican Women's Club in Keyser, to handle parking arrangments for the Good Neighbor Picnic to be held in Keyser, July 2.

Club members discussed the need for a record of Mineral County voters and arrangements were made to compile a list, and to urge those old enough to vote for the first time, to register. The committee will meet June 30 at 6:30 p. m. to begin the work.

Plans for a joint meeting with the Grant County Young Republicans were discussed and arrangements will be made as to place and date. Miss Sue Baker distributed membership cards to all members and plans were made for a membership campaign. The club voted special honorary membership and cards for John B. Fisher, the new state president and Governor Cecil H. Underwood.

Letters of congratulation were sent to members of this year's Mineral County High School graduating classes together with an invitation to attend and observe the Young Republican organization in action. Help will also be extended to those who wish to join the affiliated college groups which are popular now. Several West Virginia Colleges have political clubs.

The next meeting of the club will be held in the Mineral County Court House on Tuesday, July 15 at 7:30 p. m. and all persons between the ages of 17 and 39 are asked to attend.

Class Aids Bible School

FROSTBURG—The Mary-Martha Class of First English Baptist Church met a recent evening at the home of Evelyn Murphy.

Edna Knepp, president was in charge of devotions and Ruth Duckworth presented the program with each member participating. The class decided to hold their annual picnic next month at a date to be announced later. They also gave a donation to the Vacation Bible School now in progress at the church.

Attending were Ann Race, Phyllis Lancaster, Mary Rankin, Peggy Miller, Iola Bittner, Mary Skidmore and Mrs. Emily Stewart, teacher of the class.

Frostburg Library Fund Campaign Reaches Quota

FROSTBURG — Peter Lukas, chairman of the special library committee of the Frostburg Rotary Club, reported that the drive to raise $7,500 for the Frostburg Library by June 30 has been successful.

Approximately six months ago, an offer was made to the local library that if they could raise $7,500 by December 31 a like gift would be given them provided the money was used for permanent quarters for the library.

The Rotary Club began the community fund raising campaign with an auction at the National Guard Armory. Other organizations aided with dances, card parties and other means.

Later the club again sponsored a Pancake Festival after the time limit was extended to June 30 to complete the drive. Two weeks ago $1,000 remained to be raised. Through donations and a dance sponsored by the club last Friday evening the goal was finally reached.

President Paul V. Taylor, of Rotary, commended Lukas and his committee for their excellent work on the dance and the other efforts of the club.

William E. Creek Enlists In Marines

LITTLE ORLEANS — William E. Creek, son of Homer and Mildred Creek of Little Orleans, Md., has enlisted in the Marines and was transferred to Parris Island, S. C. for recruit training.

Pvt. Creek, a recent graduate of Flintstone High School, where he was active in sports and other activities, had enlisted in the Marines in May under the 120-day delay program. He was examined and sworn in at Baltimore and was returned home to complete high school as a US Marine. This program is encouraged for high school students with two to four months to go before graduation each year. It is open to anyone all during the year, who wishes to enlist but has some reason for wanting to remain at home for up to 120 days before reporting for active duty or training.

S/Sgt. Robert Grayson, Marine recruiter, suggests that anyone who wishes to enlist in the Marines and still make it home for Christmas after training should enlist before the last week in August.

John Chapman Heads Mineral Young GOP

Drive Is Planned On Registrations

KEYSER — John W. "Bill" Chapman was elected president of the Young Republican Club of Mineral County, at a meeting Tuesday evening in the Court House. Elected to serve with him, are Donald Horner, vice-president; Liza Sites, secretary; Sue Baker, assistant secretary, and Richard Morris, treasurer.

Delegates to te state convention, Donald Horner and Charles Seiver, made official reports of the sessions held last week in Wheeling. A group of organization pamphlets from the convention was presented to the club and the following members were appointed to read them and report to the club at the next meeting: Dwight Hovis, Gerald Grubbs, Barbara Tasker and Charles Seiver.

The club accepted a request by the Republican Women's Club in Keyser, to handle parking arrangments for the Good Neighbor Picnic to be held in Keyser, July 2.

Club members discussed the need for a record of Mineral County voters and arrangements were made to compile a list, and to urge those old enough to vote for the first time, to register. The committee will meet June 30 at 6:30 p. m. to begin the work.

Plans for a joint meeting with the Grant County Young Republicans were discussed and arrangements will be made as to place and date. Miss Sue Baker distributed membership cards to all members and plans were made for a membership campaign. The club voted special honorary membership and cards for John B. Fisher, the new state president and Governor Cecil H. Underwood.

Letters of congratulation were sent to members of this year's Mineral County High School graduating classes together with an invitation to attend and observe the Young Republican organization in action. Help will also be extended to those who wish to join the affiliated college groups which are popular now. Several West Virginia Colleges have political clubs.

The next meeting of the club will be held in the Mineral County Court House on Tuesday, July 15 at 7:30 p. m. and all persons between the ages of 17 and 39 are asked to attend.

Class Aids Bible School

FROSTBURG—The Mary-Martha Class of First English Baptist Church met a recent evening at the home of Evelyn Murphy.

Edna Knepp, president was in charge of devotions and Ruth Duckworth presented the program with each member participating. The class decided to hold their annual picnic next month at a date to be announced later. They also gave a donation to the Vacation Bible School now in progress at the church.

Attending were Ann Race, Phyllis Lancaster, Mary Rankin, Peggy Miller, Iola Bittner, Mary Skidmore and Mrs. Emily Stewart, teacher of the class.

Finan Named Chairman Of Democratic Campaign

Thomas B. Finan, chairman of the Allegany County Democratic State Central Committee, will head the statewide county campaign for the Democratic Party's slate in November's general election.

Finan served in the same capacity as the chairman of the Harmony Ticket's efforts in Maryland's 23 counties.

Lawrence B. Fenneman, Baltimore, will be the general chairman for the state.

The selections were made Tuesday in Baltimore at a meeting of J. Millard Tawes, gubernatorial candidate, and his ticket comprised of Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro of Baltimore for U.S. Senate; State Sen. Louis Goldstein, for comptroller, and Attorney General C. Ferdinand Sybert for re-election.

The heads of the campaign discussed arrangements for the big $100-a-plate Democratic dinner scheduled September 18 in Baltimore.

Former President Harry S. Truman will be the main speaker at the campaign affair.

Finan said 2,500 Democrats are expected to attend the dinner-rally in the Fifth Regiment Armory.

Finan also reported that George P. Mahoney, unsuccessful senatorial candidate, was present and made every assurance he would work for the party's ticket.

Mahoney, the county chairman said, renewed the pledge he had made at the Democratic state convention on June 10.

City Reopens Voting Books

The city's voter registration books were reopened yesterday.

City Clerk Wallace G. Ullery said that under the law, books had been closed since May 13. Those who had been ineligible to vote in this month's municipal elections, can again register for any future elections, he added.

The books will remain open 10 days before the next primary in 1962 with one exception. In event a special election is called on a bond issue or smilar matter, the books would close seven days before such an election and seven days after, Ullery said.

Candidates List Record Of Expenses

Five more candidates for office in Allegany County's primary election filed a record of their expenses with Clerk of Circuit Court Joseph E. Boden.

Harold L. Drew, Carlos, unsuccessful in the county commissioner race on the Republican ticket, listed campaign expenses of $266.80.

Of that total, Drew said he spent $161.80 for advertisement: $80 for cars and workers, and $25 for a filing fee.

James S. Getty, Lonaconing, unopposed for State's attorney on the Republican ticket and who faces no opposition in the November general election stated he spent only $25, that for his filing fee.

The single expenditure of Anne Barley Everline for election as a delegate to the Maryland Democratic convention was the $10 filing fee.

John Tucker Mason, Cresaptown, who is one of the three Democratic nominees for county commissioner, reported expenses totaling $143.01. Of this amount, $118.01 was spent for advertising and $25 for filing fee.

Harold D. Brooks, LaVale, unsuccessful in his attempt for nomination for House of Delegates on the Republican ticket, listed expenditures of $378.25 of which $25 was for filing, and $353.25 for advertising.

None of the candidates who filed Tuesday and yesterday reported any contributions.

All candidates must make a report of their expenditures and donations and file it at the Court House with Clerk Boden.

City Council Inauguration Plans Begun

Plans are under way for the inauguration of the new Mayor and Council Monday, July 7.

The ceremony will take place after the outgoing members of council adjourn sine die. Present plans call for the event to be held in City Hall auditorium instead of the council chamber.

The first such "inauguration" ceremony was held in 1950 and was suggested by former Mayor Thomas S. Post when Mrs. Lucille Roeder, the first woman to hold public office here, was elected to her first term. A similar observance was held two years later but it was passed over in 1954.

As usual, each of the incoming members of council are expected to give brief talks.

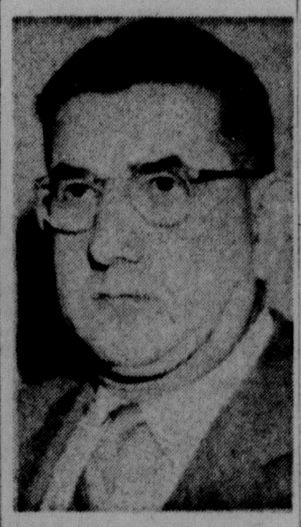
They will include Mayor-elect J. Edwin Keech and Commissioners Mrs. Roeder, John J. Long (re-elected), Philmore F. Fleming and G. Ray Light.

Leaving office will be Mayor Roy W. Eves and Commissioners William V. Keegan and William H. Buchholtz.

When the new council takes office it will open the "green bag" to name the commissioners to head the four departments of the city and a city attorney. Present talk is that Mrs. Roeder will take over the Department of Water and Electric Light; Long will remain as commissioner of Finance and Revenue; Fleming will head the Department of Police and Fire; and Light will be commissioner of Streets and Public Property.

Mentioned prominently as the next city attorney to succeed Thomas B. Finan is William R. Carscaden. He has indicated he is "interested" in the appointment.

Church membership is equal to more than 62 per cent of the population in the continental United States.



NEW ASSISTANT — Rev. Emil G. Teyssier was installed Sunday as assistant pastor of First Presbyterian Church. Rev. Mr. Teyssier comes to Cumberland after more than 12 years of service in the Chaplain Corps of the Army and Air Force. He was ordained April 19, 1940, in the Kittanning (Pa.) Presbytery. According to Rev. Maurice D. Robertson, pastor, the work of his assistant will center largely in the field of adult education, pastoral visitation and counseling.

Several Building Permits Issued

Five building permits were issued this week by the Allegany County Assessing Department.

William Woltz, was granted a permit to construct a 24-foot by 24-foot frame summer camp along Town Creek near Flintstone at an estimated cost of $500.

Kenneth Clark, Valley Road, was given a permit to construct a 24-foot by 25-foot concrete block house at an estimated cost of $2,500.

Kenneth O. Crowe, Beech Street, Bowling Green, will build a 26-foot by 30-foot concrete block house at a estimated cost of $1,500.

A permit was issued to George Miller to build a 20-foot by 24-foot frame building on Mt. Savage Road.

Playlot Lists Activities

Registration at the North End Playground is being conducted from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. daily, according to Mrs. Janice Tyler, playground director, who said the registration will end Friday.

Registration is also being conducted for the playfield's talent show, which will be held next Wednesday evening. Youths interested in participating should register as early as possible, according to Maureen Cavanaugh, play leader.

The playground's Teenage Club elected officers at its first meeting Tuesday. They are Laurana Meconi, president; Sharon Kasecamp, vice president; Jean Huffman, secretary; Cheryl Pence, treasurer, and John Sitter, sergeant at arms.

The next meeting of the club will be held at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday, July 1, after which a dance will be held, Miss Cavanaugh said.

Besides the talent show, activities planned include a Picnic Day today and next Thursday beginning at 1 p. m., with the children to bring their own lunches.

Friday afternoon will be devoted to handcraft work, and a stuffed animal show will be presented at 7:30 p. m. Prizes will be awarded to the most amusing, largest, oldest, smallest and prettiest entries.

A film will be shown at dusk.

Finan Named Chairman Of Democratic Campaign

Thomas B. Finan, chairman of the Allegany County Democratic State Central Committee, will head the statewide county campaign for the Democratic Party's slate in November's general election.

Finan served in the same capacity as the chairman of the Harmony Ticket's efforts in Maryland's 23 counties.

Lawrence B. Fenneman, Baltimore, will be the general chairman for the state.

The selections were made Tuesday in Baltimore at a meeting of J. Millard Tawes, gubernatorial candidate, and his ticket comprised of Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro of Baltimore for U.S. Senate; State Sen. Louis Goldstein, for comptroller, and Attorney General C. Ferdinand Sybert for re-election.

The heads of the campaign discussed arrangements for the big $100-a-plate Democratic dinner scheduled September 18 in Baltimore.

Former President Harry S. Truman will be the main speaker at the campaign affair.

Finan said 2,500 Democrats are expected to attend the dinner-rally in the Fifth Regiment Armory.

Finan also reported that George P. Mahoney, unsuccessful senatorial candidate, was present and made every assurance he would work for the party's ticket.

Mahoney, the county chairman said, renewed the pledge he had made at the Democratic state convention on June 10.

City Reopens Voting Books

The city's voter registration books were reopened yesterday.

City Clerk Wallace G. Ullery said that under the law, books had been closed since May 13. Those who had been ineligible to vote in this month's municipal elections, can again register for any future elections, he added.

The books will remain open 10 days before the next primary in 1962 with one exception. In event a special election is called on a bond issue or smilar matter, the books would close seven days before such an election and seven days after, Ullery said.

Candidates List Record Of Expenses

Five more candidates for office in Allegany County's primary election filed a record of their expenses with Clerk of Circuit Court Joseph E. Boden.

Harold L. Drew, Carlos, unsuccessful in the county commissioner race on the Republican ticket, listed campaign expenses of $266.80.

Of that total, Drew said he spent $161.80 for advertisement; $80 for cars and workers, and $25 for a filing fee.

James S. Getty, Lonaconing, unopposed for State's attorney on the Republican ticket and who faces no opposition in the November general election stated he spent only $25, that for his filing fee.

The single expenditure of Anne Barley Everline for election as a delegate to the Maryland Democratic convention was the $10 filing fee.

John Tucker Mason, Cresaptown, who is one of the three Democratic nominees for county commissioner, reported expenses totaling $143.01. Of this amount, $118.01 was spent for advertising and $25 for filing fee.

Harold D. Brooks, LaVale, unsuccessful in his attempt for nomination for House of Delegates on the Republican ticket, listed expenditures of $378.25 of which $25 was spent for filing, and $353.25 for advertising.

None of the candidates who filed Tuesday and yesterday reported any contributions.

All candidates must make a report of their expenditures and donations and file it at the Court House with Clerk Boden.

City Council Inauguration Plans Begun

Plans are under way for the inauguration of the new Mayor and Council Monday, July 7.

The ceremony will take place after the outgoing members of council adjourn sine die. Present plans call for the event to be held in City Hall auditorium instead of the council chamber.

The first such "inauguration" ceremony was held in 1950 and was suggested by former Mayor Thomas S. Post when Mrs. Lucille Roeder, the first woman to hold public office here, was elected to her first term. A similar observance was held two years later but it was passed over in 1954.

As usual, each of the incoming members of council are expected to give brief talks.

They will include Mayor-elect J. Edwin Keech and Commissioners Mrs. Roeder, John J. Long (re-elected), Philmore F. Fleming and G. Ray Light.

Leaving office will be Mayor Roy W. Eves and Commissioners William V. Keegan and William H. Buchholtz.

When the new council takes office it will open the "green bag" to name the commissioners to head the four departments of the city and a city attorney. Present talk is that Mrs. Roeder will take over the Department of Water and Electric Light; Long will remain as commissioner of Finance and Revenue; Fleming will head the Department of Police and Fire; and Light will be commissioner of Streets and Public Property.

Mentioned prominently as the next city attorney to succeed Thomas B. Finan is William R. Carscaden. He has indicated he is "interested" in the appointment.

Church membership is equal to more than 62 per cent of the population in the continental United States.

NEW ASSISTANT — Rev. Emil G. Teyssier was installed Sunday as assistant pastor of First Presbyterian Church. Rev. Mr. Teyssier comes to Cumberland after more than 12 years of service in the Chaplain Corps of the Army and Air Force. He was ordained April 19, 1940, in the Kittanning (Pa.) Presbytery. According to Rev. Maurice D. Robertson, pastor, the work of his assistant will center largely in the field of adult education, pastoral visitation and counseling.

Several Building Permits Issued

Five building permits were issued this week by the Allegany County Assessing Department.

William Woltz, was granted a permit to construct a 24-foot by 24-foot frame summer camp along Town Creek near Flintstone at an estimated cost of $500.

Kenneth Clark, Valley Road, was given a permit to construct a 24-foot by 25-foot concrete block house at an estimated cost of $2,500.

Kenneth O. Crowe, Beech Street, Bowling Green, will build a 26-foot by 30-foot concrete block house at a estimated cost of $1,500.

A permit was issued to George Miller to build a 20-foot by 24-foot frame building on Mt. Savage Road.

Playlot Lists Activities

Registration at the North End Playground is being conducted from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. daily, according to Mrs. Janice Tyler, playground director, who said the registration will end Friday.

Registration is also being conducted for the playfield's talent show, which will be held next Wednesday evening. Youths interested in participating should register as early as possible, according to Maureen Cavanaugh, play leader.

The playground's Teenage Club elected officers at its first meeting Tuesday. They are Laurana Meconi, president; Sharon Kasecamp, vice president; Jean Huffman, secretary; Cheryl Pence, treasurer, and John Sitter, sergeant at arms.

The next meeting of the club will be held at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday, July 1, after which a dance will be held, Miss Cavanaugh said.

Besides the talent show, activities planned include a Picnic Day today and next Thursday beginning at 1 p. m., with the children to bring their own lunches.

Friday afternoon will be devoted to handcraft work, and a stuffed animal show will be presented at 7:30 p. m. Prizes will be awarded to the most amusing, largest, oldest, smallest and prettiest entries.

A film will be shown at dusk.

IT'S FUN

Driving a smart 1956 Austin-Healy Racer. The former owner kept the car immaculate. This beautiful machine is in marvelous condition with beautiful red & black paint and complemented by luxurious leather seats. In the summer the convertible is cool and sporty. To make this beautiful car even more economical it has a smooth high-priced electric overdrive installed at the factory. Our special Price . . .

Fletcher Hears Compensation Cases

A number of cases were heard Tuesday and Monday in Cumberland and Oakland by Paul M. Fletcher, member of the Workmen's Compensation Commission.

Tuesday in Allegany County Court House Fletcher heard the claim of Robert A. Ward against Stetler Steel Erectors.

On Monday he was in Oakland to hear these accident compensation claims cases:

Leonard C. Hathoway Jr., against J. W. Jackson Company; James A. Frantz against Preston Feed Company; Ernest P. Tressler against Paul W. Hoye.

Chester Gaither against Tidewater-Hazelwood; Raymond H. Kolb against Keeley Construction Company; William S. Kelley and Edgel P. Sereno against Stanley Coal Company.

Edward Chester Lawrence against the Autoline Oil Company; Gurney H. Spiker against Beachy Lumber Company; George T. Uphole, deceased, against William L. Eupperman.

Nocturnal creatures such as owls and tarsiers have abnormally large eyes, the better to catch the night's faint light.

Approximately one-third of the area of the United States is classed as forest.

The bidding:

East	South	West	North
Pass	1 spade	Pass	2 clubs
Pass	2 hearts	Pass	3 spades
Pass	4 spades	Pass	4 no trump
Pass	5 diamonds	Pass	5 spades
Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead: Five of diamonds.

In today's hand selected from a tournament, North's improper use of the Blackwood convention supplied East with the clew needed to sink the overly ambitious contract.

At almost all tables the final contract was four spades, as it properly should be.

The five of diamonds was the favored lead and when East won with the ace, much depended on the return. If the opening lead had been from the king of diamonds it was essential to return that suit in order to cash another trick.

If declarer had the king of diamonds the only return that could be profitable was the singleton heart in the hope that partner had a major suit ace. Since spades and hearts had both been bid by declarer the usual return was the diamond and declarer succeeded in taking 11 tricks.

At one table the bidding proceeded as in the diagram. Without further ado let us chalk up a bold demerit for North. His first two bids had done full justice to his holding and any slam efforts should be left to his partner's initiative. South, of course, was helpless.

At this table, when East won with the ace of diamonds it was apparent that the contract could be defeated by the return of the singleton heart. In response to the Blackwood bid South had announced one ace, this left West with either the ace of hearts or the ace of spades and it mattered not which.

If it were the heart ace the contract would be defeated at once; if it were the trump ace, East would get his heart ruff when partner took the ace of trumps.

Lawyer Is Named To Bar Committee

W. Earle Cobey, this city, has been named to a committee of the Maryland Bar Association that will consider the possibility and feasibility of qualified retirement for state judges.

The plan, if adopted, would in all probability be patterned somewhat along the lines of the qualified retirement plan for federal judges. That is, in effect, allowing the judges to serve as long as they are physically able.

Current Maryland law has state judges being required to retire upon reaching the age of 70 years. Richard H. Case, Baltimore attorney, is chairman of this committee named by G. C. A. Anderson, president of the state bar association.

Boy Is Injured When His Bike Rams Into Car

Paul Stickley, 9, Is Hospitalized

A nine-year-old local boy was hospitalized yesterday afternoon after the bicycle he was riding collided with an automobile on Henderson Avenue near the Frederick Street intersection.

Paul Stickley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul C. Stickley, of 227 South Mechanic Street, was reported in fair condition last night at Sacred Heart Hospital.

Attaches said the lad suffered a head injury and was to be X-rayed.

Police said the accident occurred about 2:55 p. m. The driver of the auto was Alex Buck of RFD 1, Auburn, Maine, who was en route to Texas.

Traffic Officer Joseph Stitcher, who investigated with Officer Ernest Powell, gave this account of the accident:

A number of cars headed east on Henderson Avenue had stopped at a stop sign. The youngster pedaled his bike in the same direction between the cars and the guard rail.

The lad pulled out in front of a moving car driven east by James Linaburg of 531 Henderson Avenue, who immediately applied his brakes.

Apparently becoming frightened and confused, the lad cut across the avenue into the westbound lane of traffic and hit the car driven by Mr. Buck.

The boy was tossed onto the hood of the car and fell to the ground. Mr. Buck told police that he was just pulling away from the stop sign and was traveling about 10 miles an hour.

Police said the investigation will be continued pending the outcome of the boy's injuries.

Girl Scouts Get CUF Allocation

Isiminger, left, prominent civic leader who was one of the leaders in the successful women's division of the County United Fund drive last October. Looking on is Miss Olive Hurlburt, executive director of the Girl Scouts of Cumberland. Miss Cook is a member of Troop 54, Frostburg.

Democratic Committee To Organize

Plans Made For Several Projects

The Democratic State Central Committee of Allegany County will meet next Wednesday at 8 p. m. for the purpose of formally organizing, electing a chairman, a treasurer and a secretary, and to plan a series of activities, according to Thomas B. Finan, chairman.

At a meeting held at the chairman's home Tuesday night, the committee agreed to defer action on selecting committee officers until Edward J. Ryan, newly elected member, could be present. Mr. Ryan had planned to attend Tuesday's meeting but was called out of the city late in the afternoon.

Following the organization meeting Wednesday, the committee will meet with all the Democratic candidates at 9 p. m. to discuss campaign plans for the November election, Mr. Finan said.

The committee took action on several projects Tuesday night. It was decided to hold a Democratic rally in the form of a banquet the latter part of July, and to extend an invitation to all county and state candidates to be present. An effort will be made to have Paul Butler, chairman of the National Democratic Committee, as guest speaker. The committee named Julius E. Schindler general chairman, with his assistants to be named later.

The committee also decided to launch a program to encourage registration of new voters and agreed to offer cash prizes totaling $50 to the person or persons in the county who can recruit the most Democrats between now and the time the poll books close prior to the November election.

An award of $25 will be made to the man or woman who can recruit and register the most new Democrats. A similar award of $25 will be made to the man or woman who can recruit the most voters to change their affiliation and become Democrats.

All that is necessary to compete, is to take the prospective voters to the election board office at the Court House and inform the Democratic registrar, so that proper credit for the recruitment can be recorded.

Mr. Finan reported to the committee on his attendance at a Democratic leaders' conference in Baltimore Tuesday. The session was held at Democratic headquarters in the Emerson Hotel and was attended by a number of prominent party figures.

The local committee also discussed the pending Truman dinner to be held in Baltimore September 28. This is a special $100 per plate fund raising affair, and this and other counties expect to send delegations. A chairman for the Truman dinner will be named for this county at next Wednesday's meeting, Mr. Finan said.

Members of the county committee present at the session included Mr. Finan, John R. Kelly, William Kelley, William C. McDermott, and F. Allan Weatherholt, secretary.

Forest Officials Make Inspection Of Watersheds

Reforestation Progress Noted

Federal and state forestry officials yesterday took a trip into Garrett County to inspect work done on the Potomac River and Little Youghiogheny watershed projects.

Frank Paradise, from the regional office of the U.S. Forest Service at Upper Darby, Pa. and A. R. Bond, assistant state forester, have been in this end of the state the past two days on the inspection tour.

William H. Johnson, district forester, with whom they conferred on Tuesday, said the two men are inspecting work done by his office in forestry improvement small watershed programs.

On Tuesday the officials visited the Georges Creek section. Before returning to their office they also plan to make a field trip in reforestation areas of the eastern end of Allegany County.

Mr. Johnson, who was in Garrett County yesterday, said there are three separate programs under way in his district.

The Potomac River watershed from Hancock to its source in Garrett County started a number of years ago; the Little Youghiogheny started in the 1957 fiscal year and the Georges Creek project started in the 1958 fiscal year.

The Georges Creek project extends from Westernport north to the top of Savage and Dan's mountains in the vicinity of Frostburg.

Mr. Johnson said his office seeks to promote better forest land use and effective forest fire control, and to improve timber cutting and logging practices.

He said from the standpoint of watershed protection, skid and logging roads are being located with certain maximum grades and a stabilization of such trails.

There is reforestation of critically washing areas as well as abandoned farm land. The overall program is also designed to increase the water holding capacity of the soil and reduce the immediate runoff of the watersheds.

Dr. A. C. Eskin, Local Dentist, Dies In Hospital

Was Stricken On Golf Course Sunday

Dr. Albert Carl Eskin, 1903 Bedford Street, well-known Cumberland dentist who was stricken ill while playing golf Sunday at the Country Club, died last night about 11:30 at Memorial Hospital.

A native of Newark, N. J., Dr. Eskin had practiced in Cumberland for the past nine years. He was president of the Allegany-Garrett County Dental Society and a former vice president of the Maryland State Dental Society.

The 50-year-old dentist was a graduate of the University of Maryland Dental School and was vice president of the 1931 class in which he was graduated. He previously practiced the dental profession for 13 years in Baltimore before coming to Cumberland.

For three years he served as president of B'er Chayim Congregation, and he was a lieutenant colonel in the U. S. Army Reserve.

Dr. Eskin served in the European theatre of operations during World War II with the Fifth Auxiliary Surgical Unit in the Ninth Army.

Dr. Eskin was a son of the late Carl and Rose Eskin and was born in Newark on February 9, 1908.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Beatrice (Castell) Eskin, at home; a son, George Eskin, at home; two brothers, Dr. Benjamin Eskin, East Orange, N. J.; and Henry Eskin, Baltimore; and a sister, Mrs. Pearl Berg, West Englewood, N. J.

The body is at the Hafer Funeral Home on Baltimore Avenue.

Baltimore Jury Finds Driver Not Responsible

BALTIMORE (AP) — A Superior Court jury Wednesday found Raymond J. Wempe of Cumberland not responsible for a Garrett County automobile accident more than a year ago in which a woman was killed.

Philip Christ of Cumberland, administrator of the estate of Mrs. Patricia Trenton, his daughter, had asked $250,000 damages from Wempe for the death of Mrs. Trenton and injuries to her 10-year-old daughter, Cynthia.

His suit and three others were lumped in one for trial purposes. The trial ran three days before a jury and Judge S. Ralph Warnken.

The accident May 18, 1957, occurred when a car driven by Wempe ran off U.S. Route 219 near Keyser's Ridge and struck a tree. Mrs Trenton was killed and her daughter, also a passenger, was injured along with the defendant.

Wempe's defense, presented by Attorney J. Gilbert Prendergast of Baltimore, blamed the accident on the poor condition of the road, which was wet and slippery at the time, rather than negligence on the driver's part.

This trial originally was scheduled in Allegany County Circuit Court May 27 but at the last moment was ordered removed to Baltimore. Court attaches said at the time it was the first case they recall having been removed from Cumberland to Baltimore.

Attorneys for the plaintiff in this action were Harry I. Stegmaier of Cumberland and Paul Berman of Baltimore. Besides Mr. Prendergast the defense was represented by Peter J. Carpenti of Cumberland. In pre-trial activity, William H. Geppert and W. Earle Cobey of Cumberland also represented the defendant.

Surplus Food Plan Changes Must Be Made

Allegany County officials learned yesterday that they will have to make about ten changes in their plans for distribution of surplus food to the needy.

County Commissioner William A. Wilson and Gorman E. Getty, attorney to the commissioners, were informed yesterday in Baltimore by William J. Brugger, supervisor of the donable food program in Maryland, that about ten changes must be made in the program to coincide with the one offered in Baltimore city.

Mr. Wilson explained that one change is that the Red Cross, Associated Charities and Salvation Army may be used only as referral agencies. In the prior program, these agencies acted as certifying agencies.

Another change is that the maximum income for a person eligible to receive surplus food must be raised to match Baltimore City's higher limits. Mr. Wilson said the proposed limits for Allegany County already had been raised above the level when the program was stopped about two years ago.

While in Baltimore, the county attorney also conferred with engineers for the State Roads Commission about planned construction in the vicinity of the Starlite Drive-In Theatre on Oldtown Road just beyond the city limits. Edgar Growden, manager of the theatre, told the commissioners last Friday that the plans would block the entrance to his theatre and force him out of business.

Grant A. Wiebel has been designated by the county commissioners to take charge of the food distribution and the commissioners also are counting on volunteer help promised by local labor unions.

COLLECTION DAY TODAY!

Advisory Group Evaluates Special Classes

The advisory council on the three special classes in Allegany County for handicapped children had its annual evaluation session yesterday afternoon in the Board of Education office.

Superintendent of Schools Ralph R Webster and Miss M. Jean Camper, supervisor of special education, were in charge of yesterday's session, attended by Dr. Geneva Flickinger, state supervisor of special education.

Miss Camper, who is leaving her Allegany County position after a little more than three years here, said that it has been assured that this special program will continue after her departure. There now are three of these special classes, all started since Miss Camper came here in April 1955.

The class at LaVale Elementary School, started three years ago, had an enrollment of 14 handicapped youngsters during the last school year. The second class, which has functioned at Lincoln School in Frostburg for two years, has an enrollment of 11. There are 12 in the third class at Barton Elementary School, started in the past school year.

Teachers who have been training these youngsters in the past three years have taken a keen interest in the program and Miss Camper said all have taken special courses at the University of Maryland. The teachers include Mrs. Monica A. McPortland and Miss Evelyn Bland, Barton; Mrs. Margaret C. Kirby and Mrs. Marian W. Wilson, LaVale, and Mrs. Helen M. Lehr and Mrs. Hazel P. Keedy, Lincoln.

Members of the advisory council who attended yesterday's evaluation program include Dr. Ton van Strien, county health officer; John Cobun, regional vocational rehabilitation director; Mrs. Helen Vogel, Mrs. Lois Jackson and Mrs. Betty Lou Lindner, public health nurses; Homer S. Higgins, supervisor of pupil personnel; Miss Esther M. Carter and Frederick H. Sheeley, visiting teachers; Miss Elizabeth I. Flake and Miss Mildred E. Willison, supervisors of elementary education, and Mrs. Betty VanNewkirk, psychologist in the Mental Hygiene Clinic.

It was agreed that the program might be improved if better records on medical data were available.

Registration At Playlots Ahead Of 1957

The registration of children at Cumberland's 15 playgrounds is slightly ahead of last year, according to a midweek report yesterday by the City Recreation Department.

A check of seven of the playlots shows 186 children had registered by yesterday evening at Centre Street.

Others include East Side, 175; Pennsylvania Avenue, 139; Post, 134; Johnson Heights, 120; Columbia Street, 109; and Virginia Avenue, 63.

Registration will continue this week from 10 a. m. until 9 p. m. and most of the children will be signed up by tomorrow evening.

Some youngsters, including Girl Scouts now at camp, will be registering later on.

Two Local Teen-Agers Take 400-Mile Bike Trip

By ALBERT D. DARBY
News Staff Writer

Two teen-age local boys who have just finished their sophomore year at Allegany High School have started off their summer vacation with an experience which should provide them with plenty of conversation all summer long.

They are Donald Torkington, 15-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Torkington, 955 Braddock Road, and Richard J. Bruce Jr., 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard J. Bruce, 626 Washington Street.

Don and Dick took a 414-mile bicycle trip that carried them from one end to the other of Virginia's Skyline Drive. Their journey encompassed ten days, which meant that they averaged better than 40 miles a day.

They confess that they got an assist on the second Sunday they were on their journey when several kind-hearted truck drivers gave them lifts. With those truck rides they negotiated about 120 miles on Sunday, June 15. On average days they pedaled and walked between 30 and 35 miles.

"Roughing It"

Far from having all of the comforts of home, the two boys tried their hand at being self-reliant. They camped out in pup tents and sleeping bags five of the nine nights they were on their journey. Twice, when heavy rains came near drowning them, they stayed in motels. One was on the third night, June 9, when they bedded down in a motel on the outskirts of Front Royal, Va., the northern gateway to the Skyline Drive. Another night they enjoyed the hospitality of a motel near Elkton, Va.

On the first and ninth nights, Dick's uncle, John Bruce, who lives at Romney, W. Va., provided them shelter. They stayed at his home the night of June 7 and at his cabin on the South Branch of the Potomac River on June 15, their last night out.

The ten-day adventure cost the two boys and their families a total of $67. Dick said he spent $32, Don $35. The latter hastened to add that his total included a Virginia ham he shipped back to his family.

Shunned Main Highways

Insofar as possible, the youngsters attempted to keep off principal roads during their journey. From Cumberland they traveled on West Virginia Route 28 to Romney. From Romney they took U. S. Route 50 only as far as

Boy Finds Out Climbing Trees 'For The Birds'

It doesn't pay to climb trees.

This is probably the sentiment of Kenneth Messmer, 5, son of State Trooper and Mrs. Kenneth Messmer, 1036 Myrtle Street, who fell from a tree yesterday afternoon and fractured his left elbow.

Just about a month ago the youngster, playing with the same companions, fell in a neighbor's yard and fractured his right arm. The cast on the right arm was removed several days ago.

The young boy, who has an identical twin brother, Edward, was admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital.

Two Boys Admit Theft Of Auto

Two 17-year-old boys who said they stole a car on Tuesday and wrecked it surrendered to authorities yesterday afternoon.

Police reported one of the boys admitted taking an auto owned by Russell Slider of Twiggtown about 9 a. m. Tuesday, and upsetting it on Breakneck Road half an hour later. They said the car rolled over about three times, although neither apparently was hurt. Maryland State Police discovered the abandoned car and had it towed in.

Meanwhile the boys walked into Police Headquarters and identified themselves as the ones who took the car. State Police said the boys were released in custody of their parents pending a hearing either in Juvenile Court or Trial Magistrate's Court.

Police said they placed charges of unauthorized use of a vehicle against the two boys.

Brothers Given Terms In Jail

Two local brothers have been sentenced to 30 days in jail in default of fines after separate hearings on charges of disturbance of the peace and petty larceny.

Ten of the 30 days are to be spent in City Jail and the balance in the county lockup, police said. James R. Collins, 23, and Ronald M. Collins, 20, of 507 South Street, were tried before Trial Magistrate Morris Baron and handed 10 days for disturbing the peace.

City Police had arrested them early Tuesday morning on the disturbance charge. Later, warrants charging them with petty larceny were obtained and they were detained for B&O authorities who claimed they took channel iron from the railroad. It was valued at $25.

Yesterday the two brothers appeared before Trial Magistrate J. Milton Dick and pleaded guilty to the theft of the iron. They were sentenced to 20 days each in the County Jail.

Seeks Beer License

Gladys G. Appel has filed an application with the Allegany County Board of Alcoholic Beverages License Commissioners for a Class A beer license in premises at 600 Montreal Avenue.

Legionnaires To Be Guests At Anniversary

Today has been designated as Legionnaire Day at the week-long celebration of the third anniversary of the champion Blue Angels Drum Corps of Victory Post 155, American Legion at Westernport.

A special program honoring Spanish-American War veterans will be held at the Westernport post home at 4 p. m., with Lonnie Marsh, post commander, presiding. A parade of Legionnaires from throughout the tri-state area is scheduled for 7:30 p. m.

John Sloan, commander of the Maryland Department of the American Legion, is expected to come from Baltimore to attend, along with Legionnaires from posts in the Mountain District, Maryland, as well as nearby West Virginia and Pennsylvania. The parade will be followed by a dance at 9 p. m. in the post home.

Tomorrow, a firemen's drill will be held at Memorial Park at 7 p. m. with prizes totaling $100.

Last night, a colorful float parade was the highlight, with a special float bearing the celebration's queen and her court as one of the color spots.

Prizes were awarded for three floats with the first prize of $25 given to a group of teen-agers who entered a "Rock 'n' Roll" theme float. Second prize of $15 went to the Methodist Youth Fellowship of Trinity Methodist Church, Piedmont. The Tri-Towns Lions Club won third prize of $10 for its entry.

In the decorated bicycle division, John and Joseph Amoroso of Piedmont won a special prize of $5 for a bicycle-built-for-two decorated entry. Michele Ahlfeld of Piedmont won $3 for the second best decorated bicycle and James Ross, also of Piedmont took third prize of $2 for his entry.

Potomac Fire Company, the drum corps and scores of bicycles and floats took part.

Nominations will be made for officers for the coming year. The election will be held next month and the officers will be installed in August.

Luke Girl Elected:

Girls' State Establishes Two-Party Government

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Girls' State finally established a two-party system Wednesday as the Nationalists broke a Federalist stranglehold on offices for the mythical government sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary.

Led by Karen Gordon and Roberta Solomon of Baltimore they captured seats for sheriff, state's attorney and three of the five county commissioners. The Federalists elected a treasurer and two commissioners.

The county elections followed a sweep of city offices Tuesday by the Federalist party in the group of 162 high school juniors attending the sessions.

Miss Gordon was chosen sheriff and Miss Solomon state's attorney. Chandlee Lewis of Sandy Spring, Lora Rose McDonal of Oxon Hill, and Linda Reavis of Beltsville were named commissioners from the Nationalist party.

Pat Kelly of Luke was elected treasurer from the Federalist ticket and Jean Bransfield of Reisterstown and Frona Tucker of Baltimore were elected commissioners.

The girls stopped their politicking and government work long enough for a few words from Gov. McKeldin.

His topic was romance in politics and government and he told them it was there for the person who wanted to find it.

"The sullen man who seeks political office to punish another will not find it romantic," McKeldin said, "nor will he who endeavors to gain political power to destroy the customs of a people by inflicting upon them his own ideas of what they should have and how they should live.

"The romance of government is found in service to the people—in the developing of loyalties within the organization of government—and in extending those loyalties to the citizens."

The delegates then launched campaigns for electing a governor and state officials of their own. They had state party primaries Wednesday night with the general election scheduled Thursday.

Armory Bids Decision Set This Week

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Maryland military department expects to reach a decision this week on which of three bidders it will recommend for a contract for a new National Guard armory in Cumberland.

The office of Col. Chester Simmons, construction engineer, is computing the 32 alternate proposals listed in the construction plan.

Because of these alternates, the low base bidder will not necessarily be awarded the contract.

An aide said Wednesday that a decision probably will be reached by Friday.

Maj. Gen. Milton A. Reckord, the Maryland adjutant general, will make his recommendation to the National Guard Bureau in Washington. If approved there, the contract will go to the Maryland Board of Public Works for ratification.

The board's next meeting is July 14.

Three bids on the project were opened by the Department of Public Improvements on June 19. The bidders, all Cumberland firms, and their base bids were: George Construction Co., $340,000; John I. Vandegrift Co., $346,089, and George F. Hazelwood Co., $348,879.

July Court Term Docket Readied

Some 75 law cases have been included on the trial docket for the July term of Allegany County Circuit Court.

The term will open on July 7 with Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris on the bench. Among the cases are condemnation suits in which the State Roads Commission is seeking land for improvement work and also appeals of the Workmen's Compensation Commission decision.

Car Damaged By Flames

City firemen yesterday answered two calls which involved vehicles. No one was injured.

Heavy property damage was caused when an auto owned and operated by Alfred P. Tofane, of Connellsville, Pa. caught fire about 5:48 p.m. as the driver was leaving SS. Peter and Paul Cemetery on Fayette Street.

Firemen from West Side said the driver told them an explosion occurred under the hood of the car and it burst into flames. The flames spread from the motor block to underneath the dashboard.

The driver was uncertain as to why the explosion occurred. Firemen said the vehicle was just about a total loss.

In the other alarm received by the firemen, the engine of a Salvation Army truck became overheated about 9:46 a.m. yesterday and grease on the motor began smoking.

South End firemen went to the scene when Box 624 at Oldtown Road and Wempe Drive was pulled. There was no damage, firemen said.

Births

Memorial Hospital

Mr. and Mrs. Justin N. Ratcliff, Patterson Creek, W. Va., a son yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl W. Railey, Oakland, a daughter yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Lewis, 603 Louisiana Avenue, a son yesterday.

Eckhart Swimming Program Commences

The pilot swimming course for fourth, fifth and sixth grade pupils of Eckhart School began yesterday in the Frostburg Pool and will continue for two weeks, according to Robert E. Pence, supervisor of physical education in the Allegany County public schools.

There are 42 children between the ages of nine and 12 enrolled in this ten-lesson course. If it proves successful, Mr. Pence hopes to have similar programs offered next summer in all schools of the county. The PTA is assisting in promotion of this water safety program. Miss Maureen Manley of Frostburg and Mr. Pence are instructing the children.

DeLuxe Restaurant Equipment Is Sold

Dorothy L. Savage and her husband H. Russell Savage, of Church Street, Westernport, have purchased the DeLuxe Restaurant equipment from Nina M. Wilson and her husband, Jarold C. Wilson, of Maryland Avenue, in that community.

The bill of sale papers were filed Tuesday in Allegany County Circuit Court. The restaurant is located on Main Street in Westernport. The equipment was sold for $3,500 according to the papers.

Boy Is Injured When His Bike Rams Into Car

Paul Stickley, 9, Is Hospitalized

A nine-year-old local boy was hospitalized yesterday afternoon after the bicycle he was riding collided with an automobile on Henderson Avenue near the Frederick Street intersection.

Paul Stickley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul C. Stickley, of 227 South Mechanic Street, was reported in fair condition last night at Sacred Heart Hospital.

Attaches said the lad suffered a head injury and was to be X-rayed.

Police said the accident occurred about 2:55 p. m. The driver of the auto was Alex Buck of RFD 1, Auburn, Maine, who was en route to Texas.

Traffic Officer Joseph Stitcher, who investigated with Officer Ernest Powell, gave this account of the accident:

A number of cars headed east on Henderson Avenue had stopped at a stop sign. The youngster pedaled his bike in the same direction between the cars and the guard rail.

The lad pulled out in front of a moving car driven east by James Linaburg of 531 Henderson Avenue, who immediately applied his brakes.

Apparently becoming frightened and confused, the lad cut across the avenue into the westbound lane of traffic and hit the car driven by Mr. Buck.

The boy was tossed onto the hood of the car and fell to the ground. Mr. Buck told police that he was just pulling away from the stop sign and was traveling about 10 miles an hour.

Police said the investigation will be continued pending the outcome of the boy's injuries.

Girl Scouts Get CUF Allocation

Miss Carolyn Cook, center, president of the Senior Scout Planning Board of Cumberland Council, Girl Scouts of America, was given the honor of accepting a $13,000 County United Fund allocation from Mrs. Ralph C. Isiminger, left, prominent civic leader who was one of the leaders in the successful women's division of the County United Fund drive last October. Looking on is Miss Olive Hurlburt, executive director of the Girl Scouts of Cumberland. Miss Cook is a member of Troop 54, Frostburg.

Surplus Food Plan Changes Must Be Made

Allegany County officials learned yesterday that they will have to make about ten changes in their plans for distribution of surplus food to the needy.

County Commissioner William A. Wilson and Gorman E. Getty, attorney to the commissioners, were informed yesterday in Baltimore by William J. Brugger, supervisor of the donable food program in Maryland, that about ten changes must be made in the program to coincide with the one offered in Baltimore city.

Mr. Wilson explained that one change is that the Red Cross, Associated Charities and Salvation Army may be used only as referral agencies. In the prior program, these agencies acted as certifying agencies.

Another change is that the maximum income for a person eligible to receive surplus food must be raised to match Baltimore City's higher limits. Mr. Wilson said the proposed limits for Allegany County already had been raised above the level when the program was stopped about two years ago.

While in Baltimore, the county attorney also conferred with engineers for the State Roads Commission about planned construction in the vicinity of the Starlite Drive-In Theatre on Oldtown Road just beyond the city limits. Edgar Growden, manager of the theatre, told the commissioners last Friday that the plans would block the entrance to his theatre and force him out of business.

Grant A. Wiebel has been designated by the county commissioners to take charge of the food distribution and the commissioners also are counting on volunteer help promised by local labor unions.

COLLECTION DAY TODAY!

Advisory Group Evaluates Special Classes

The advisory council on the three special classes in Allegany County for handicapped children had its annual evaluation session yesterday afternoon in the Board of Education office.

Superintendent of Schools Ralph R. Webster and Miss M. Jean Camper, supervisor of special education, were in charge of yesterday's session, attended by Dr. Geneva Flickinger, state supervisor of special education.

Miss Camper, who is leaving her Allegany County position after a little more than three years here, said that it has been assured that this special program will continue after her departure. There now are three of these special classes, all started since Miss Camper came here in April 1955.

The class at LaVale Elementary School, started three years ago, had an enrollment of 14 handicapped youngsters during the last school year. The second class, which has functioned at Lincoln School in Frostburg for two years, has an enrollment of 11. There are 12 in the third class at Barton Elementary School, started in the past school year.

Teachers who have been training these youngsters in the past three years have taken a keen interest in the program and Miss Camper said all have taken special courses at the University of Maryland. The teachers include Mrs. Monica A. McPortland and Miss Evelyn Bland, Barton; Mrs. Margaret C. Kirby and Mrs. Marian W. Wilson, LaVale, and Mrs. Helen M. Lehr and Mrs. Hazel P. Keedy, Lincoln.

Members of the advisory council who attended yesterday's evaluation program include Dr. Ton van Strien, county health officer; John Cobun, regional vocational rehabilitation director; Mrs. Helen Vogel, Mrs. Lois Jackson and Mrs. Betty Lou Lindner, public health nurses; Homer S. Higgins, supervisor of pupil personnel; Miss Esther M. Carter and Frederick H. Sheeley, visiting teachers; Miss Elizabeth I. Flake and Miss Mildred E. Willison, supervisors of elementary education, and Mrs. Betty VanNewkirk, psychologist in the Mental Hygiene Clinic.

It was agreed that the program might be improved if better records on medical data were available.

Registration At Playlots Ahead Of 1957

The registration of children at Cumberland's 15 playgrounds is slightly ahead of last year, according to a midweek report yesterday by the City Recreation Department.

A check of seven of the playlots shows 186 children had registered by yesterday evening at Centre Street.

Others include East Side, 175, Pennsylvania Avenue, 139; Post, 134; Johnson Heights, 120; Columbia Street, 109; and Virginia Avenue, 63.

Registration will continue this week from 10 a. m. until 9 p. m. and most of the children will be signed up by tomorrow evening.

Some youngsters, including Girl Scouts now at camp, will be registering later on.

Girls' State Establishes Two-Party Government

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Girls' State finally established a two-party system Wednesday as the Nationalists broke a Federalist stranglehold on offices for the mythical government sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary.

Led by Karen Gordon and Roberta Solomon of Baltimore they captured seats for sheriff, state's attorney and three of the five county commissioners. The Federalists elected a treasurer and two commissioners.

The county elections followed a sweep of city offices Tuesday by the Federalist party in the group of 162 high school juniors attending the sessions.

Miss Gordon was chosen sheriff and Miss Solomon state's attorney. Chandlee Lewis of Sandy Spring, Lora Rose McDonal of Oxon Hill, and Linda Reavis of Beltsville were named commissioners from the Nationalist party.

Pat Kelly of Luke was elected treasurer from the Federalist ticket and Jean Bransfield of Reisterstown and Frona Tucker of Baltimore were elected commissioners.

The girls stopped their politicking and government work long enough for a few words from Gov. McKeldin.

His topic was romance in politics and government and he told them it was there for the person who wanted to find it.

The delegates then launched campaigns for electing a governor and state officials of their own. They had state party primaries Wednesday night with the general election scheduled Thursday.

Democratic Committee To Organize

Plans Made For Several Projects

The Democratic State Central Committee of Allegany County will meet next Wednesday at 8 p. m. for the purpose of formally organizing, electing a chairman, a treasurer and a secretary, and to plan a series of activities, according to Thomas B. Finan, chairman.

At a meeting held at the chairman's home Tuesday night, the committee agreed to defer action on selecting committee officers until Edward J. Ryan, newly elected member, could be present. Mr. Ryan had planned to attend Tuesday's meeting but was called out of the city late in the afternoon.

Following the organization meeting Wednesday, the committee will meet with all the Democratic candidates at 9 p. m. to discuss campaign plans for the November election, Mr. Finan said.

The committee took action on several projects Tuesday night. It was decided to hold a Democratic rally in the form of a banquet the latter part of July, and to extend an invitation to all county and state candidates to be present. An effort will be made to have Paul Butler, chairman of the National Democratic Committee, as guest speaker. The committee named Julius E. Schindler general chairman, with his assistants to be named later.

The committee also decided to launch a program to encourage registration of new voters and agreed to offer cash prizes totaling $50 to the person or persons in the county who can recruit the most Democrats between now and the time the poll books close prior to the November election.

An award of $25 will be made to the man or woman who can recruit and register the most new Democrats. A similar award of $25 will be made to the man or woman who can recruit the most voters to change their affiliation and become Democrats.

All that is necessary to compete, is to take the prospective voters to the election board office at the Court House and inform the Democratic registrar, so that proper credit for the recruitment can be recorded.

Mr. Finan reported to the committee on his attendance at a Democratic leaders' conference in Baltimore Tuesday. The session was held at Democratic headquarters in the Emerson Hotel and was attended by a number of prominent party figures.

The local committee also discussed the pending Truman dinner to be held in Baltimore September 28. This is a special $100 per plate fund raising affair, and this and other counties expect to send delegations. A chairman for the Truman dinner will be named for this county at next Wednesday's meeting, Mr. Finan said.

Members of the county committee present at the session included Mr. Finan, John R. Kelly, William Kelley, William C. McDermott, and F. Allan Weatherholt, secretary.

Armory Bids Decision Set This Week

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Maryland military department expects to reach a decision this week on which of three bidders it will recommend for a contract for a new National Guard armory in Cumberland.

The office of Col. Chester Simmons, construction engineer, is computing the 32 alternate proposals listed in the construction plan.

Because of these alternates, the low base bidder will not necessarily be awarded the contract.

An aide said Wednesday that a decision probably will be reached by Friday.

Maj. Gen. Milton A. Reckord, the Maryland adjutant general, will make his recommendation to the National Guard Bureau in Washington. If approved there, the contract will go to the Maryland Board of Public Works for ratification.

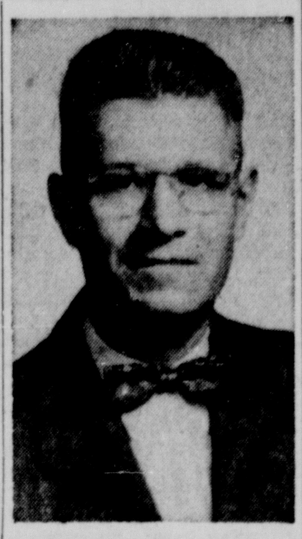
The board's next meeting is July 14.

Three bids on the project were opened by the Department of Public Improvements on June 19. The bidders, all Cumberland firms, and their base bids were: George Construction Co., $340,000; John I. Vandegrift Co., $346,089, and George F. Hazelwood Co., $348,879.

July Court Term Docket Readied

Some 75 law cases have been included on the trial docket for the July term of Allegany County Circuit Court.

The term will open on July 7 with Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris on the bench. Among the cases are condemnation suits in which the State Roads Commission is seeking land for improvement work and also appeals of the Workmen's Compensation Commission decision.



JOINS FACULTY — Dr. Ernest E. McCollough, former research chemist at the Amcelle plant of Celanese Corporation here, has joined the faculty at Coker College, Hartsville, S. C. Dr. McCollough will be head of the physical science department at Coker College. Mrs. McCollough is a native of Cumberland, and the couple has two daughters, Lois 21, and Vera, 18.

Forest Officials Make Inspection Of Watersheds

Reforestation Progress Noted

Federal and state forestry officials yesterday took a trip into Garrett County to inspect work done on the Potomac River and Little Youghiogheny watershed projects.

Frank Paradise, from the regional office of the U.S. Forest Service at Upper Darby, Pa. and A. R. Bond, assistant state forester, have been in this end of the state the past two days on the inspection tour.

William H. Johnson, district forester, with whom they conferred on Tuesday, said the two men are inspecting work done by his office in forestry improvement small watershed programs.

On Tuesday the officials visited the Georges Creek section. Before returning to their office they also plan to make a field trip in reforestation areas of the eastern end of Allegany County.

Mr. Johnson, who was in Garrett County yesterday, said there are three separate programs under way in his district.

The Potomac River watershed from Hancock to its source in Garrett County started a number of years ago; the Little Youghiogheny started in the 1957 fiscal year and the Georges Creek project started in the 1958 fiscal year.

The Georges Creek project extends from Westernport north to the top of Savage and Dan's mountains in the vicinity of Frostburg.

Mr. Johnson said his office seeks to promote better forest land use and effective forest fire control, and to improve timber cutting and logging practices.

He said from the standpoint of watershed protection, skid and logging roads are being located with certain maximum grades and a stabilization of such trails.

There is reforestation of critically washing areas as well as abandoned farm land. The overall program is also designed to increase the water holding capacity of the soil and reduce the immediate runoff of the watersheds.

Car Damaged By Flames

City firemen yesterday answered two calls which involved vehicles. No one was injured.

Heavy property damage was caused when an auto owned and operated by Alfred P. Tofane, of Connellsville, Pa. caught fire about 5:48 p.m. as the driver was leaving SS. Peter and Paul Cemetery on Fayette Street.

Firemen from West Side said the driver told them an explosion occurred under the hood of the car and it burst into flames. The flames spread from the motor block to underneath the dashboard.

The driver was uncertain as to why the explosion occurred. Firemen said the vehicle was just about a total loss.

In the other alarm received by the firemen, the engine of a Salvation Army truck became overheated about 9:46 a.m. yesterday and grease on the motor began smoking.

South End firemen went to the scene when Box 624 at Oldtown Road and Wempe Drive was pulled. There was no damage, firemen said.

Dr. A. C. Eskin, Local Dentist, Dies In Hospital

Was Stricken On Golf Course Sunday

Dr. Albert Carl Eskin, 1905 Bedford Street, well-known Cumberland dentist who was stricken ill while playing golf Sunday at the Country Club, died last night about 11:30 at Memorial Hospital.

A native of Newark, N. J., Dr. Eskin had practiced in Cumberland for the past nine years. He was president of the Allegany-Garrett County Dental Society and a former vice president of the Maryland State Dental Society.

The 50-year-old dentist was a graduate of the University of Maryland Dental School and was vice president of the 1931 class in which he was graduated. He previously practiced the dental profession for 13 years in Baltimore before coming to Cumberland.

For three years he served as president of B'er Chayim Congregation, and he was a lieutenant colonel in the U. S. Army Reserve.

Dr. Eskin served in the European theatre of operations during World War II with the Fifth Auxiliary Surgical Unit in the Ninth Army.

Dr. Eskin was a son of the late Carl and Rose Eskin and was born in Newark on February 9, 1908.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Beatrice (Castell) Eskin, at home; a son, George Eskin, at home; two brothers, Dr. Benjamin Eskin, East Orange, N. J.; and Henry Eskin, Baltimore; and a sister, Mrs. Pearl Berg, West Englewood, N. J.

The body is at the Hafer Funeral Home on Baltimore Avenue.

Baltimore Jury Finds Driver Not Responsible

BALTIMORE (AP) — A Superior Court jury Wednesday found Raymond J. Wempe of Cumberland not responsible for a Garrett County automobile accident more than a year ago in which a woman was killed.

Philip Christ of Cumberland, administrator of the estate of Mrs. Patricia Trenton, his daughter, had asked $250,000 damages from Wempe for the death of Mrs. Trenton and injuries to her 10-year-old daughter, Cynthia.

His suit and three others were lumped in one for trial purposes. The trial ran three days before a jury and Judge S. Ralph Warnken.

The accident May 18, 1957, occurred when a car driven by Wempe ran off U.S. Route 219 near Keyser's Ridge and struck a tree. Mrs Trenton was killed and her daughter, also a passenger, was injured along with the defendant.

Wempe's defense, presented by Attorney J. Gilbert Prendergast of Baltimore, blamed the accident on the poor condition of the road, which was wet and slippery at the time, rather than negligence on the driver's part.

This trial originally was scheduled in Allegany County Circuit Court May 27 but at the last moment was ordered removed to Baltimore. Court attaches said at the time it was the first case they recall having been removed from Cumberland to Baltimore.

Attorneys for the plaintiff in this action were Harry I. Stegmaier of Cumberland and Paul Berman of Baltimore. Besides Mr. Prendergast the defense was represented by Peter J. Carpenti of Cumberland. In pre-trial activity, William H. Geppert and W. Earle Cobey of Cumberland also represented the defendant.

Eckhart Swimming Program Commences

The pilot swimming course for fourth, fifth and sixth grade pupils of Eckhart School began yesterday in the Frostburg Pool and will continue for two weeks, according to Robert E. Pence, supervisor of physical education in the Allegany County public schools.

There are 42 children between the ages of nine and 12 enrolled in this ten-lesson course. If it proves successful, Mr. Pence hopes to have similar programs offered next summer in all schools of the county. The PTA is assisting in promotion of this water safety program. Miss Maureen Manley of Frostburg and Mr. Pence are instructing the children.

DeLuxe Restaurant Equipment Is Sold

Dorothy L. Savage and her husband H. Russell Savage, of Church Street, Westernport, have purchased the DeLuxe Restaurant equipment from Nina M. Wilson and her husband, Jarold C. Wilson, of Maryland Avenue, in that community.

The bill of sale papers were filed Tuesday in Allegany County Circuit Court. The restaurant is located on Main Street in Westernport. The equipment was sold for $3,500 according to the papers.
